Dragging Pains

9225 Keeley St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groin. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maudie Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

IRRIGATION BY PUMP

Morrow County Desert Land to be Irrigated.

WILL PUMP WATER 3 MILES

Dalles Capitalists Will Put in Plant that Will Pump 1,800,000 Gallons Every 10 Hours.

A company of capitalists of The Dalles has recently been organized for the purpose of reclaiming several thousand acres of desert lands in the vicinity of Castle Rock, in northern Morrow county along the Columbia river.

H. W. Bartholomew informs us that the plans for the new irrigation enterprise have already been formulated and that work will be commenced at once.

The company will put in a 60 horse power gasoline engine, which is guaranteed to pump 1,800,000 gallons of water every ten hours. This we understand has already been purchased and the pumping plant will be installed at once.

Water will be taken from the Columbia river and forced through a 12 inch pipe a distance of three miles and to an elevation of 200 feet, and at first, will be distributed over a number of desert claims owned by various parties in that immediate vicinity. We have not learned whether it is the purpose of the company to construct reservoirs for storing the water, or whether it will be forced through pipes direct to each claim.

The object of the company is first to assist parties holding claims to gain title by furnishing water sufficient to enable them to make a home and improve their property. Afterwards a well defined irrigation system will be put in operation. In fact it is the beginning of a system that will reclaim several thousand acres of arid land immediately south of the town of Castle Rock, which will be extended and enlarged as rapidly as conditions will permit.

Herbert W. and Ed. E. Bartholomew have title to 7,000 acres of land in that section besides they own the Castle Rock town site. They are helping the scheme along by giving land free of charge to the company for its pumping plant and will encourage it in other ways.

Irrigation by the pumping system has been a success in other sections and there is no reason why it will not be a success at Castle Rock.

Country or City Life Which?

Heppner, Oregon, March 1.—At such anniversary times as the meetings of the first settlers' association, the society for historical research, and kindred gatherings, tending to the presentation of the early life of our country, think-people naturally compare life today with the olden time. And not always to the advantage of the present, the tendency of the American people has long been to get away from the country with its pure air; its grass and trees and flowers and birds; its independent life; its quiet and health giving atmosphere, and live in the city where everything is in direct contrast to the country.

But is this best? Are the advantages of city life greater than those of the country? Have the greatest men and women come from the country or from the city? Have the lives which have counted most for influence been country born and bred or reared amid the noise and rush and stress of more crowded conditions? Do we today find such rosy cheeks and bright eyes among the younger generation of the crowded cities, or in the country, where early life is passed in God's free sunshine amid the healthy and ever interesting scenes of country environment? And yet conditions are such today that choice between a country and a city life is not always possible no matter how strong may be the preference in favor of the country.

There are still most desirable sections in Eastern Oregon that are open to settlers on the very easiest terms. In Morrow county for instance, where the lands are rich in timber and vast fields of coal, and productive of every crop known in the temperate region. The climate is satisfactory to all. There has not been sufficient snow the past two years to have a sleigh ride, neither has the mercury dropped to zero. Cyclones and tornadoes are unknown.

With the advantages we now have in irrigating the sandy land along the Columbia river which will be transformed from a desert waste into a vineyard, where fruits of all kinds and berries will grow to perfection, also alfalfa and vegetables of every kind.

The Heppner Railroad and Coal Company has fully demonstrated that it has large deposits of coal on its lands situated in this county, about 20 miles south of Heppner. The company has expended a large sum of money in developing this field and it now has the mines in working order so that a large tonnage of coal can be mined daily. A railroad will be built in the spring to connect with the field. When transportation facilities are completed and the coal placed on the market it will supply a want which this state has never been able to get heretofore. The quality of the coal is bituminous and has been tested satisfactorily on the O. R. & N. railroad.

Land can be bought here in Morrow county cheaper than in any other state in the United States, considering the climate and healthfulness and other natural advantages. The increase in land values will be greater and has been greater the past three years than in any other part of Oregon.

The advantage of buying cheap land in Morrow county is well worth considering by those who are desirous of a country home under the best possible conditions. Where families may be brought up away from the congested centers and yet sufficiently near thriving cities to keep within the means of education and culture and in touch with the outside world.

Mammoth Fir Log.

A mammoth fir log nine feet in diameter and 28 feet long was shipped last week to the St. Louis fair. It came from Kelly Bros.' logging camp on Blind Slough, Clatsop county. It will be placed on exhibition at the St. Louis fair and will, of course, give the Easterners some idea of the sort of timber that grows in the Oregon country.

The log sent off was perfectly sound, measuring 110 inches at the butt and 95 at the upper end. It contains 12,000 feet of lumber, board measure, and weighs 46,750 pounds. The tree it came from was 431 years old, and stood 200 feet without a limb. Seven sections of the tree which were logged yielded 40,000 feet of lumber. The log is of the best fir, and could be cut into No. 1 flooring, and sell for $30 a thousand.

Says the Washington Post: "An Oregon man who started a newspaper 31 years ago has just retired with a fortune. It is not fair to state that he retired from the newspaper business 30 years ago." Says the Boise Capital: "A California court recently awarded the widow of an editor who was shot, $17,780 damages." This leads a Nebraska paper to remark that when even a California editor is worth as much as a second-class race horse it is evidence of the increased value of editors."

It seems that there are thus two courses open to editors in search of money: Quit the business or be shot.

Most Brilliant Banquet in History of the Lodge.

GOOD LITERARY PROGRAM

The Able Address by Judge W. R. Ellis Was Full of Good Thought and Advice for Lodge Members.

Doric Lodge No. 20, Knights of Pythias, entertained a number of their friends in their castle hall in this city Tuesday evening, the occasion being the 20th anniversary of the lodge. Elaborate preparation was every where in evidence, the unanimous verdict of those present being that the event was one of the most brilliant ever held by Doric lodge.

The splendid literary program was well received. It consisted of a pleasing selection by the orchestra, which was to be followed by an address of welcome by G. W. Phelps, who was unavoidably absent, but the cordial welcome extended by Hon. Henry Blackman was none the less appreciated.

The song "Until the Dawn," by Messrs Gove, Hayes, Otheo and Vawter Crawford was a splendid number and well received.

Judge W. R. Ellis delivered the addressed which bristled with good thought and advice to lodge members. The Judge gave a plain talk, but his characteristic manner of saying pleasant things at the proper time and place, left a good impression with his audience.

The song, "The City Choir," by a select choir, was not only a good selection but was well sung, voices that compare favorably with the more cultured being in evidence.

Hon. Henry Blackman's five minute talk on the early history of the order was pleasantly said and well received.

"Old Kentucky Home," by a quartette, was duly appreciated.

Miss Willa Minor demonstrated to her hearers that she is a reader of attainment, her ability in this line not being surpassed by the finished artist.

The rendition of "Old Black Joe," by the select choir concluded the literary part of the program.

Supper was then announced from the banquet hall, and it proved to be one of the very enjoyable features. A more bounteous, artistically prepared and better served supper was never prepared in Heppner. It consisted of everything good to eat that could be procured in the market, and arranged in a manner both pleasing to the eye and appetizing to the inner man. The ladies who prepared it are to be congratulated upon their artistic ability.

After luncheon a real good social time was had for an hour, when all departed with the strong conviction that they had been very highly entertained.

Spokane Sale of Shorthorns.

W. O. Minor shipped seven head of his shorthorns to the Spokane sale of herefords and shorthorns which was held at that place this week. Three of these animals were from his show herd. Mr. Minor left Saturday for Spokane and will also attend the Walla Walla sale of herefords and shorthorns today.

Of the consignment the Rural Spirit says: Mr. Minor, of Mountain Valley Farm, is sending some of his very best Shorthorns—including his two young show bulls, Minority and Marvin. Minority will be remembered as the yearling bull that stood next to Mr. Minor's first prize winner, Belted Valentine through the entire circuit in 1902 and 1903. Marvin was also in Mr. Minor's show herd this season and was considered one of the best young bulls on the circuit. The five heifers Mr. Minor is sending to the Spokane sale are Chief's Bell, Roan Mable 2nd, Lillian, Red Marzuka and Red Violet. These heifers are all bred in the purple, tracing on sire and dam's side to the greatest shorthorn in America. Mr. Minor is certainly sending a choice lot to this sale, cattle that are good enough in both breeding and individual merit to grace any stock farm in America.
