Reasonable

A scientist says that the earth weighs more in winter. Naturally. Look at all the people with heavy coats.

MARSHAL SEIZES CAR

Last Sunday afternoon the attention of Ione's Town Marshal was attracted by the erratic motions of three young men who were attempting some repairs on their automobile which was standing on Main Street. Approach and investigation showed that they were under alcoholic influence and a search of the car disclosed two whiskey flasks; one empty and the other containing about two inches of booze. The marshal then seized the car and is now holding it for the sheriff of Morrow county. The young men gave their names as Boyd Copenhaver of Heppner, Joe Bond of Lexington, and Geo. Prince.

REUNION MORROW COUNTY PIONEERS

The Morrow County Pioneer Reunion will be held at Heppner Friday, June 1. Residents who have been in the state forty years are invited to join the Pioneer Club. Special entertainment will be put on and everyone is invited to meet with them on that date.

Ione has several residents who are eligible to the 57 year club, also the 50 year branch and many for the forty year division. Let every pioneer become interested and a very fine reunion can be held. S. E. Notson, K. L. Beach and Bert Mason are on the arrangements committee and wish the co-operation of all pioneers.

Quotations' Great Value

Local Happenings

Dwight Misener who now has a half interest in an auto wrecking company in Portland was a visitor in Ione over the week-end.

The road grader ordered by the city some time ago and set up last week has had a tryout on Main Street this week.

Water Glass preserves Eggs. Sold in any quantity by Bullard's Pharmacy.

Only four more weeks of school after this.

Ed Holmquist, who has been sick with the flu has sufficient "Dad" Griffin and Elmer Griffith, who went to the Deschutes to open the fishing season, have returned.

Don't forget that the "Willing Workers" will serve a hot lunch to all who come, at noon on Primary Election day. Lunch will be served in Legion hall.

Four young men went on the warpath, figuratively speaking, their whoops and yells brought on an interview with Marshal Franks who in due time escorted them to the office of the City Recorder and that officer assessed fines of ten dollars each.

Mrs. Frank Engelman, who has been ill at the Jordan Home Hospital is at home again and very much improved in health.

Detouring between Ione and Cecil is now necessary on account of oil. Slow settling of the oil bids fair to keep the highway out of commission for some time.

The Japanese Tea given by the Dorcas Society of the Congregational Church last Thursday afternoon was a very enjoyable affair. The Mesdames Louis Balsiger, P. G. Balsiger and Fred Mankin, who served on the entertainment committee, poured tea for about fifty ladies.

Frank Engelman was called to Caldwell, Idaho, last week, by the death of his youngest sister, Mrs. John King.

S. E. Natson blew into Ione Thursday afternoon and favored the Independent staff with a short call. He was acting as advance agent for the coming Morrow County Pioneer Reunion which is to take place June 1. When asked as to his state of receptivity for the seat in the U. S. H. K. soon to be vacated by Nisk Sinton, Mr. Notson replied that he never dodges political lightning.

Mr. John Farris, Jr. was so unfortunate the other day as to cut off two fingers of his left hand while spitting kindling. He was taken at once to Heppner for surgical treatment and is now doing very nicely.

Mr. Chas. O'Connor has been cleaning up the grounds of the residence property on Second Street belonging to Mrs. Robert Balcomb of Irrigon. He has made a ship shape job of it and in addition to improving the appearance of the premises, has materially Neil Knighton of Hardman was in Ione Monday.

"Electricity! --

Moves Forward at an Ever-increasing Pace!

Says EDWARD N. HURLEY

Former Chairman U. S. Shipping Board

"If the proper encouragement is given to the electric light and power industry, the industry will spring forward in the next decade faster even than in the past decade. The result unquestionably will be a lowering of the cost of living and the conservation of national resources which cannot fail to benefit the whole population."

Ten years ago the generating capacity of the electric light and power industry was one third of what it is today. In that time the consumption of electricity for light alone has shown a four-fold increase.

The tremendous upswing in the use of electric power, in thousands of manufacturing processes, in commerce, on farms, and in the home, is the result of progressive policies which have controlled the operation of electric light and power companies.

Beginning as an untried curiosity, electrical service in America was founded on the principle that the economic of large scale production and low prices which encourage widespread use, are the best means to healthy growth.

So thoroughly has the truth of this principle been demonstrated, and so efficiently have electric light and power companies been run, that the demand for electricity steadily increases while its cost has consistently declined.

With earnings limited by public regulation, only the continued stimulus of individual initiative in their management can secure the unflinching efficiency which the growing pressure of demand makes imperative for the future of electrical service.
