

"SCIENCE rescues the DEAFENED"

by Floyd Gibbons

Noted journalist describes his visit to a leading electro-acoustic laboratory. Everyone who is here, of hearing should read it. Reprinted from the Review of Reviews. Send 2¢ stamp to Dept. A-15.

SONOTONE

19 West 44th St. New York City

Tortoise Grieves for Mate

Sleep finally assuaged the sorrow of a giant tortoise in the London zoo for its dead mate. For several weeks following the death of its companion the lumbering reptile constantly made the rounds of the tortoise house searching for her. There were other giant tortoises around him, but they were not his distinctive variety, and he wanted a friend. Then winter came and after eating a meal he turned his head to the wall and buried his troubles in sleep.

For Constipation
Non habit forming
Safe Scientific

Collector's Popularity

Friend—That debt-collecting job of yours must be dreadful. I suppose you are as welcome as the plague any place you call!

Collector—By no means. There is scarcely a place I visit but that they ask me to come again.

for Coughs Take

Boschee's Syrup and coughing stops at once! Relieves where others fail. Contains nothing injurious—but, oh, so effective! GUARANTEED.

Boschee's Syrup

At all druggists

Seeks Other Pastures

"You marry my daughter! Why, you are supported by your father."

"Yes, sir, but father is tired of supporting me, he says, and I thought I'd get into another fan y."—Paris Pele Mele.

Don't let SORE THROAT get the best of you...

FIVE minutes after you rub on Musterole your throat should begin to feel less sore! Continue the treatment once every hour for five hours and you'll be astonished at the relief.

This famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other ingredients brings relief naturally. Musterole gets action because it is a "counter-irritant"—not just a salve—it penetrates and stimulates blood circulation and helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

Keep Musterole handy—in jars and tubes. To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

About to Be

He—They tell me you stutter when you're about to be kissed.

She—Y-y-e-s, th-a-t's r-i-g-h-t.—Smith's Weekly, Sydney.

Considering how headstrong cillies are, it is a miracle that anybody can manage them at all.

SAVED HER LIFE!

Portland, Ore. —"A few years ago Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery saved my life. I caught a severe cold which settled in the bronchial tubes. I had a cough which got so bad that for six weeks I could not lie down. I was 'all in' physically, and began myself to think there was no help for me, when I was advised by one of my doctors to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine so completely relieved me of my trouble that I have never had any return of it."—Mrs. Audrey Savin, 5516 39th Ave., S. E. Druggists. Fluid or tablets.

Write Dr. Pierce's Clinic in Buffalo, N. Y., enclosing wrapper from medicine and receive free medical advice.

OUR COMIC SECTION

Events in the Lives of Little Men

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

Finney Wouldn't Have Warned Her

THE FEATHERHEADS

Felix Bawls Him Out

WORLD WAR YARNS

by Lieut. Frank E. Hagan

"The Most Surprising Thing"

Ask ex-members of the A. E. F. what was the most surprising thing they found in the war and the most surprising thing about their answers will be their great variety. Somebody asked a marine who had fought at Chateau Thierry that question and with the memory of some of the terrible scenes he had witnessed there he replied "That a man can be so terribly wounded and recover all right." Then he thought for a moment and added "No, I reckon the most surprising thing I found out was that there were so many different kinds of beans in the world."

But former members of the Eighty-ninth division, composed mainly of Coloradans and Kansans, will probably tell you that the thing which most surprised them was in the words of one of them, "how little them frogs knowed about farmin' after being at it for a thousand years." Lieut. Jack Barrow, a Denver newspaper man who served in an artiller outfit in the Eighty-ninth, tells how a brother officer came to a wheatfield in which half a dozen Americans were working hard, while a French farmer sat nearby calmly smoking and watching their labors. He stopped, filled with curiosity at the sight, and asked what they were doing. Looking very much embarrassed, the men came to attention and one of them spoke up: "Well, you see, Lieutenant, this old fellow don't know a thing about harvesting wheat." Evidently considering that a sufficient explanation they resumed their work, finished up the field in approved Kansas style and left, uttering contemptuous, and somewhat profane, expressions of their opinion of agriculture as practiced by the French.

Mistaken Zeal

Some of the units of the Thirty-second division lived in an old stone quarry near Jony, France. Like other stone quarries on the Western Front, this one was remodeled into a first aid station, says Capt. Ralph E. Hill of the C. A. C.

Shell-shocked victims as well as hundreds of wounded were passing through the station almost constantly. One of the most active officers on the scene, to protect the injured as well as the whole, was the divisional gas officer.

This individual was a zealot, where the gas was involved. An order that every man must have his mask continually at the alert was enforced rigidly by the d. g. o., a captain.

A hospital sergeant walked toward the stone quarry early one day when the first of the day's wounded were arriving. Two of his men carried a litter on which rested the body of a dead soldier.

The sergeant had on no gas mask. He was spotted instantly by the d. g. o. Rushing up behind the sergeant, the gas officer shouted dramatically: "Say! What in h—! do you think you are, a bear."

Before he could continue, the sergeant grasped the astonished captain by the neck and began to force him down upon the occupied litter, meanwhile calling to other soldiers to come to his assistance.

Only the timely intervention of the medical officers convinced the sergeant that the captain was not a victim of shell-shock, similar to those he had been handling every day.

The Sales Talk

One of the principles of high-pressure salesmanship is that you "have to talk their language before you can sell 'em." So when Sergt. Paul Hobscheid of the One Hundred and Thirty-first infantry took part in the battle of Chipilly Ridge, and was fired on from a huge German dugout, he used one of the principles of salesmanship.

Crawling to one side of the dugout, Sergeant Hobscheid, who had studied German in Chicago, shouted: "Fritz, komm' heraus!" (Fritz, come out of there).

No answer. He pulled the pins from two grenades and tossed them down the dugout steps. There was an explosion; stifled shrieks.

"Have you had enough?" Sergeant Hobscheid shouted in German. "Komm' heraus mit handen auf!" (Come out with your hands up).

Following this little "sales" talk, thirty Germans emerged one by one from their shelter. They were lined up and headed for the American lines, four abreast.

Hobscheid's comrades cut loose with machine guns when the party approached the lines. Four of the Germans were wounded before Hobscheid made his capture understood.

Rushing back to 's prisoners, the sergeant ordered several of them to assist their wounded comrades. One refused, saying that he was an officer and could not be seen carrying a private. "You're nothing but a buck private now," said Hobscheid to his Chicago-learned German as he tore off the man's shoulder straps. "Get busy."

And again his "salesmanship" proved effective.

(© 1939, Western Newspaper Union.)

Frenchman First Aeronaut

The world's first aeronaut was a Frenchman, Francois Pilatre de Rozier, who ascended 84 feet in a balloon on October 15, 1783.

OLDER PEOPLE Must watch bowels Constantly!

As we grow older the bowels become more sluggish. They don't get rid of all the waste. Some days they do not move at all. So older people need to watch their bowels constantly. Only by doing this can they hope to avoid the many forms of sickness caused by constipation.

When your bowels need help remember a doctor should know what is best for them, and get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your drugstore. Syrup Pepsin is a doctor's prescription for lagging bowels, good for all ages.

No restriction of habits or diet is necessary while taking Syrup Pepsin. Made from fresh, laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other valuable ingredients, it is absolutely safe. It will not gripe, sicken or weaken you.

Take a spoonful next time your tongue is coated, or you have a bad taste in your mouth. It clears up a bilious, headachy, dull, weak, gassy condition every time. When you see how good it tastes and how nice it acts, you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the world's most popular laxative for every member of the family.

Dr. W. B. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN A Doctor's Family Laxative

Long Ones, Probably
"What do you work at, my poor man?"
"At intervals, madam."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are best for liver, bowels and stomach. One little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic.—Adv.

Sacred Mistletoe

The Druids held the mistletoe in reverence because of its mysterious birth.

Strongest

"Gerald suffered with his stomach and bowels until he was listless and weak," says Mrs. B. E. Geren, 822 W. Main St., Oklahoma City, Okla. "Now he's the strongest boy I know. I gave him California Fig Syrup because Mother used it. It increased his appetite, regulated his bowels, helped his digestion."

Nothing could be more convincing than the way thousands of mothers are praising California Fig Syrup to show how it acts to build up and strengthen headachy, bilious, half-wick, constipated children.

Your doctor will approve the use of this pure vegetable product as often as impure breath, coated tongue, listlessness or feverishness warn of constipation—or to keep bowels open in colds or children's diseases.

The word California on bottle and carton marks the genuine.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP LAXATIVE-TONIC for CHILDREN

Half of the secret sorrows that people tell you about make you laugh—they are so frivolous.

Garfield Tea Was Your Grandmother's Remedy

For every stomach and intestinal ill. This good old-fashioned herb home remedy for constipation, stomach ills and other derangements of the system so prevalent these days is in even greater favor as a family medicine than in your grandmother's day.

W. N. U., Portland, No. 9-1531.