NUMBER 37

CHILD BADLY HURT

Lavern the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sargent of Eugene, met with a painful accident a few days ago. The boy fell on some milk bottles. The bottles were broken and the glass cut deep gashes in the child's face. Both upper and lower lids on one eye were cut through and there was also a cut on the eyeball. Twelve stitches were required to close the wounds. It is not yet known if the sight of the eye can be saved. The Sargents are former residents of Ione. Mr. Sargent is a student in the Bible school at Eugene.

mothers,
are you guarding
your children's health with plenty of butter?

Growing children need plenty of energy and vitamins. Butter furnishes both in abundance.

there is no substitute for good butter. Butter is rich in growth stimulating and anti disease preventing vitamin A. It is now selling at a low price. It is one of the cheapest foods, nutritional value considered.

From Roman Calendar
"The idea of March" constituted a definite day in the old Roman calendar. The word was derived from a word signifying "divide." In March the idea occurred on the fifteenth while in certain other months it was the thirteenth. Julius Caesar was warned by a soothsayer to beware of that day, which proved to be the day of his assassination.
