Victor H. Heath who was mentioned in these columns last week as having been arrested on complaint of Everett parties on a charge of obtaining money upon false pretenses, was held in the sum of $1000 bail for his appearance in court. He will doubtless be able to secure the necessary bonds.

The city has done a piece of good work by having the channel of Willow creek widened and break-water put in just above May street. It would be a great safeguard if the channel were widened in various places through town, in case of future high waters, but the expense would be greater than the city's finances would warrant at this time.

The extremely moist weather of the past week has temporarily stopped work on the stone foundation for the Episcopal church. The pastor Rev. John Warren, and members of his church are very anxious for the construction work to proceed as services are at present being held in the Odd Fellows hall, which is not at all conveniently arranged for church work. Weather permitting the construction work will be pushed to as early completion as is possible.
