Diamond Choir

There's still a laugh in this belated story of Pola Negri. Among those who greeted her on her arrival in this country were some members of the Los Angeles baseball team. They tried to explain the game to her, telling of the nine men on a side and so forth. Finally Miss Negri turned to one of them and asked: "What do you play?"

"Third base," was the reply.
"My, what a deep voice you must have!"

OREGON STATE NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Brief Resumé of Happenings of the Week Collected for Our Readers.

The Willamette university student body has elected Miss Frances McGilvra of Portland as "song queen" for the next year.

The state convention of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs was held in Roseburg last Saturday.

The early establishment of a commercial fish hatchery on Fisher creek near Minam, was announced the first of last week by John Fisher.

William Lillard, for more than 40 years a resident of Heppner and vicinity, hanged himself Friday in a barn on the Pendland place.

Fearing blindness and saying that she was in great pain, Mrs. T. E. Gould, 59, committed suicide at Milton by slashing her jugular vein with a razor.

A. A. Schramm, state superintendent of banks, has been authorized to pay the third and final dividend in the case of the defunct Jefferson State bank.

Reappointment of Mille R. Trumbull of Portland as a member of the state board of child labor inspectors was announced by Governor I. L. Patterson recently.

More than 100 master plumbers from Oregon and southern Washington gathered in Astoria last week for the annual convention of the Oregon Master Plumbers' association.

Coos bay lumber and log shipments to foreign and Atlantic coast ports were 100 per cent higher for the first five months of 1928 than during the similar period last year.

Four blocks of street improvements that have been in course of construction during the last month in the residence section of Dayton are almost completed and ready for acceptance.

The prune crop in Douglas, Marion, Polk and other prune growing counties will be a small one this year, according to Fruit Inspector Stewart, due to late rains during the pollination period.

Forty-nine high schools in northwestern Oregon and southwestern Washington competed in the sixth annual interscholastic track meet at Pacific university at Forest Grove last Saturday.

R. N. Emery and wife, with 10 children, 10 grandchildren and one great grandchild, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with a beach dinner at Mussel Reef, near North Bend.

The early high water in the Columbia river has resulted in one of the poorest spring chinook salmon catches in years. Hood River fishermen say they do not anticipate that fishing will improve any this spring.

A permit has been issued to the state board of control for construction of a nurses' home at the state hospital to cost $100,000. Plans for the structure are being prepared by Freeman & Struble, Portland architects.

Marion county's highway construction program for the year 1928 includes approximately 37 miles of market road and slightly more than six miles of pavement, according to announcement by the county court.

Sheep shearing on the D. Lynn Gubser farm near Dayton was completed Wednesday, 300 being sheared this season. Hand shears were used and one man sheared 50 sheep in one day. Fifteen cents a head was paid for the work.
