Primaries and Conventon.

At the meeting of the County Central Committee yesterday, held in this city, Chairman Smead presiding, the time of primaries was set for March 12, and the county convention for March 19.

Rebekahs at Lexington.

Quite a large number of Rebekahs of San Souci lodge went down to Lexington Saturday and instituted a lodge at that place which starts out with a membership of thirty, the majority of whom are enthusiastic working members, and the new lodge gives evidence of becoming a strong one.

The Heppner Rebekahs report having been royally entertained by Lexington ladies, and that the institution was a very pleasant event.

Good Advice.

The best time to start in the breeding business is when prices are down, when owners of stock want to sell. When has there been a better time to start in the breeding business than right now? Cattle are selling too low—selling for less than their value. Start in when prices are low and when your money will secure the most stock. Then, when you have built up a herd to the selling point, you will be ready to reap the advantages of high prices for your product when the high prices come, which they are sure to do.—Rural Spirit.

LEXINGTON ITEMS

Frank Burgoyne has been sick for several days recently.

W. J. Davis has built a neat fence around his lots in town.

February 17, 1904.

Oregon Cattlemen to Meet

The first meeting of the Oregon Cattlemen's association will be held in Portland on Saturday, April 16th. Since the organization of the stockmen a thorough canvas of the state has been made and the result will be made known at the first regular meeting. There are 800,000 cattle in Oregon and several hundred cattlemen will be present.

President Hanley of Burns and Grant Mays of The Dalles, talked of the problems that confront cattlemen, to a reporter of the Oregonian, but would suggest no remedy at the present time.

The executive committee will meet a day or two before the date set for the convention and will doubtless make the necessary recommendations.

The special purpose for which the convention has been called is to fix a date for the regular annual convention and to decide on a policy on the burning questions which now agitate the cattlemen.

SPRING STYLES ARE PLEASING

Copyright 1904 by Koh. Nathan & Fischer Co.

VERY PLEASING is the verdict of those who have critically examined the advanced modes for Spring. Our presentation is practically complete so far as the choicest goods are concerned. The new styles differ from the old in essential details. The fabrics and patterns come this season in almost infinite variety, particularly suitable for summer in color and weight. For the man, who demands quality before he thinks of the appearance, we have only to say that the goods are K. N. & F. made, which tells the whole story. Our guaranty and that of the makers behind every suit.
