INDIANS AND LIQUOR

Columbias Imbibe too Freely and Get into Trouble.

BUFFALO BILL BADLY HURT

All Efforts of Officers to Ascertain who Sold Liquor to Indians Without Avail.

A band of Columbia river Indians who have been camped down near the depot in this city the past few days, had serious trouble Saturday night.

All day Saturday they circulated about town freely and in the afternoon engaged in wrestling with white men which afforded a great deal of amusement for a large crowd of people who had congregated at the south end of Gale street.

Late in the evening the Indians retired to their camp in the north end, but not until they had made arrangements, it appears, for a liberal supply of "Fire Water."

Along about 11 or 12 o'clock at night a great commotion was heard in that vicinity. Guns were discharged, the war hoop raised and the air was rife with bad Indian language.

Marshal Gurdane and Night Watch Rasmus hastened to the scene of trouble to find frightened Indians scattered in all directions. However, there were two, Buffalo Bill and Winnamuck, who were so seriously hurt that they were rendered unable to travel, Buffalo Bill was found with his hands tied behind his body and his head beaten almost into a pulp and one shoulder badly bruised. It appears that others of the Indians after fastening his hands had taken a rock and pounded his head until they thought him dead, and for a time Sunday it was thought he might die from the wounds, but he will probably recover.

Winnamuck was not so badly injured, but sufficiently that he will remember his experience with "Fire Water" for some time to come.

Before the officers arrived on the scene of trouble Tom Sampson and others, who had won the "Honors of the Day," had made good their escape and their apprehension is doubtful as the officers here have no direct information as to who the guilty parties are.

The real guilty party, however, is the one who sold the liquor to the Indians, and along the line of his apprehension, Sheriff Shurt and Marshal Gurdane have been directing their best efforts every since the affair occurred. They locked up Winnamuck who they have reason to believe knew from whom the liquor was obtained, but without avail.

Splendid Musical.

Beatrice Barlow Dierke's playing was an important feature of the entertainment. There were four solos: (a) Variations, "Nel Cor Pieu," Beethoven, the characteristics of whose music are the tranquil and the peaceful; (b) the dainty "Kuss Waltzes," Strauss-Rosenthal; (c) Chopin scherzo in B flat minor; (d) "Isolde's Death," Wagner-Liszt, from the opera "Tristan and Isolde."

The solos were well chosen, differing as widely in character as could be.

Mrs. Dierke added to the laurels she has already won in Portland. She was most winsome in a simple gown of white, and made a very attractive picture. In all her work the young artist creates unusual interest, for in her shines the light of genius. Her style was all that could be desired, in interpretation and execution, her selections being sufficiently contrasted to display every detail of her marvelous technique and her wonderful power of expression.

She captivated every one by the distinction of her legato, and the flexibility and equality of her finger work, the fascinating quality that sings through all her playing being especially pleasing in the Chopin scherzo.

Mrs. Dierke was recalled many times, and not until two extra solos, Moszkowski's "Spanish Caprice" and "Etude," op 9 No. 5, Chopin, were given, was the audience content to let her merely bow her acknowledgements. She was the recipient of numerous bouquets and baskets of lovely blossoms.—Evening Telegram.

At the opera house, Heppner May 13.

The City Council.

The city council met in regular session Monday evening with Mayor Gilliom and Councilmen Quaid, Noble and Warnock present.

The applications of Frank Roberts, Frank Natter and D. Matlock for saloon license were read and licenses ordered issued to Roberts and Natter, but the Matlock application was laid over until the next regular meeting.

Ordinance 100, relating to a fire limit was read second time and went over to the next meeting for final action.

Ordinance 102, providing for a back and front and in certain cases a side exit, was read second time.

The matter of an ordinance regulating certain features of drayage business was placed in the hands of city attorney.

The matter of dedication of street for privileges of new county road coming in from the west, was postponed until the necessary survey be made.

The following bills were allowed:

Gooseberry Notes.

Mr. M. Z. Biddle of Hardman, is visiting in the neighborhood.

Our Postmaster I. R. Esteb is taking his vacation over at Walla Walla visiting with his son.

County Judge Ayers and F. M. Griffin are here today looking after road matters and politics incidentally.

We have heard of giving a calf plenty of rope and he will hang himself, but we never heard of one breaking his leg. The measly brute will never be able to tell how he broke it.

Baseball is all the rage here now, the boys are practicing every chance they get and ere long expect to join the Western League and then lookout for Western Morrow county, she will sure come to the front.

Candidates are very scarce in this neck of the woods, especially those who do the treating act, but once in a while one comes along who puts up a stink-arduro, Cubanola, Perfecto, and of course we will certainly cast our rights of sufferage in the right direction.

One neighbor takes his potatoes to Ione and sells them for one dollar per sack in trade. Another neighbor goes to the same place, buys potatoes, pays one dollar and seventy five cents per sack and pays the cash this Fall. This is why the farmer gets rich quick and lives in fine pallaces while of course the merchant is doing a good legitimate business and has no kick coming.

Best Cough Medicine for Children.

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can place implicit confidence. You want one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is unquestionably harmless. You want one that is pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these conditions. There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds incident to childhood. It is also a certain preventive and cure for croup, and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough when it is given. It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success. For sale by Slocum Drug Co.

ADVANCE IN PRICES

Wool Market Brisker than Last Year.

GOOD NEWS FOR SHEEPMEN

Secretary Gwinn Hopeful for Better Prices for Oregon Wool this Year.

J. H. Gwinn, secretary of the Oregon Woolgrowers' Association, is more hopeful than ever for good prices for Oregon wool this year, says the E. O. Advice from the East indicate that the same grades of wool are selling at an advance of 1 to 1½ cents per pound over last years prices and that buyers are very active in contracting at present prices, which would clearly indicate that they expect a raise, before the season's clip is disposed of.

Mr. Gwinn has received the following figures from a Boston review of the wool situation, which indicates that all the merchants and buyers confidently expect a raise in price before the clip of 1904 is marketed. The review says:

"If the Boston market lacks interest just now in point of sales, there is enough activity in the growing sections to make amends and show that there are plenty of operators with faith in the future. Buyers are numerous in Wyoming and Utah, which are just now the centers of activity. The new clip is moving lively at stiff prices. At Caspar, Wyoming 13½ and 14 cents have been paid. Choice clips have been contracted at the latter figure, that were bought last year at 13 cents.

"In Utah nothing less than last year's prices are acceptable to the growers, the range being from 13½ to 15 cents, with what are called medium clips selling for 14 and 15 cents.

"Many of the leading Boston houses are now operating and are paying the prices demanded. Some few are holding back, as usual, but it would seem, however, that the price of the clip has been established and that the wool sold in Oregon and other new sections yet to be opened to the market this year, would be on the same high level as those already sold."
