Ione-Fossil Game

Stopped by Rain

The Ione baseball team journeyed to Fossil to play, but the game was called for rain at the end of the third inning. At that time the score stood 3-2 in favor of Ione. It was declared to be no game. The people making the trip detoured from Condon to Fossil on account of the oil, and on the return trip, many were compelled to get out and put a shoulder to the wheel on account of the muddy roads.
