What a traveling man says of Slocum's Scalpine

Gentlemen: After being troubled several years with dandruff, during which time I tried thoroughly many prominent so-called remedies, also the prescriptions of two or three prominent Physicians; I used a portion of one bottle of Slocum's Scalpine. The result was very gratifying indeed. The dandruff has entirely disappeared and my hair has ceased to fall out. Both hair and scalp are in a healthy condition.

I can guarantee your remedy without restriction. Yours very truly

THE STOCK OUTLOOK

R. N. Stanfield Returns from Omaha and Chicago

THINKS PRICES WILL DROP

Morrow County Farmers are Urged to Save Grain Samples and other Products for Lewis and Clark Fair.

R. N. Stanfield has returned from Omaha and Chicago where he had been with a shipment of cattle, says the Pendleton Tribune. Mr. Stanfield says that there are no indications of an advance in the stock market and that the buyers in Omaha and Chicago except cheap beef this summer. "The prices," he said, "were not good and it doesn't look as if they were going to improve. As far as I can determine the outlook is not very encouraging, and we are going to put our cattle on the market as soon as possible in order to take advantage of the present prices rather than meet a decline which is expected at any time. As to the effect of the packers' strike on the stock market I can't say, as I left Chicago before the strike had been called."

Mr. Stanfield went to Omaha with a shipment of fourteen cars of beef cattle which were loaded at Echo. These cattle brought good prices on the market, but nothing extra. Mr. Stanfield did not say just what the price was, but said the range was from $2.65 to $6.00. They will start another trainload of cattle for the Omaha market within a few weeks. These cattle were some of them held up by the state inspector and kept out of the recent shipment. They have now been dipped and will be passed all right.

Morrow County Exhibit.

To the Editor:—We are making an effort to secure for Morrow County a creditable exhibit to go to the Lewis and Clark exhibition at Portland next year. Considerations of pride as well as our material interests require us to make the best display our county can afford. To this end we are asking our people to furnish us anything of exceptional excellence produced in the county. We want a large collection of our best grains, in the straw and in the berry; of our best grasses, fruits, in fact anything of exceptional quality produced within our limits. We want the people of every district in the county to give us samples of their best products. We will gladly furnish jars and preservatives for all products which require this mode of preservation. Every sample will be labeled so that each locality will get proper credit for what it furnishes.

We have safe and ample storage room for all products in the basement of the Courthouse at Heppner, where they will eventually be brought to await shipment. To facilitate the gathering of material, however, we have established local depositories through the County. Leave your samples with Nichols & Leach of Lexington, J. A. Woolery or O. T. Walker of Ione, A. C. Morgan of Douglas, F. B. Holbrook of Irrigon, H. E. Warren or Geo. Bleakman of Hardman, or at The First National Bank in Heppner.

Let us all take an interest in this matter and get together a display which will be a credit to Morrow County.

Very truly yours,
 GEO. CONSER,
 Commissioner.

R. J. Hill Dead,

Deputy Sheriff W. O. Hill was called to Walla Walla Friday morning to attend the funeral of his father, R. J. Hill, who died very suddenly the day before of heart failure. Mr. Hill was taken ill ten days before his death, but was apparently improving up to within a short time before he succumbed to the disease. For many years Mr. Hill was a resident of Morrow county, living at Lexington, and it was only last August that he sold his Morrow county property and bought a small tract of land in the suburbs of Walla Walla. He leaves a wife and several children, some of whom are residents of this county.

The sale of livestock and wool has already put into circulation in Morrow county more than a half million dollars this year, and probably stock to the value of more than $100,000 will yet be sold before the close of the year. To this add $600,000 for wheat that will be shipped out during the season, which makes a grand total of $1,200,000 for the two industries, agriculture and livestock. If divided among the 5000 people of the county pro rata, it would give every man, woman and child $250. In agriculture Morrow county needs twice or three times as many people to obtain the greatest results. We have too much land for the few farmers to get the best results. The trouble is that every farmer tries to farm too much land and cannot possibly do it well. Where one man may farm 500 or 700 acres to wheat and get 10 to 15 bushels per acre as at present, five men could farm the same number of acres properly and make a yield of 25 to 40 bushels per acre. While the soil requires less labor to produce a crop here than any other place we know of, it is not reasonable to suppose that any one man can farm from 500 to 700 acres and obtain the best results. There are many fields of grain in our county today that the yield is estimated at from 25 to 35 bushels per acre, while there are others that are estimated at 12, 15, 18 and 20 bushels per acre. It is true there may be some difference in the character of the soil in the different localities, but it is apparent everywhere that the better cultivation brings the larger yield.

Morrow County, with a population of less than 5000, has commenced harvesting a 1,200,000-bushel crop of wheat. This wheat at present market prices is worth on the farm more than $600,000, and will, accordingly, add a matter of $120 per capita to the wealth of the entire population of the county. When to this sum is added the large amount received from the wool and livestock turned off this year, the showing will be so highly flattering that the population of the county ought to increase with a rush. The aggregate wheat yield of Morrow county is small in comparison with that of some of the larger counties of Oregon and Washington, but it is doubtful whether any other county in the Pacific Northwest can show such large returns per capita from the wheat industry.—Oregonian.

Some people are going out of the cattle business now because they think there is more money in other lines. This is a grave mistake, as there is no other line of business but what will have its ups and downs, and the period of depression in the live stock business are less in number and shorter in duration than in most any other business. We have pointed out many times that there is no over-production in the live stock business, but certain conditions have had a tendency to lower the price of beef that cannot exist any length of time. The country is needing more beef each year and somebody must supply it. The time to stay with a business is when everybody else is quitting it.—Rural Spirit.

CROPS VERY GOOD

Grain Yield Heavier than Was Expected.

HOP CROP WILL BE SHORT

Abundant Peach Crop and Conditions Favorable for the Apple.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, climatic and crop bulletin of the weather bureau, Oregon section, for the week ending Monday, July 17.

Nearly a half of an inch of rain fell in the Willamett valley during the latter part of the week, and greater amounts are reported in the coast counties. Frequent rains also occurred in the eastern section of the state. The rains west of the Cascades have done an immense amount of good. They will help all growing crops, especially potatoes, corn, oats and late spring wheat. Hops also will be benefited, as well as gardens and pasturage. The grain harvest has been interrupted by the wet weather, and in the coast counties and plateau section some cut hay will be more or less damaged, but these losses are insignificant compared with the great good the rains have done. A sharp frost occurred Wednesday morning in portions of the Willamette valley and in some of the coast counties, but the damage was confined to tender vegetation and it was not serious, notwithstanding the lateness of the season.

Fall wheat is filling nicely, the heads being large and the berry plump. Although very little wheat has yet been threshed, correspondents generally report the yield to be better than expected. In Sherman county some complaint of smut is made, but generally the quality of the wheat is reported above the average. Hops are doing nicely, but it is not expected that the yield will be quite so heavy as last year, on account of the long spell of dry weather.

Stock continues in excellent condition, but pasturage is getting short, as is usual at this season of the year, and the milk supply in the dairy herds has decreased slightly during the week.

Peaches are ripe and plentiful, but apples have dropped badly during the week, although the prospects still continue favorable for a good crop of apples

Grain Samples Wanted.

Farmers, now is the time to save your best samples of grain. It will be too late a week or two from now when all the grain is harvested. The committee of the Morrow County Lewis and Clark Fair Club requests every farmer of the county who has a good sample of wheat, rye or barley to pull it up by the roots and lay it aside until such time as is convenient to bring it to town. Each bundle should be at least eight inches in diameter, and should be wrapped sufficiently to prevent shattering. The bundles will each be labeled with the name and address of the grower and the locality in the county from which it came. It is only a matter of a few moments time for each farmer to gather a nice sample of his grain and lay it aside until such time as suits his convenience to bring it to town. But the exhibit must be gathered now while the grain is in proper condition to handle for exhibition purposes.

We need more people to help farm our rich soil and improve our county and thereby increase the value of our property. To get the desired increased in population we must show them what we can produce. We can make an exhibit at the 1905 fair that will be a credit to our county; one that will doubtless interest the homeseeker as well as the capitalist. The former can find nowhere that he can make as comfortable a home at as small a cost as here where land values are so low, and the latter can find nowhere better opportunities than are here offered for the profitable investment of his surplus cash.

The question now is will we take advantage of the opportunity the Lewis and Clark fair offers us to advertise the resources of our county, and thus secure the necessary capital and labor to build up the county and more fully develop our varied resources, and make us a more prosperous and contented people,
