

TALKING IT OVER.

The Southern Educational Conferences Interesting Examples.

A shoemaker in a little New England valley displays a sign on the top of his shop bearing the following inviting language: "Walk In and Talk It Over." It is an announcement that has more of timeliness and general application than may have originally occurred to the displayer of the sign.

The "talk it over" method is having a remarkable vogue nowadays. It was conspicuously present in the world's congress of religions at the Chicago Columbian exposition.

One of the most interesting modern examples of the talking over method is the series of annual conferences on education in the south, with which the name of Mr. Robert C. Ogden is prominent.

RECTOR OF ST. LUKE'S.

Ashburnham, Ontario, Testifies to the good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Ashburnham, Ont. April 18, 1903.—I think it is only right that I should tell you what a wonderful effect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has produced.

Geology of the Heart. "No," said Maude pensively, "neither Henry nor Charles for me. That's clear. I will not let Henry propose because he hasn't got the 'dust,' and I can't get Charles to declare himself because he hasn't got the 'sand.'"

The Grotesque. Canon Ainger, biographer and editor of Charles Lamb, once uttered this pithy saying: "You may preach like an angel, but if you can whistle on a stick people ignore your preaching and speak of you as 'the man who can whistle on a stick.'"

What He Married On. "Tom Higgins married, you say, on $10 a week? That took nerve anyhow. What was he working at?" "Nothing. It was the girl that was earning the $10."
