Ground Hog Day

The Ground Hog might have seen his shadow at any time during the day. Snappy, in this locality, but if we are to have six weeks more of winter, it is not at all evident at present. The weather is like spring and the snow is almost gone. The extra flow of water in Willow Creek reached this point at six o'clock Saturday morning and the area of the high water come at ten o'clock. For an hour the creek was almost bank full of huge ice cakes and swirling muddy water bringing the usual amount of rubbish and stench. There was no flow and hence no damage done on the ranches above town.

HISTORIC TIMBER FROM NATION'S CAPITOL

Mrs. Brown teacher of the 7 and 8th grades of Ione School has just obtained from the National Lumber Manufacturer Association, Washington, D. C., an interesting souvenir of historical interest in the form of a block of wood made from the timber of the wood trusses which were removed from the roof of the White House at the it was remodeled two years ago. The block will be preserved and kept as a permanent display at the school.

The following story gives us the history of these timbers, and an interesting description of events at time they were installed in the Executive Mansion.

In a storehouse of the Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks in Washington, is an ancient wooden roof truss just old timber until you know its history.

But as soon as Lt. Col. Grant III, chief of the office, can from a suitable place to house the timber it will come fourth proudly from the old lumber pile and be exhibited as one of the nation's

MODERN EDUCATION REVERSES OLD IDEAS

Business Institutes Use the Plan of Getting People to Think Rather Than Merely to Learn.

There is one general principle at the basis of all good teaching and it is that a person learns more readily by assimilating the experiences which he himself encounters than in any other way, says Harold Stonier, National Educational Director of the American Institute of Banking. This institute is the educational section of the American Bankers Association through which 35,000 bank men and women are receiving scientific instruction in their chosen business.

"The most advanced people in teaching today are emphasizing the importance of activity on the part of the student," he says. "In the school-room of former days we often heard such phrases as, 'Be still,' 'Learn by heart,' 'Don't do that,' 'What does the book say?' The newer education asks, 'What do you think?' 'What was your reaction to that experiment?' 'What did you discover?' 'What reasons have you for answer?'"

The New School Calls for Action. "The 'expressing' school is taking the place of the repressing and listening school. The classroom is becoming an open forum, a studio of self-expression, a place of mental growth. The modern concepts of education are personal experimentation, individual investigation, critical discussion and creative self-expression. The pupil really learns only as he is able to assimilate the new meanings of facts and principles with his previous experiences. Activities therefore constitute the pivotal force around which are grouped the new factors in education. The primary responsibility of the teacher is to furnish a constant stream of activities which will afford the stimulating urge to mental growth.

"Education is a process of experiencing, and the program of the institute is so arranged as to give the greatest opportunity to gain by such experience. Through this we develop the art of thinking. Thinking has been described as the ability to handle experience and to bring it to bear on a problem. Effective thinking arises when we are presented with the choice of conduct. Our previous experiences become helpful as we marshal them and bring them to bear upon the matter of our choice."

The students in the American Institute of Banking by reason of the fact that they continue to go on about their employment in banks while taking the banking association's study courses have an opportunity to combine learning with practical thinking and action.

Ione Loses to Boardman

Ione lost a hard fought game to Boardman last Friday night. The score was 21-6. The Boardman quintette displayed good team work and were excellent shooters. Wicklander of Boardman made seven field goals placing him high point man on their team. Eubanks was high point man for Ione with two field goals. Next Thursday night Ione meets Boardman on the latter's floor. The locals expect to give Boardman a close game. Lexington girls and second team boys play here the same night. The High School would like to see a good turnout by the public in order to give the local teams plenty of backing. The second teams have played before and gave the crowd plenty of thrills. The score of the former game was 11-4 in favor of Lexington. The line-up for Friday's game was:

IONE	BOARDMAN
Eubanks, RF	Wilson, Dillon
Ely, Mason	LF Mirgor, Dugan
Clark	C Wicklander
Lundell	RG Bout
Everson, LC	Mefford
McCabe

There was a good preliminary game between two second teams. The score was 14-11. Louis Halvorsen was the referee.
