RAWLINS POST NO. 21, G. A. R. MEET AT
Odd Fellows' Hall at Heppner, every third
Saturday of each month.
G. W. RHEA, Adj. G. W. SMITH, Com.

THURSDAY, OCT. 20, 1904.

Frank Farnsworth, manager of the Woolgrowers' warehouse, estimates that there will be shipped out and milled in the Heppner flouring mill this season 225,000 bushels of wheat. This exceeds the shipments of any previous year more than 100,000 bushels. A considerable portion of the increase is due to larger acreage than in former years, yet almost as great a per cent is due to the exceptionally large yield this season.

W. S. Wharton, who has traveled over the county extensively the past few weeks, and thus speaks advisedly in the matter, says that the sales from the agricultural and livestock that have been sold and gone out and will yet go out of Morrow county this year, if divided equally between every man, woman and child of the county, each would have a little over $300. His figures are based upon wool, livestock and wheat sales. Probably no other county in the country can make as good a showing.

GOOSEBERRY.

Mrs. N. R. McVay has returned from Heppner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barlow went to Heppner Friday.

Jack Eades of Grant county, is hauling grain for J. D. Ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Faulk are visiting with their niece, Mrs. McVay.

Mrs. I. R. Esteb spent Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Keithly.

The recent rains have made the roads much more solid and easy for travel.

Several of our gentlemen are in Ione this week as witnesses in a land contest.

An Arabian peddler by the name of Dakir Kurdy, was in our midst this week.

Forrest Briens went over in the Monument county last week to purchase work horses.

Mr. Coffman, the Willamette valley threshing machine man, has quit for the fall, and will take his departure soon for Hubbard.

The young men of Gooseberry have taken a few steps toward organizing a baseball nine. It is a little late in the season, but we wish them success.

Will Barlow and family have moved onto the place formerly occupied by Bert Courter. They help out the school considerably as they have four children who attend.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Dr. Stone of Pendleton, delivered two lectures in Heppner Saturday on the local option question. He spoke at 3 p. m. at the M. E. church, south, and in the evening at the M. E. church. He was accorded a large hearing at each service. The doctor being an old time lecturer, is a fluent talker, and his speeches probably resulted in some good to the cause he is supporting.

P. O. Borg has further improved his jewelry store by putting in a new wall case along the east side of his store room the full length. It adds much to the attractiveness as well as to the convenience of his store.

Rev. J. W. Mount will fill the following appointments in behalf of local option: Ella, Saturday night, Oct. 23; Douglas, Monday night, Oct. 31; Gooseberry, Tuesday night, Nov. 1; Liberty schoolhouse, Wednesday, Nov. 2; Hardman, Thursday, Nov. 3.

Dr. M. E. Winard of Albany, who was here the latter part of the week, has decided to locate permanently with Dr. A. K. Higgs. Mr. Winard will go first to Chicago, where he will take a post graduate course of two months before returning to Heppner.

The Woodmen of the World and wives, Women of Woodcraft and husbands, also visiting members, are invited to a stereopticon moving picture show, to be given under the auspices of Maple Circle 250, Women of Woodcraft, at the K. of P. hall Tuesday evening, October 25.

Mrs. J. J. Adkins returned Monday evening from Portland with her daughter Olive, who has been in a hospital there for some time for treatment of appendicitis. Although Miss Olive suffered a very severe attack of the disease, she has about fully recovered. Oral Adkins, who had been visiting with friends in the valley, returned with his mother and sister.

W. O. Minor tells us that within the past ten days he has sold eight head of Poland China hogs, as follows: H. E. Burchell, two sows; a boar each to J. J. Adkins, J. R. Olden, E. F. Browning, Geo. Vincent, James Wyland and J. R. Nunamaker. Not only is Mr. Minor's Mountain Valley stock farm a great factor in building up the breed of cattle, but of swine as well.

H. E. Burchell of Lexington, was in town Saturday and purchased a couple of fine Poland China sows of W. O. Minor. Mr. Burchell has been improving the blood of his swine the past three years, and with the purchase just made he expects to bring his herd up to a high degree in the thoroughbred line.

Messrs Scott and Barnett, the piano dealers, returned Tuesday evening from Hardman, where they have been the past few days. They report the sale of three pianos in that vicinity and prospective sales for as many more. So far they have sold, since opening their branch house in Heppner, seven instruments, and feel very much encouraged with the prospects of the branch house here.

Wood and Posts.

I have a large number of tamarack posts and lots of fir and tamarack cord wood for sale at my ranch near the coal mines.
WILLARD HERRICK.

TRIP TO SCOTLAND.

inspection of our eyes, and our purse this time. Having your inspection card in one hand, and your hat and baggage in the other, you enter a magnificent building. Each inspection card goes by letter, and as mine is E, I fall into the line of Es, passing through cattle chutes this time, working our way to the separating corral—for it looks like nothing else to one used to handling sheep. After a time I am up against the "dodge gate" and am squeezed into a small pen to answer questions.
