HEPPNER, THURSDAY, JUNE 14, '88.

Eveny inhabitant of these primitive Eveny inhabitant of these primitive Heppner hills looks with price to our town which came into existance sixteen years age, and has been growing steadily year after year without interruption ever since. It is to-day a rusting, bustling, wide-awake place, a counterpart of its inhabitants, who are people of broad, liberal views, kind-hearted and emergetic and have never been known to shrink from putting up when the general prosperity of the community demanded it. With a railroad now building to Heppner, stage roads and tri-weekly ed it. With a railroad now building to Heppner, stage roads and tri-weekly mail routes being prejected to reach out to Haystack and Camp Watson, Monument, Long Creek. Fox Valley and Canyen City, and every part of the country that demands such conveniences, places this town in a position to enjoy the fruits of past labors. Property is increasing in value in a manner that is encouraging to owners of real estate. One piece of preperty that cast $800 a short time ago, sold recently for $2,000; another was bought for $150 and sold for $30 in ten days, and we might name many other transactions of like nature. We have a boom and no mistake. To be brief, gentle reader, and without fur brief, gentle render, and without fur-their argument, come and see Heppner. It is the coming railroad and education-at fown of Morrow Co. A few hundred dol lars invested now, means thousands of clean cash right in your pocket, and in a comparatively short time.

The Umatilla county court has granted the Long Creek road, and the subscription on the part of the citizens of Pendleton, being circularied successfully.

The Heppner railroad is under construc-

With many crops are considerably injored by the spring drouth, the rain that has fallen slace June let will bring them out to an average crop, particularly spring sowing. Fall grain will not do so well. In some parts of the country, the squirrels have finished up the deviantion begun by the dry weather, leaving senreely anything standing. However, this is not general. Morrow county's range shows up as fat cattle and horses as may be found in any country, and the bunchgrass is growing befter every day, preparing these slopes for the many bands of sheep that will return this fall from their summer range in the mountains. Within many crops are considerably

A MAIL route to Canyon City, by the way of Hardman, Manumout, Long Creek and Fox Valley, is now being agita ted by the citizens of Heppner, and peti-tions are now being circulated in neigh-tering parts. The route as it is, forms an apology for a mail line, and is a great inconvenience to our neighbors over the mountains, as all their mail is a week to ten drys longer on the road than it should be. In the course of two or three months, the postal department will no doubt come to our relist, and give us the mail facilities that the country demands.

A TRIP TO LONGCREEK,

Mn. Entron:—Thinking that your readers might be interested in what I saw and heard in that parties of Grant county which will be tributary to this saw and heard in that perhon of Grant county which will be tributary to this town on the completion of the railroad, I will give you a short history of the trip. Having, with Dr. Vanghan, set our houses in order, we left Heppner for Long Creek in the last week in May, and spent the first night at Mr. Allen's, where we were hospitably entertained Having had a good, refreshing aloep we we next morning started early for destination, and arrived at Long Creek about 9 o'clock that evening, tired and dusty, but after a good night's rest weke up in the morning ready to talk reads and telegraph to the Long Creekers.

I talked with several of the leading brainess men of that really enterprising town, and found them very enthusiastic ever the bright prespects of their town being brought as close to railroad facilities, and they expressed a full determination to have telegraphic communication with the outside world by way of leppner.

nation to have telegraphic communion to a with the outside world by way of Eeppaer.

I found from what I saw that our people have but little conception of the business done in Long Creek and vicinity, two of the stores carrying almost as large stocks as our Heppaer merchants while lons and fous of freight are hauled to and from Arlington, now their nearest railroad point. The people there seem alive to business and very friendly to Heppaer.

Several lawsuits were in progress during the forencon, and Brother Demming, who is located there in the practice of law, seemed to be full of business, but not so busy but the could spare the time to latch up his fine team of Arabam ponies and take me to the McDuffle springs. They were 2-40 ponies, but required considerable persuassion, which I administered with a rod some twelve feet long, and which was kindly given me by the marriageable ladies of the town who before me had had the pleasure of rading behind the ponies. Bro Deuming is a 1-cichlor. I used the rod to good effect, and we made the trip of twelve miles in less than seven hours. Arrived at the springs we met Mr. Powell and wife, who less than seven hours. Arrived at the springs we met Mr. Powell and wife, who being old friends of Mr. Demming's, and I being vouched for by him, we were made welcome during our stay, and I wish to say to those who desire to test the waters of the springs, that Mrs. Powell is a first-class cook, and can give you as good a mest and bed as you could wish.

But to return to my tale—before partaking of supper I visited the springs and took a bath, in which habt I continued during my stay there, and from an old, sickly man, which I was when I arrived there, I came away well and hearty, and feeling to be not more than 25, so I would advise all marriageable wemen to look a hitte out, as I am in the market and quite susceptible to the smiles of womaniand, but to make a

The Unntilla county court has granted the Long Creek road, and the subscription on the part of the citizens of Pendleton, being circulared successfully. The Heppner railroad is under construction, and Heppner will undoubtedly improve the wagon road between this place and Heppner. We will surely have two outlets to this place in the near future, and with two such places as Heppner and Pendleton striving for the trade of our Republic, we can reasonably expect lower prices on all classes of goods than we have ever experienced to four. The Heppner route is already opened; now finish this end of the Pendleton fands in the policion, and then left the longest pole rake in the perminons. Long Creek Eagle.
