RAWLINS POST NO. 31, G. A. R. MEET AT Odd Fellows' Hall at Heppner, every third Saturday of each month.
G. W. KREX, ADJ. G. W. SMITH, COM.

THURSDAY, NOV. 10, 1904.

With this issue we commence the publication of the eighth volume of The Times, and we are glad to say that our subscription list and patronage in general of the paper has gradually increased during the entire year just past. The subscription list has so grown that we feel safe in saying there are few homes in Morrow county to which The Times is not a regular weekly visitor. It has been our endeavor to furnish all the local news we can gather, besides a large amount of general news, and in this line we shall endeavor to make the service even better the coming year than we have the past. Morrow county has never been more prosperous and made greater strides in industrial lines than she has the present year, and the indications are that it will be still greater during the next few years. With this view of the future of our county, it shall be our endeavor to keep The Times abreast of the times, and in this way do our best to merit a liberal share of the prosperity that we hope for all the people of our county and state.

The Keith Stock Company.
The presentation of the "Slaves of the Mines" by the Keith Stock Company last night at the Frazer was exceedingly good and outclassed any previous performances. The play is a wholesome one and full of human interest, being a mingling of Western wealth and Eastern society. The play is a good satire on the latter phase. The various parts are well chosen. Walter Kendrick, as the rich uncle afflicted with nervousness was ably portrayed by Lester Howard. Other roles were especially good. The large audience was entertained between acts by specialties.

Tonight the bill will be "The Lighthouse Robbery." This play is said to be one of the best in the repertoire. The company carries special scenery for the production of this play. Miss Dorothy Fairfax, as the leading lady, will appear in "The Lighthouse Robbery" and some further clever work may be expected of her.—Morning Tribune, Pendleton, Ore.
This company will appear at Roberts' opera house for one week, commencing November 20.

Companion Informs and Entertains
The Youth's Companion uses entertainment as a means rather than an end, conveying always in its fiction on its articles some convincing truth or some contribution to the useful knowledge of its readers.

The 225 men and women enlisted to write for The Companion represent an infinite variety of talents and callings. Through The Companion they address not only the young and impressionable, but the fathers and mothers of the nation. The entire family claim a share in the good things which fill The Companion's pages.

Full illustrated announcement, describing the principal features of The Companion's new volume for 1905, will be sent to any address free.

The new subscriber for 1905 will receive all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1904 free from the time of subscription, also The Companion "Carnation" calendar for 1905, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.
