LOCAL WOMAN KILLS DEER

Last week a party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Jon Gibson and son Walter and Mr. Mrs. George Faulkner, of Portland, journeyed to the mountains in quest of deer. Joe Gibson was the first to bag one which was a three pointer.

The following morning while returning to camp from taking pictures of the deer killed by Gibson, he and Walter received a joyous thrill, for out of the brush in front of them leaped a fine buck. In the excitement, Mrs. Gibson, who was carrying the gun, fired at it shooting it through the hind quarters. The deer ran a few paces and fell but as Mrs. Gibson approached, it raised its head and she shot again this time through the head.

The two women together managed to drag the deer some quarter of a mile to the road. While on their way, rain and hail showered in their vicinity and by the time camp was reached they were soaking wet. However Mrs. Gibson states she feels none the worse for the experience. George Faulkner and Walter Gibson each bagged a deer before returning home, the latter's being a four pointer.

Says WILL ROGERS

LAKE TAHOE, Cal.—Well all I know is just what I read in the papers, and what comes along where I happen to be messing around. I don't care where, or how much you have traveled, if you want to hit a unique neck of the woods go up around Lake Tahoe, and over into Nevada, Reno, Carson City, Virginia City, all those Hot Springs up around there, then that Lake Tahoe 6300 hundred foot high, 26 miles long and 12 wide.

It's not only the unique country, it's the people too that you run onto up there. Lots of Frisco people have their summer homes up there, the Fishackers have a great place, and he goes back to his business and rounds up a new gang of guests and brings em up for every week end. Then down the Lake further on Emerald Bay Mrs. Knight has I'll bet the most unique House in America, a Swedish House. Now we never thought about the Swedes having houses. We just kinder pictured em being born, and then leaving the next day for Minnesota, and then live in American made homes. But say on their native heath those Johnsons know how to live. This house of hers is absolutely authentic, and it's the most livable thing I ever saw, all heavy substantial stuff.

Then another great one is Anita Baldwin's summer place just off the big Lake on Fallen Leaf Lake. Its log, the biggest one you ever saw. The living room with the highest ceiling, and everything in it is Indian, and I mean authentic Indian, as she has one of the greatest Indian collections in America. There is not one thing you see or touch when you get in that house that's not Indian, or Indian design. Dishes, knives, forks, all the cushions of the chairs and settees are cowskin covered, sofa pillows are woven corn husks.

I was admiring some of her Indian baskets, and happened to say that I wanted to get hold of some, and she said, "Over in Carson City there is some very nice ones, they were made by a very famous Washoe Indian Woman now dead, but they are rather dear, they run about ten thousand each." When I regained part consciousness, I thanked her for the information and asked if she thought I could get a slight reduction if I sent over and got say a dozen or so. I would give ten thousand dollars for the basket they had Moses stored away in the bullrushes in.

But we must get away from homes and get to the real interest up around Nevada, and that's the "Divorees." All of em don't live in Reno. They live over on, or near the California line, they have to serve three months, if they leave the State during that time and stay a week, they have to add that on to their sentence at the end. Most of them are young women. There is on an average of about 2000 here all the time. Two judges in Reno are trying cases most all the time.

It's a funny colony, and it ain't funny, it's sad. You talk to these women, and the most of em would like to go back and have another try with the husband. But they are game and they won't come till he wires, and he is all hopped up over some other younger Gal, and he don't wire, and they sadly go through with it. Course you don't hear the mans side out here. They don't always tell you about the man they are going to marry the next day after the decree. But it's really pitiful. Course there is the old Stagers here who think no more of changing husbands then they do their brand of Gin. But there is many a heart break here and lots of children, that's the tough part. Some of them their Mothers told me they hadent told them yet, they thought they were just here for a summer vacation. Divorce aint so bad I guess when its only the participants suffer, but its sure tough on the children. Well anyhow its a great industry, and I guess about the only way to stop it is to stop marriage.

Airship Grounds
A gliderport is distinguished from an airport in that an airport is a level piece of land which has the least possible number of approach obstructions and the gliderport should be entirely surrounded by high hills, so that these motorless flying machines may be taken off from the top of the hills in any wind direction and flown to the level ground in the center.
