BY ANY OTHER NAME

A motor car manufacturer had adopted the plan of naming his cars after flowers.

"I was thinking of calling my car the Crimson Rambler," he told a friend.

The friend, who had been out in the new car, replied unkindly: "Why not call it the Virginia Creeper?"

Where He Stands

The man who weds a widow finds To his surprise alas! too late That she's the captain who reminds Him that he's only second mate.

Frankness

"What do you suggest for a can palpa- issue?"

"Relativity," answered Senator Sorghum.

"But so very few people understand it."

"True. But they are willing to admit the fact and go on about their business."—Washington Star.

Publicity

Uncle Tobe was taking the editor of the Plunkville Palladium to task "You say I was seen on a cracker box in front of the grocery every day last week."

"Well?"

"Is that a slam?"

"What's the trouble with you, Uncle Tobe? That's society news."

Too Rough

Liner Passenger—What's the matter?

Steward—The captain is senile.

Passenger—Nonsense!

Steward—Yes, one of the flapper passengers has been teaching him the Charleston.

First Come, First Served!

Wife—I'll meet you at the theater at 8:15.

Hubby—All right, the midnight show suits me, too.

THE LONGEST POSSIBLE

Different Method

Results in contrast fortune quotes. For life's endeavor, here and there The prima donna sings her notes. I write mine, with laborious care.

Methuselah's Sister

Jenkins—Miss Beggs is much older than I thought.

Tompkins—How's that?

Jenkins—I asked her if she had read Aesop's Fables, and she told me she'd read them when they first came out.

It Should

He—You know, dear, we have had our new home just 12 months.

She—Gracious! And it seems like a year.

That in Its Favor

Blinks The buggy ride seems pretty tame now when you look back on it.

Jinks—Yes, but you never had a blowout to interrupt your courting to those days.

Clothes and the Man

He—The flyns must be awfully rich, judging by the clothes they wear.

She—Not necessarily. Some of the most gorgeous flowers haven't got a scent, you know.

Tobacco "Puff" Made

Barrie Pipe Smoker

Two inveterate pipe smokers are James M. Barrie and Stanley Baldwin, British prime minister. At a recent public dinner Baldwin revealed that Barrie—who was also a guest—never smoked prior to the publication of his novel, "My Lady Nicotine," in which he referred to a certain brand of tobacco.

It seems that an enterprising reader of the book wrote to Barrie and asked what was the particular tobacco mixture he had in mind. Barrie did not know the name of a single brand of tobacco, so he answered at random, naming one he saw advertised.

His fame was made, and out of curiosity Barrie one day tried a pipeful. "He liked it so well," chuckled Mr. Baldwin, "that he has kept to it ever since."—Kansas City Star.

Russia's Use of Peat

Peat is assuming increasing importance in the Soviet union, the output during the season of 1927 being 4,311,300 metric tons, a gain of approximately 40 per cent over the preceding year, says the New York Times.

Hydropeat, which is produced by special hydraulic machines, accounted for 500,000 tons of this total.

The chief consumer of peat is the textile industry, although a number of important power plants use it as a fuel. More than 100,000 workmen are employed during the peat-producing season and there are about 2,000 machines in operation.

The Soviet union has approximately three-quarters of the world's peat resources.

Turning Peat Into Profit

For years we have heard of the enormous damage rabbits do in Australia. Women have, however, transformed this pest into a national asset.

Five years ago there was not a machine in Australia to convert rabbit skin into what is known as "coney." Today a hundred concerns employ about fifteen hundred persons and $2,500,000 capital in the production of fur goods, creating a new local industry that is worth millions.

The fur garment in Australia has now been made a popular article instead of a costly luxury.

Film Laboratory in Air

To expedite the delivery of news pictures, motion picture films and photographs are now developed and printed in a flying laboratory while en route to various cities. The plane carries all laboratory equipment necessary for developing, printing, cutting, splicing and fitting movie film and finishing many still photographs. Besides the pilot, the plane carries a staff of three.

Be a Good Stenographer

"Unless a girl has some unusual natural talent for a definite business pursuit, the best way to make a beginning in business, in my opinion, is as a stenographer," says Helen Woodward, noted advertising expert, in Smart Set Magazine. "But be a good one. In my twenty years of business life I have met only six good stenographers."
