One of the Most Marvelous Contrivances in the World of Industry.

Glass has at last been successfully biown by machinery and, as has generally been the case when mechanical means supersede hand methods, all ceed from humors, either inhorited, feats of hand-blowing have been outdone

The secret of the remarkable invention is still hidden, but specimens of the work done have been shown. The cylinders are of immense size, the largest being thirty inches in diameter and nineteen feet long.

The new machine is the invention of John A. Lubbers, a glassblower of Allegheny, Pa. It has been built at the Alexandria, Ind., branch of the American Window Glass Company's plant. DO NOT LIKE FOREIGNERS.

American Seamen Object to the Petty Officers Placed Over Them.

The great number of desertions in the navy at the present time is appalling. It is one of the greatest if not the greatest problem with which the navy department has yet had to contend. During a single month recently there were 300 deserters. The reason of this disgrace to the "pride of our country" can be attributed to many causes

Within the past two or three years an experiment has been made which has, it seems, proved a complete failure. Recruiting stations, in charge of naval officers, have been opened throughout the interior of the country. occupation. When a sufficient number the classes are alike subject to laare recruited they are sent in crowds to the different receiving ships on the liable Atlantic and Pacific coasts, where they are again transported to training-ships. On these they are given five weeks' training in the rudiments of seamanship; they are then drafted to regular men-of-war and entered upon the routine of the service. Here they become known as "incubator sailors." As a general rule these men have never seen sait water and have less idea of what Men, women, children, whole towns constitutes a sallor's life than it is possible to imagine. This sudden grip of a terrible monster. change of living invariably brings on dissatisfaction. All this, of course, only tends to increase the raw recruits' dissatisfaction. Our navy is by no means free from foreigners-it is, in fact, overburdened with them. Many of them, on account of their seamanship, are made petty officers. Thus born and bred Americans are superseded in the service of their own country by foreigners, many of whom can hardly speak the English language. Though these foreigners are always good marines, being for the best part Norwegians and Swedes, they have not the knack of discipline and are intolerable to anyone with Ameri-can principles. in his own ship, being constantly thrown among strangers. In spite of the new rations introduced into the service it is not much better off. The men are now, as always, required to pay in part for their meals out of their own pockets. The equivalent to rations served is supposed to be 30 cents, in which case the men him. never receive the benefit of the cheapness of the market. If all rations were commuted, instead of every fourth one, as at present, which necessitates a landsman, whose pay is only $16 a month, to pay $3 of this amount for his own subsitence, it would go far toward relieving the service of one of. its worst faults and one that is causing

About Fishes.

Fish are nearly the same weight as the water in which they live, so that they can move in it with great case. The majority of them also have an air bladder inside of the body, which enables them to go up or down in the water at will. When a fish desires to go down deep it can press the air out of this bladder by means of certain muscles and thus increase the weight of its body, and when it wishes to rise again it takes off the pressure, the bladder fills with air again and its body becomes light enough to rise.

Fresh Milk.

An invention which is described as about to revolutionize the milk trade is being worked in France. The milk i is not "condensed" in the ordinary sense, but the water is extracted from it by a patent process. The powder that remains contains all the essential elements, and is converted back to milk by the simple addition of seven parts of water to one of the milk extract. It is claimed that it is the invention of Dr. Just of Boston, and a German engineer.
