The Fraternities

Locust Chapter, O. E. S.

At the close of the regular meeting of Locust Chapter No. 119, O. E. S. held Tuesday evening, November 25, an especially pleasant social hour was enjoyed. First on the program was a short play-let by Mr. and Mrs. John Krebs and Mrs. Elmer Griffith. This was followed by old time dances, Charley Botts and his son furnishing the music. Refreshments were served. The decorations were in harmony with the Thanksgiving season.

ONE GAL ONE

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Mary A. Notson, Reporter
The wet howl is getting louder and louder. Dr. Fulkerson, a man who travels around the world investigating social conditions says it reminds him of a bound pup caught in a fence. It sounds as if all the pups in the neighborhood are being hurt. So we listen to the wet howl and pray if we are not thinking think the whole country is in revolt against prohibition.

Here are some examples of how the wet press are trying to deceive people.

When the British rum running ship "I'm Alone" is fired upon by the Coast guards and sunk, the wet press are very doubtful if the coast guards had a right to sink her and hail it as a prohibition-bred international complications; but when the nine members of the "I'm Alone" crew were sent to jail the wet press carefully suppresses all connection of these criminals with the "I'm Alone" and it is left to the dry Brooklyn Eagle to assure us that the Canadian government does not expect to question the authority of the coast guard to fire upon the "I'm Alone."

When the A. A. P. A., a brewery backed organization, pays for and stages a wet uprising of a scant one thousand people in Boston it is a front page story; but when twenty thousand Boston dries have a dry mass meeting in the largest auditorium for which no one is paid, the story

SAYS WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS—Well all I know is just what I read in the papers, and what I hear over the Radio, and as the papers haven't had anything, and the static has been bad, ignorance is pretty rampant. Bernard Shaw talked over the Radio, that was the high point of radio broadcasting. He made the rest of us that sometimes use that medium, think we all ought to retire and just let him say it.

You know he is a brilliant old bird. He never says what you are looking for him too, but he always says what you are glad he did say.

Italy has had another big wedding. One of the daughters married Boris of Bulgaria. They went away off down to some little town in Italy to marry. It seems there was a Justice of the Peace down there that she liked. It rained during the wedding, which means that it won't turn out very good. But it wouldn't have turned out very good even if it hadn't rained, for poor old Boris just got about another war to go. He ain't so old, only about 32, but there will be a war pretty soon, and of course no European war can be official unless Bulgaria is a participant, and then Boris will get thrown out on his ear. The first thing you know the King of Italy will be the Father of more deposed Queen Daughters-in-law than anybody.

Mussolini seems like he is going along pretty strong. Saw a picture in the Movies the other day where he had an awful mess of young fellows drilling and saluting him. France is still leary of him. She is afraid to go down and pounce on him, for fear Germany will hop on her during their chastisement of Italy. That's why Mussolini traded this Queen to Bulgaria, was in case of any little national uprising in Europe, that Bulgaria would respect their Father-in-law and join Italy. Its the oldest line of Hooy and Diplomacy in the world in Europe is to try and gain Allies by marriage.

They think if they can marry one of their Royal Family into another Royal Family that that binds em closer. Nobody could have been much closer together than Germany and England. They had been marrying each other like Rabbits for generations, yet when the time come they turned against each other like Brothers.

So those poor devils of royal parentage just go along, go where they are sent. I doubt if the gal had ever seen this Boris Bird, till he come prancing down the center aisle.

Life in Poles' Vicinity

According to the late Admiral Peary, permanent human life exists within some 700 miles of the North pole. None is found within 2,000 miles of the South pole.

Geographical Division

The boundary between Canada and the United States is merely a line between the termination of the United States and the commencement of Canada.

THIS year's winner of the Pulitzer prize, Charles R. Macaulay, drew the above cartoon, "Enlist Under This Banner."

"He's done," they all said three years ago. "Macaulay was a good man while he lasted. But he can't come back. They never do after 50."

In March, 1927, Macaulay entered a hospital and underwent a difficult operation for tuberculosis of the spine. For three months afterward he lay in bed, with his drawing board strapped up in front of him. Fighting every inch of the way, back to health.

"I would not be alive today," wrote Macaulay to one of his friends, "if it were not for the remarkable advances made medically and surgically in the treatment of this disease."

But we haven't got any time to mess away our time worrying about them. What are we doing right here in the old home precinct? When you read this, our usual November Follies will have passed into the discard. Election day will be a relief, and we will wake up with some more of em. There is a deal of excitement, rather synthetic, but anyhow excitement, in some quarters, as to who will go on the Government pension list after this election. They tell me New York State is all hopped up over the Governors race. I don't know just how Roosevelt will fare, but I sure do know he is a fine high class man. I suppose he lost a lot of support by not spanking Tammany and sending em to bed, but he is a fine man never the less, and I guess this other fellow is too, I don't know him.

It looks like the Democrats will get in a bunch of new ones. They always do mighty well on these off years. We get em in on off years and get em out on Presidential years. But it gives some people something to get worked up over, and get all excited over. It don't mean anything. We been staggering along now about 150 years under every conceivable horse thief that could get into office, and yet here we are, still going strong.

I doubt if Barnums circus, or Hagenback's wild animal circus has housed as many different kinds of species as has been in our Government employ during its existence. Yet as bad as they are they cant spoil it, and as good as they are they cant help it. We are just a river flowing along. We have a drought year, and we have a flood year. They build dams to stop us, but we just fill up and flow on over em, so there is really nothing that can be done to about us. We are just flowing to the sea. Corruption cant retard us, and reformers cant assist us, we are just flowing along in spite of everything.

A good man cant do nothing in office because the System is against him, and a bad one cant do anything for the same reason. So as bad as we are we are better off than any other Nation, so whats the use to worry.

Come pretty near having two holidays of equal importance in the same week, Halloween and election, and of the two election provides us the most fun. On Halloween they put pumpkins on their heads, and on election they don't have to.

A WORTH-WHILE CALL

When a noted Pasadena architect recently was called on the telephone and given an order to build a $100,000 home, he thought that someone was trying to play a practical joke upon him. However, the order was a genuine one, and it was given by Al Johnson for a house at Palm Springs, Cal. The house is now under construction.

They said he was done, but he wasn't. A few months after he came out of the hospital, Macaulay was drawing a cartoon a day for the Brooklyn Daily Eagle. For two years he has been turning out work as vigorous as in the days when "T. R." were the best known initials in the world, and he drew a cartoon inventing the "Big Stick." And now, in 1930 as he nears the age of 60 years, this man who had William McKinley for a godfather and mentor back in Canton, Ohio, and was supposed to be a "has-been"—was the cherished honor coveted by every cartoonist in America—the Pulitzer prize.

"Sure I'll draw a cartoon," he said when the subject was broached. "I'm an old pal of the Christmas seal. Both of us have fought tuberculosis."

Symbolic Clothing
The relation of clothes to national feeling has turned up many times in the world's history. During the struggle for American independence, the wearing of homespun was a mark of grace.

gets little space on page two. When pro-liquor society women under Mrs. Sabin express their wet views the wet press give it a two column display head; but when the general Federation of Women's Clubs emphatically declare for the dry law the story gets a simple column headline on page six.

When Tammany declares for booze it is a great event fit for headlines; but when twenty thousand public school teachers of the National Educational Association go on record for Prohibition the wet press give it no headlines on page thirteen.

If it were a fair fight the dry cause would undoubtedly win; but the booze business has always been a lawless business, and we will have to look for such deception by those who uphold the liquor trade.
