. . QUICKLY Cartor's Little Liver Pills Purely Vegetable Laustine move the bowels free from pain and unpleasant after

CARTER'S IEEE PILLS

For Mosquito Bites Sting of Bees and Venomous Insects Try HANFORD'S BALSAM OF MYRRH

All dealers are authorized to refund your maney for first bettle if not suited.

New Wonder Wood

There is a new plastic wood that can be molded to any required form will adhere to the dean, dry surface of wood, metal, or any other material. It dries rapidly and then adheres firmly, can be worked with ordinar; wood-working tools, will take balls and screws, and paint, varnish and French polish. In fact, it behaves like ordinary wood, except that it will not warp, crack, blister or

Not His Time to Die

Not everybody who starts to fall down an elevator shaft from the seventh story is tucky enough to land with only minor inturies on the fourth. but that is what happened to Michael O'Harn, twenty-four, of New York. He as working on the seventh floor of building under construction when he fell down the shaft. He struck a wire cable in the shaft and caromed off on to the fourth landing, escaping with only abrasions and incerations of the right hand.

One Advantage

"After all, a clay pipe has an advantage over all others," said the man born tired.

"How's that?" replied his friend. "Well, if you drop it on the pave-ment you needn't trouble to pick it up."-Boston Post.

Just About

"Myrtle tells me she's been offered n name part in Shakespeare. Do you believe it?"

"Oh, I expect it's 'Nothing' in 'Much Ado." "-Tit-Bits.

It's Just a Habit

Tramp - Mum, I'm desperate, baven't eaten for three days. Lady (who has been on a dlet)-Nonsense! I felt that way myself at first.-Life.

True

"One-half the world doesn't know how the other half lives."

"Well, we can't all figure in the soclety column."-Louisville Courier

His Little Joke

Wife (at Willesden)-My husband never says how much he earns; he is really a most funny man.-London Answers.

The Modern Art

Giri-"Does the painting look like me?" Painter-"Oh, I'm way past that

After eight years of civil aviation in England, the British service covers 2,500 miles of air routes in Europe and the Near East

Children may cry for the moon until they get big enough to want the Setting an example goes farther than giving advice.

Copy-book philosophy is so true that It seems nonsense to repeat it.

THERE is nothing that has ever taken the place of Bayer Aspirin as an antidote for pain. Safe, or physicians wouldn't use it, and endorse its use by others. Sure, or several million users would have turned to something else. But get real Bayer Aspirin (at any drugstore) with Bayer on the (at any drugstore) with Bayer on the box, and the word genuine printed in

The Red Road

A Romance of Braddock's Defeat

By Hugh Pendexter

Copyright by Hugh Pendextor.

SYNOPSIS

Impoverished by the open-handed generosity of his father, Virginia gentleman, young Webster Brend is serving as a scout and spy for the army under General Braddock preparing for the advance on Fort Duquesne. He has just returned to Alexandria from a visit to the Alexanderia from a visit to the fort, where, posing as a French-man, he has secured valuable in-formation. Braddock, bred to Eu-ropean warfare, fails to realize the importance of the news.

CHAPTER I-Continued

Governor Morris further mollitled

the trancible commander by saying:
"I will send George Croghan a letter, directing him to start belts to the inke tribes. He stands next to Wil llam Johnson in comprehending indian nature and influence over them If any man can bring to the Delawares, the Shawnees, Wyandots. Twightwees, (Miami)), and the Plankashaws, It is Croghan."

"When I last talked with Mr. Wash ington be informed me there were hundred Iroquols, who left the Ohio last winter, and who are now ready to march with us," said Brad-dock, his face losing some of its dour

I glanced at Governor Morris and fancled I detected symptoms of un easiness. He knew what I was thinking, and, while he much distiked at that time to dash any of Braddock's hopes, he announced:
"I regret, sir, that the Iroquois you mention are no longer under our control. Pennsylvania fed them from the latter part of last year until this My last advice from Phila delphia is that the assembly has voted to go to no further expense in their behalf and that the Indians have returned to the French."

it was disheartening news for the lender to hear. I do not know that I would have imparted it had Governor Morria kept silent. And yet it would have been deadly wrong to have blinded the general to the truth of the situation. I could have told him It was too late to send belts to the lake tribes; but as that was my belief and not an established fact my conscience permitted me to keep my mouth shut

"After all, sir," soothed Mr. Frank lin, "Fort Duquesne will full to Gen eral Braddock's veteraus and not be cause of the wavering allegiance of the natives. The tribes are with us today and accept presents from France tomorrow. And on another day they will come back to us. The truth of the matter is, sir, the Indians favor neither English nor French, and would heartly rejoice if the two races would cut each other's throats until not a white man was left in North America."

This speech made an impression and Braddock agreed:

"Aye. There's sound sense in that We must depend upon the army. Thank God, the Guards have never falled England and his majesty!"

I will say now that there were but General Braddock unqualifiedly approved-young Mr. Washington wt I had known in happier days, and Mr in. Mr. Washi his youth-twenty-three years of age -bad been requested to serve on Braddock's staff. He was very bold in opposing the general's plans when he perceived they were based on strategy learned on the battlefields of Europe, but not at all suited to our wild forests and mountains Mr Franklin was a magician at expedi ents, and without any show of bluster could blaze a trull around what appeared to be impassable obstacles

General Braddock remembered I was still in the room and said some thing to Governor De Lancey. Ills excellency asked me:

"Do you believe you could visit Du quesne again and pass yourself off as

I believe that I could not said so Then his excellency proceeded to question me closely as to the physical conditions of the fort. Stepping to the table and using my finger and a pool of spilled wine I indicated the structures and was marking out the twelve-foot stockade on the riverside when the general curtly interrupted:

"We understand enough of that. We shall learn all the details after we have taken over the fort. You will preceed to the fort and learn to forcements. As you will travel much faster than the army, you are to secure enlistments among the provin cials while traveling to and from the

He dismissed me with a flirt of his thick hand.

Governor Morris motioned for me to follow him down the hall, and explained I was to wait while he wrote a letter for me to give to George Cro ghan. He smiled wearily and murmered:

"None of us will rest easy until the army is under way. "It's too bad young Mr. Washington isn't here to make things clear to the general

"Rot you have Evans map?" "Aye. We have the map," grumbled his excellency.

There are men of high station with whom I feet free to talk, but there vas something chilling and repelling beart beat fast at the brave rolling about General Braddock. I almost believed he would blame the bearer of bad news. It was his firm conviction that the best of our riflemen were much inferior to his drill-sergeants. He did not seem to comprehend the difference between fighting in our gloomy forests and on a level open fletd in Flanders. .

Illustrations by Irwin Myers

His contempt for our riflemen was complete. Tell him they could whip French and outwit the Indians and he would sneer at them because they were unable to go through their Hyde Park desterity to the manual of arms weighed more with him than the keenest knowledge of forest lore.

White Brother Has Come From the Home of His Father."

I was peopling the broad stairway with beautiful women from my boy hood's recollections, and was again admiring their imported brocades and velvets and marveling at their fashlons in hair-dressing when his excel-tency finished his letter, and an

"Here it is, Mr. Brond, See that it gets to Mr. Croghan either by your own hand or by some trusty messen ger. Be careful while at Duquesne We move a bit inmely now, but it'll the devil's own stew for the French once we get the pot to boiling. Good luck on your travels and bring back your own hair."

I preferred the river bank to the crowded tavern as sleeping place that night. My business from Braddock gave me immunity from any annoy ance by the civil authorities, and there were homes of old friends time would have opened to me had I made myself known, I had thought to make my camp in the neglected garden of the Brond house, but the ghosts were many, and I got no further tha the gate.

Early astir, I ate at a market-stall on the square near the Horse market The place was lively with the rolling of drums and the clumping of heavy broguns as the regulars, with wonderful precision, swung into various for mations.

The march to Frederick, Maryland was about to begin. As there was no road from that town to Will's creek Colonel Dunbar would have to cross the Potomac at the mouth of the Conococheague and take the Winches ter road.

My business was finished in Alex andria, and trailing my long ritle I passed once more by the house of the open hand, and started north. Clear of the town I stopped on a slight eminence and looked back and watched the cloud of dust redden in the sun fight. It hung low and settled on the mendows and robbed the first grass of its rich sheen. I caught the strains of the "Grenadiers' March," and my

of the drums.

At inst the march on Fort Duques ne had commenced, and we were off to have it out with the Frenchmen. And sickening of the dust, I picked up my rifle, struck through a noble grove of oaks and started to find my friend, the Onondaga, Round Paw of the Wolf clan.

CHAPTER II

Der Hexenkopf

After passing through the Blue ridge I felt as if my visit to Alexandria had taken place in a dream. No place here for gny coats and ruffled shirts and eliken hose; and mockery would the undergrowth make of my dainty lady's exquisite attire! A buzzard quartered the sky, and I knew there would be many of them before long following the army.

Round Paw of the Wolf clan barely glanced up as I stood beside his small fire, and yet he had discovered me coming or else he would not have been seated with his scarlet blanket covering him from head to foot. I dropped on the ground and laid aside my rifle. He filled and lighted his pipe and passed it through the blue smoke. After a few whiffs I returned Finally he remarked:

"My white brother has come from the home of his father."

"My father is a ghost. There is no home for me in Alexandria. My father's house belongs to another. He was stient for a few minutes.

"You carry belts for Onas?" (The governor of Pennsylvania.)

then nsked:

"I carry a talking-paper to George Croghan," I told him, tapping the breast of my bonting shirt. chief from over the stinking water has asked me to get men with long rifles for his army. And I have said I would go to Duquesne agnin. Does the man of the Wolf go with me?"

He rose and allowed his blanket to drop down on his loins. During my absence he had repainted white the paw on his chest, the totem mark of his clan, and he was olled for war. 1 knew he was enger to be deep in the forests beyond the Alleghenies and was even now ready to start. Al-though leg-tired I did not unpack my blankets, but signified my readiness to travel. He produced some smoked ment and parched corn for me to est and after I had finished he made up his travel-bundle, and we were off.

As I walked behind him, as much of an Indian in appearance as he if not for my disheveled hair, I described the gallant appearance of the army as it marched out of Alexandria, His only comment was:

"Big noise. The Swannock-Engtishmen-cannot shoot with drums."

I answered that the soldiers would have no chance to use their guns because of the weak condition of the fort and garrison. A year earlier. when Mr. Washington marched out of Fort Necessity, the situation might have been different. Then Duquesne was garrisoned by close to a thousand men under the command of veterans.

Twelve months had seen a change in conditions. The portage at Ningara had slowed up the arrival of stores from Canada. The horses expected from Presqu' isle had not been delivered. The garrison had been weakened by the sending back of troops to Those bringing supplies from Can ada arrived attired in rich velvets and genial from rare wines, but with their sacks empty. Waste and confusion had blighted the fine spirit of Duquesne's defenders. I had tearned this much from Captain Beaujen who had readily accepted me as a loyal French-

Hound Paw was never a gossip. We had traveled together for two years and there had been many days when he barely spoke. We first met on Lake Erie's southern shore when a pack of Harons and a few Frenchmen were giving me a hard run and on the point of catching me. It was Hound Paw's flerce war cry, the terrible defiance of the Onondagas, and his deadly arrows that had caused my pursuers to slow up the chase, fear ing an ambuscade.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Simply Couldn't "See" Chow Puppies at $50

quired.

"In front of a fashionably located dog store window containing a display of Chow pupples, I saw two Chinamen laughling and slapping each other on the back in their outbursts of giee. I don't know when I ever saw Chinamen so emotional. Out of curtosity I sauntered near and tried to see what had amused them. It wasn't any cute antics of the Chow pupples, because all were asteep. Finally, I asked one of the Chinamen what they were laughing at. This brought a fresh outburst, but, after gaining con trol of himself, the one who seemed to have the best command of English pointed to a small sign which I had not previously noticed. It gave the price of pupples as $50 each. That price was what made the Chinamen laugh.

"Dogs like that in China cost fi cents-maybe ten cents," one of them explained.

"But how about a trained dog?" 1 arked. "Suppose it was an extra good dog ?"

"Oh, thirty-fi' cents," declared the more conversational one, and his friend nodded agreement. "Then what does a cat cost?" I in-

"Cat, him cost more," promptly replied my new acquaintance. cat catch mice-cost $2"-Fred Kelly in Nation's Business Magazine

Affected Only by Noise

There is always a public in England, perhaps elsewhere, that either does not hear or does not really believe you are in earnest unless you shout.—Disraeli.

No Change in Design Fish hooks have been made on exactly the same design for 2.000 years.

Decidedly Poor Guess

Concerning Natal Day It isn't too inte to tell this story on one respected Boston citizen. A trifle unfamiliar with American history, he got his dates mixed and will never again forget February 12. As he was driving home from church alone to was disturbed by the thought that it was somebody's birthday. He tried to recall, but he strained his memory in vain. Passing a confectioner's shop, be stopped and purchased a $3 box of bonbons with a pink ribbon around it. Driving home, he made a low curtsy to his surprised wife and handed the box to her, and at the same time planted a kiss on her cheek.

"Well, well," said the astonished indy, "what is all this for?"

"Your birthday, darling," said he, "and many happy returns of the day." "My birthday!" she exclaimed. "Why, you know that my birthday is August 14. This is Lincoln's birth-

Since then he has been booting himself about the house every time he thinks of it.-Boston Globe.

Protection Given to Flyers Carrying Mail

in preparing for night flying in the air-mail service, four classes of equip-ment are used. The flood lights are used at regular fields to give the pilot as nearly as possible the same illumi-nation of the field at night as is available in daylight. This is accomplished by a powerful unit. In addition to the large field light, all buildings on the field are flood lighted by smaller units. The beacon lights are placed on 53foot towers and serve to guide the pllot and show him the location of regular and emergency landing fields. revolving projection type of beacon is used. The drum revolves with a frequency which gives a flash every ten seconds. The routing beacons are of two classes, electric and gas. The electric rotates six times a minute, and the gas beacons flash 60 times a min-Both assist in keeping the pilot on his course. The boundaries of all regular and emergency fields are outlined with where electric lights placed 150 to 800 feet apart.

Misjudged

President Pratt of the Standard Oil company of New York was talking about certain oil men's difficuldes in Mexico.

"These men have been misjudged," he said. "It reminds me of a story A generous-hearted stranger attended a New York church one Sunday morning and was so moved by the pastor's eloquence that he decided to put a $50 bill in the collection plate.

"He was as modest a man as he was generous, and when the collector approached he rolled the bill up and concealed it in his fist; but as he was about to make his splendld contribution the collector frowned down at that tightly clenched fist and jerked the plate back and whispered coldly: "'No. Give it to me, sir, One has just come off my coat."

The Matter With It

While old Riley Rezzidew of Petunin was standing near his fence a rambunctious car came tearing around the corner, rammed through the laclosure and tumbled it down on Mr. Rezzidew. Then the car stopped a moment and blew up.

"What in roaring thunder is the matter with that there dadblasted car?" demanded the gentleman, somewhat irritated.

"Aw, it heered some feller call this a spite fence," responded old Ben Bumpuss, "and I reckon it wanted to take the spite out of it."-Kansas City Star.

Never Too Late

Cortlandt Bleecker nodded from a window of the Knickerbocker club to wards a painted old indy with a gold who swaggered down Fifth avenue in very high-heeled slippers of snakeskin flesh-colored silk stockings and a skirt that ended an ich or two above her knees,

"It is never too late to pretend," ne said.

Excess of Patriotism

"Chauvinism" derives its name from Sicolas Chauvin, a soldier in the army of Napoleon who was ridiculed by his comrades for his demonstrative and unreasoning parriotism. The term has come to be applied to any one's excessive enthusiasm for national as endancy.

Chance to Win His Enmity Author's Wife-Mabel's new husband s a censor, and I've invited them over to dinner tomorrow evening

Author-Fine. That will give me an excellent opportunity to insult

Determined

Patient-Will I get well? Doctor-Yes, sir. You'll get well f It costs you $50,000.

WOMAN WAS ALL RUN-DOWN

Helped By Taking Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound

well. My friends notice the change in my appearance and my husband said today that I am looking so much better and he wants me to continue taking it. I hope to help all women who are run-down and suffer from nervousness by recommending your medicines."—Mas. Victor N. Schlenshar, 44 Hazel Avenue, Evansville, Indiana.

Sure Relief

No More Distress after eating or drinking

For correcting over-acidity and quickly relieving belching, gas, heartburn, sick headache, dizziness, nausea and other digestive disorders. Not a laxative but a tented Sure Relief for Indigestion, Perfectly harmless and pleasant to take. Send for free samples to: Bell & Co., Inc., Orangeburg, N.Y.

malizes Digestion and westens the Breath

One Secret of Beauty

Is Foot Comfort Frequently you hear people say, "My feet perspire win-ter and summer when I put on rubbers or heavier foot-wear-then when I remove FLORESTON. SHAMPOO—Ideal for use in connection with Parkove flist Baleam. Makes the hair soft and fluffy. 50 cents by mail or at drug-cists. History Chemical Works, Patchague, N. T.

SCHOOL FOR MEN Training for BUSINESS, TRADES or PROFESS Euroll any time. Send for literalus Y. M. C. A. Bidg. Portland, Oregon

W. N. U., PORTLAND, NO. 24, 1928.

Crusoe's Isle Tunes In

The Island of Juan Fernandez, off the western coast of Chile, which was made famous by "Robinson Crusoe." is no longer isolated from the world. The Island now boasts of a Red Cross dispensary and wireless communics tion with Valparaiso,

Expensive Upkeep

There are houses in England the windows of which have never been counted. These include Windsor castle and Wentworth Woodhouse, the Yorkshire home of Earl Firevilliam. A former duke of Mariborough said that putty for repairing the windows of Blenheim palace cost him $500 ($2,500) n year.

One Solution

Nervous Clerk (seeking a raise)-Er-my wife and I are finding it terribly difficult to live together on ay

Boss-Well, what do you want me to do-arrange a divorce?-Pathfinder.

Adept

"That fellow knows his onions."
"He was born in Bermuda."— Louisville Courier-Journal.

A fat man will always laugh at your jokes. That's how he keeps

Your Hands Need Cuticura Soap

Every day to keep them soft and mooth. Bathe with either hot or cold water and always dry thoroughly. If chapped, red or rough use hot water and Cuticura Scap, rubbing in Cuticura Ointment after drying, especially at