Former Ione Resident Dies at Latourelle Falls

Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Feldman received word of the death at Mr. Joseph Harvey, of Latourelle Falls. Mr. Harvey died at his home, Wednesday, September 25, at the age of 71 years. Funeral services were held at Gresham, and interment was made at Corbett. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife and one son, Earl Harvey. Mr. and Mrs. Feldman from here attended the funeral service.

Mr. Harvey who had been at work in Canada, returned to Latourelle Falls, late Saturday night, September, 21. His wife and friends did not know that he was coming and he was so ill that it took him an hour and a half to walk the mile from the stage depot to his home. As Mrs. Harvey was helping him to bed he carried on a short conversation with her and these were the last words he spoke. His son, Earl, was out fighting forest fires and could not be located until after his father's death. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey are well known here, having lived in Ione and on a farm near by. Mrs. Harvey and son have the sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement.

Charley Shaver will leave in a short time to help his brother, A. T. Shaver, with his well drilling near Bend. Mr. Shaver expect to be away all winter.

The school board at Morgan has found it necessary to hire a second teacher for its school. Mr. Youngman of North Bend, Ore. has been hired for the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades and Mrs. Mangold, who has had charge of the school since the opening, the first of September, will teach the first, second, third and fourth grades.

Hazel Ledbetter has bought the summer fallow on the Daniels place which was advertised for sale by Mr. Eckelberry. Mr. Ledbetter is getting the ground ready for the fall seeding.

E. A. Shaver, father of Charley Shaver, has left Ione on the return trip to his home in Fort Scott, Kansas. Mr. Shaver spent three months visiting here and at other points in the Northwest. The temperature has been below freezing for the past few nights.

BANKERS DEVELOP NOVEL INSTITUTE

The Georgia Bankers Association in cooperation with the State College of Agriculture has sponsored a series of farmers' institutes in various parts of the State of an entirely new character. The principle feature is a large and comprehensive exhibit transported in four large trucks and set up at each stop. When set up it fills a space 40 by 60 feet and consists of panels, charts, and models on practically every phase of agriculture, including agronomy, horticulture, agricultural engineering, poultry, animal husbandry, soils and fertilizers, home economics and marketing. A large electrified farm model, showing the uses of electricity on the farm, model farm buildings and the ideal layout and landscaping of the farmstead, is one of the most elaborate and attractive exhibits.

Local bankers in each locality visited gave the money to cover expenses for the transportation and installation of the exhibit in their territory and assisted in the preliminary advertising and publicity. The College of Agriculture assembled the exhibit and conducted the tour through its various extension specialists.

Five-Eyed Insects

All insects, with few exceptions have five eyes. Two of these are the compound eyes, which are situated one on each side of the head. The three remaining eyes are of the ordinary kind and are found on top of the head. These are usually clustered closely together in the form of a triangle. The compound eyes are for normal vision; the three simple eyes being more light sensitive, are able to distinguish between light and darkness. This is very important, especially for the night flying insects.

Saves Wear and Tear

A rubber stair tread under the pedals of the piano is a life-saver to the rug or floor where several children in the home take piano lessons.

Hugh Holthuse of Sunnyvale, California, was a guest a few days ago in the Carl Feldman home. He was on his way to visit an uncle who lives at Ozzette Lake, Wash., and was traveling by auto.

On Wednesday of last week a reception was given the teachers of our school. A short program was given and refreshments were served. The County school superintendent, Mrs. Lucy Rodgers was in attendance.

KNOW YOUR DRUGGIST BETTER—Has your doctor's right-hand man

Keep Your Druggist's Doors Open—

FOUR-FIFTHS of all the drug-stores in the country would close their doors if they were restricted to filling prescriptions and selling sickroom supplies. There would be only one drug-store to about 11,000 people, and many communities would be without one.

It is still true that the principal duty of a pharmacist is to fill prescriptions with ingredients which he knows to be of the best quality, and to be prepared to supply the varied medicinal agents called for by physicians. The technical knowledge required to do this he has acquired both in college and in long years of experience.

When a physician's services are needed they are often needed promptly. So with the prescriptions he orders. The nearer the drug-store the better. For this reason you should give generous support to your neighborhood druggist. Remember that he must sell many other articles than medicines in order to keep his store open—and his prescription department well equipped to serve you when sickness comes.
