NUMBER 29

State Governor Died

Our community mourns with the state and nations over the passing of Issac Lee Patterson, chief executive of the state of Oregon. Governor Patterson was born at Kings Valley, Oregon, September 17, 1859, and died at his home at Eola, near Salem, December 21, 1929.

"Plane Sailing"

An easy task is "plane sailing" a phrase which has been corrupted from the navigational "plane sailing" the simplest sort of course plotting where the surface of the globe is considered flat. It can be used only in coastwise navigation, when many landmarks may be easily referred to as a check on the calculations.

Almost Always

The trouble with being a thinker instead of a talker is that after a while people get to wondering if you're really thinking.—Ohio State Journal. They're pretty safe, as a general rule, in guessing that you're not.—Newark Advocate.

Personal Mention

The Willing Workers of the Christian Church had their annual sale of food and fancy work Saturday at the C. W. Swanson store, and their treasury was enriched by a goodly sum.

Miss Hazel Feldman, a Senior in Oregon State College, and Miss Katherine Feldman, a Sophomore at the university of Oregon, arrived Friday to spend the holidays vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Feldman. The young ladies were met at Arlington by their parents.

morning at the Sunday School hour. Treats were given all present.

The members of the Christian Church Sunday School gave a very pleasing Christmas program Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The church was gay with decorations appropriate to the season. Treats were distributed at the close of the program.

Friends here have received word that Betty Joy, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mayne Moore of Los Angeles, Cal. is in serious condition. The attending physicians give the parents little hopes for the child's recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Moore are former residents of Ione.

James Head, who was at one time editor of the Ione Independent, is now located at Lodi, California, where he holds the position of linotype operator on the Lodi News. Mr. Head, Jr. is the son of W. W. Head, present owner and editor of the Ione Independent.

This was a practice game for the benefit of the school team. Ione is contemplating playing a return practice game January 10 on Lexington's floor.

A delicious lunch consisting of chocolate and doughnuts, was served by the refreshment committee, Mildred Smith, Beulah Pettyjohn, and Margaret Crawford, with Miss Irene Anders, girls' coach, supervising.

Ed. A. Lindeken, Ione wheat grower and pioneer Caterpillar Tractor farmer, has rented the extensive wheat land holdings of A. M. Markham, Freewater, Oregon on Clarke's Canyon, southwest of Lexington, Ore., for a term of years. This land was formerly farmed by Will Padberg. Mr. Lindeken will continue to farm the 960 acre wheat ranch at Ione owned by H. L. Frazier, Milton and Freewater banker.

Ione Girls victorious

On Tuesday night the Ione High School girls' basketball team defeated the Lexington girls' team by a score of 29-12. The game was played on the local floor. The Lexington girls were quick and snappy but our forwards succeeded in making the first baskets. At the close of the first half the score was 17 to 3 in favor of Ione. The line up of the two teams are:

Lexington Boys victorious

On last Thursday night the Lexington boys journey to Ione and handed the locals a 32-10 defeat. The game was played very fast. Lexington had a very brilliant attack and showed good team work. On January 10 Ione will meet Lexington on Lexington's floor. Ione expects to play a closer game then because all the regulars will probably play. Richard Lundell referred the game.

More than 1,800,000 tuberculous cattle have been removed from herds in the United States during the last 12 years, as the result of the tuberculin test work carried by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. More than 850 counties, including two entire States North Carolina and Maine are now modified accredited areas; that is, areas where not more than 5 per cent of the cattle are affected with tuberculosis.

Public installation of the newly elected officer of the Masonic blue lodge and the Eastern Star was held at Masonic hall Wednesday evening December 18th. About sixty members and guest were present. The lodge ball and dining room were resplendent with Christmas decoration. Refreshment of the evening ceremonies. Mrs. Lena Ray and son Johnny of Salem are spending the Christmas week with Mrs. Ray's mother, Mrs. Jordan, and other relative.

KNOW YOUR DRUGGIST BETTER - Ask your doctor's real-hair man

Give Your Druggist a Square Deal

A NATION-WIDE investigation has revealed that neighborhood druggists are called upon for information on a wide variety of subjects—domestic, political, agricultural, postal, and hygienic, besides subjects connected with drugs. This practice—embarrassing as it often must be to druggists—would not have become so widespread if they in general had not merited the confidence reposed in them. The answer to many problems has come from the pharmacist's store of information. And he has led many a person in the early stages of a serious disorder to consult a physician trained to diagnose disease and to prescribe the remedy.

Numerous services are rendered by the druggist for no recompense other than good-will. Give him a square deal. He is a business as well as a professional man. Serve your own interests by remembering him when you are in need of any of the household conveniences which his store has for sale. For druggists with well equipped prescription departments would be few and far between if they had to depend alone on filling prescriptions and the sale of drugs and sick-room supplies.

For Prescriptions—Physicians prescribe and Druggists dispense Merck's pure products. For generations prescription chemicals from Merck's Laboratories have had the confidence of these professional men. For Your Medicine Cabinet.—Be so discriminating as your Doctor and Druggist. Select such pure products as:
Merck's Hydrogen Peroxide
Merck's Boric Acid
Merck's Sodium Bicarbonate
Merck's Sulphur Trioxide

OWNERS OF RADIO IN EVERY STATE

An interesting insight into the widely distributed ownership of the radio industry in the United States is given by the summary and classification of the stock of the Radio Corporation of America, the largest radio organization in the world. The latest statement shows stockholders in every State in the Union. Ninety nine per cent of the class A common stock is owned in the United States, much of it being in the hands of small investors.

Although there is a good showing in the industrial East, as in the case of all stocks, New York State having 1,291 class A common stockholders, Illinois has 357 stockholders in the same classification. California lists 134 class A common stockholders, almost as many as New Jersey, which has 140.

Among the thirty-four foreign countries in which there are holders of class A common stock are such widely separated points as Argentina, Austria, British Guiana, Finland, Egypt, India, Venezuela, Norway, Japan and Ireland.
