RAWLINS POST NO. 21, G. A. R. MEET AT Odd Fellows Hall at Heppner, every third Saturday of each month. G. W. SMITH, Com. G. W. BREA, Adj.

THURSDAY, OCT. 27, 1904.

The Injunction Suit.

Quite a flurry of excitement was made manifest in Heppner last Thursday afternoon and Friday, because of an injunction suit being filed by Phil. Metschan through his attorneys, Redfield & Van Vactor, to enjoin the county clerk, Yawter Crawford, from placing the prohibition question to a yes or no vote, on the official ballot.

Immediately upon filing the petition in the case, local prohibition leaders took the matter in hand and secured the services of District Attorney G. W. Phelps and Attorney W. H. Wilson of The Dalles.

The case was tried before Judge A. F. Sears of Portland, Friday evening, who took the matter under advisement until Monday, when he telephoned to the county clerk that the injunction was denied.

The point of contention in the petition for injunction was that the county judge had failed to file with the clerk his call for a special meeting of the county court to order a vote on the liquor question, therefore making the proceedings of the court irregular and illegal.

Counsel on both sides put up some good argument to sustain their points of contention and there was considerable suspense until the decision was received.

GOOSEBERRY.

Mrs. Ed. Portwood is again living on her farm near here.

Miss Cochran spent Tuesday evening at the home of F. N. Holmes.

Myrtle Akers was ill the first of the week and was compelled to remain from school.

Mrs. Holmes has had a fine Haddorf piano on trial this week. They are talking of buying it from Scott & Barnett.

J. D. Ball was called to his home in Ione Thursday on account of the illness of two of his children who have typhoid fever.

The teacher and pupils have been very busy trying to improve the appearance of the school room. They have scrubbed, washed windows, and put up several nice pictures.

Quite a number of the young folks met at Sam Esteb's last Saturday night and spent a few hours in dancing. Although only four ladies were present, they intend trying to have another party this week.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

G. W. Dykstra was in town on business Monday.

Frank McKnight was in from Batter Creek yesterday.

R. F. Wigglesworth was in yesterday from his ranch on Batter creek.

E. G. Sperry was up from Ione yesterday transacting business in Heppner.

John Kinsman shipped a carload of hogs to the Portland market this morning.

W. W. Stabler shipped a train load of sheep this morning to Wyoming, for range purposes.

The November term of commissioners court will convene the 2, instead of the 9, as many believe.

Cantwell & Mitchell lost a valuable horse Sunday. The animal had a leg broken by being kicked.

Dan Rice, a prosperous farmer of the vicinity of Hardman, was transacting business in Heppner yesterday.

Miss Jessie Thomson, sister of the Thomson brothers of this city, arrived here from Chicago last week and will make her home with her brothers here.

John Hayes, who was in from Upper Batter Creek yesterday, says pasturage is as fine in his section as he has ever seen it at this season of the year. Stock are doing fine.

Harry Cummings informs us that he has collected and turned in $205.25 for the relief of the family of Chas. Powell, who was so seriously injured in Tuesday's accident.

E. S. Cox and R. H. Stilwell, prominent stockmen of the Hardman country, were business visitors in Heppner yesterday. They report grass the finest they have seen it for years, and stock in excellent condition to start them in the winter.

C. E. Jones, who was in from Eight Mile Tuesday, says farmers in his section are very busy seeding just now. He says the acreage of summer fallow being seeded this fall is not as great as last year, but there is a larger acreage of soil land being sown, which will almost make up for the shortage in summer fallow.

J. E. Nolan left this morning with his family for Syray, where he recently purchased a stock ranch.

T. D. Mathews of Butter Creek, has been visiting in Heppner several days the past week.

Maple Circle Entertains.

Maple Circle 259, Women of Woodcraft entertained a large number of their friends at the K. of P. hall Tuesday evening. The principal features of the entertainment were cinograph music and stereopticon moving picture views. There were also views illustrating team work of various circles, besides pictures of all grand officers of the Women of Woodcraft and W. O. W. were shown.

The large audience was well pleased with the manner in which they were entertained, and will ever have a friendly feeling toward the Woodcraft circle of Heppner.

of one thousand hogs per hour; just think what a wholesale slaughter. Each man has a certain duty to perform as the pig moves along. I will try and mention some interesting points: after the hog is dressed he is moved over a scale and weighed while he is yet hot, and here they take a drop to a floor below to cool before being cut up. As we happened to get a good guide, he explained everything from start to finish. As we progress it is very interesting to see the pig cut up as he moves along on a table; each man gives him a certain lick, and before you know it the hog is ready to be cured. It was interesting to me to see the backbone and ribs come off at one pull. With a knife shaped for the purpose, and the rib and backbone is out. Here I noticed as the hogs came to be cut up there were some taken off the table and put on trucks. Upon inquiry I was informed by the guide that the hogs we all inspected and those condemned were thrown out. I follow the pig from here to the smoke house, and from the smoke house to be branded, as everything has to be branded. This branding iron goes like clock work; on the same principle as a small steam hammer. As the pig is now ready to be

MARSHALL FIELD

Began life as a clerk in a small retail dry goods store. Today he is one of the greatest merchants in America. He counts the saving habit as the first stepping stone to his success. The habit of saving, persistently practiced, soon becomes settled thrift. The man that spends all he gets can never become wealthy.

Why Saving is Hard

Saving is hard with most people at first. It is hard to find a surplus when wages are small and wants are many. Unless you can get it into the bank right away, the money burns holes in your pockets. You miss it, but you don't know where it went.

It took James Gordon Bennett fourteen years of hard work to save a few hundred dollars. He did not look down on humble beginnings, and today a fortune of many millions is the result.
