The trumpeter crane of Venezuela is trained by the natives to guard sheep. All day it keeps an eye on its charges, and at night brings them back safe to the fold.

CLIMBING TO NEW HEIGHTS OF SERVICE

Onward and upward has been the march of electrical progress since that not distant day when mother first gloried in her first electrical essential, the electric iron. Doubly wonderful it was that this necessity could be connected to the same wire that provided the most economical light ever known.

Today dozens of all-doing appliances are at the command of every housewife. Electric radio makes the finest of world-wide entertainment available to every home. Every worker has a dozen electrical helpers to add to his productivity. And back of it all, every minute of every hour, day and night this organization with its service maintaining representatives is "on the job" to make your job lighter.

Famous Mountain

Stone mountain is a massive deposit of muscovite granite in De Kalb county, Georgia, and is said to be the largest in the world. It is about 16 miles east of Atlanta. It rises about 700 feet above the comparatively level surrounding country, and its bulk has been estimated as more than 7,000,000,000 cubic feet.

Few French Banking Laws

The only French banking laws in force are those dealing with the Bank of France and organizations in the field of popular agricultural credit. For ordinary commercial banking there are no laws or regulations as to organization, management, reserves, audits or inspections to protect either the depositors or shareholders.

POMONA GRANGE

Supper was served in the Masonic dining room, and in the evening at the school auditorium the Pomona degree was conferred upon a class of sixty seven, the work being exemplified by the Willows Grange degree team. Following the routine of work, dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

During the afternoon program a fund was raised by the Grangers for the benefit of the Ione school band. The amount received was $13.60. This gift was greatly appreciated by the members of the band.
