FROM THE BIG BEND.

Stockmen turning their faces toward Alameda better homes and ranges should paste this in their hats.

Careful inquiry as to the condition of range stock results in a very gloomy report of the way in which stock, especially cattle, are wintering.

Mr. A. A. Pierpont, a representative stock man, well informed on the situation, and thoroughly reliable, assures us that from present appearances the loss this winter will be 70 per cent of cattle and 25 per cent of horses.

On the Columbia river the loss will be nearly as great. In the vicinity of Moses Lake the loss will be somewhat less. This damaging report is not due to a hard winter or to any disease among stock.

It is because farmers are crowding out the stock men by fencing the agricultural lands and watering places. While the ranges have been greatly diminished by the homestead settler, the herds have rapidly increased, both by natural increase and immigration, with a result, not surprising, disastrous. The days of large herds in the Big Bend are a thing of the past—Big Bend Empire.

HEPPNER, OR PENDELTON?

It is strange that even now the people of this neighborhood do not know which of the two towns, Pendleton, or Heppner, will be their most advantageous trading point in the future.

During last year the trade was divided between Arlington, Heppner and Pendleton; the most of the trade being in Arlington. Unless we have some particular point in view, we never shall have a decent road to any railroad town, fit for the "prairie schooners" to sail over with freight.

The trade of this country will justify either Heppner or Pendleton to meet us half way or more in the building of a wagon road and with such a start, a good road could soon be made from either place, with little or no trouble. So long as the business men of Pendleton see the trade of our Republic divided between the present number of towns, but little help need be looked for from that quarter, and the Heppner people are no better off in that respect.

Arlington is fast falling from our view as a trading point, and soon will entirely cease to be regarded as such—what we have been overcharged for supplies at that place, but because the "iron horse" now runs nearer our homes, if the wool produced in this section is shipped through Heppner next season, then we would say, let us turn our attention entirely upon that place and all travel the same road.—Engle.

TOUGH LUCK.

W. B. Cunningham came from Portland last Saturday, himself and wife having arrived there a few days ago after an absence of several months in Scotland.

Mr. Cunningham is well known in Oregon as one of the principal stockholders in the Newton Ranch, Land & Stock Co., one of the largest concerns of the kind in Eastern Oregon.

He, as manager, is constantly importing fine stock from the old country, and on this trip brought seven Clyde stallions worth at least $14,000. Unfortunately, a storm set in on the passage over, causing their death four days out.

Mr. W. S. Young, who had charge of the stock, writes Mr. Cunningham as follows: "We had a singularly unfortunate passage out. It started to blow very hard right at the 'Dail of the Bank' and increased in severity as we passed Troy Island. The horses never got a moment's rest and were all dead four days out."

Owing to the prevailing stormy weather, Mr. C. was unable to insure the stock, and consequently the loss falls heavily on the company.

REUNION.—On last Monday evening, up on Skinner Fork, Mrs. Harrison Hale and little daughter were riding in a cart when the horse became frightened, running away and throwing out the occupants, who, fortunately escaped with but little injury.

K. OF P. BALL.—On the 19th inst., Doris Lodge No. 23, K. of P. will give a ball in the opera house of Garrigues & Rogers in commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the order. The members are making preparations for a grand time, and extend a general invitation to all to be present on that occasion. Tickets, $1.50.

THE CONVENTION.—On last Saturday evening, about 75 of Heppner's voters met in Matlock's hall to make nominations for the city ticket. The convention was called to order by Mayor Henry Blackman. Hon. W. R. Ellis was elected chairman, and M. C. McDougall secretary. The following nominations were made: For mayor, Henry Blackman; for councilmen, J. W. Morrow, Ed. L. Matlock, each 127 and Nelson Jones 129 for councilmen; W. J. Leezzer, 129 for treasurer and G. W. Rea 128 for recorder. It is no doubt proper and consistent to observe the time honored newspaper slack and say that no razzle dazzle business was indulged in on this occasion by wild and woolly citizens.

FREE FIGHT.—A paper to be first class must receive first-class patronage. First-class patronage consists in every subscriber paying in advance, patronizing the job department in place of sending the paper to foreign offices, and in various ways giving the paper your moral support. Moral support of itself was never known to run newspapers; moral support cannot be utilized when ink and paper bills are to be paid. The men who work upon newspapers are humane, and enjoy corn beef and cabbage as well as other people. The atmosphere in this locality contains a large amount of ozone and is very bracing, the scenery grand and picturesque, but nevertheless it seems to be one of nature's laws that one can't pay for printing material with ozone, or feed workmen on beautiful scenery.—Ez.

There is some talk of the E. O. people publishing a daily Portland edition, and the Polk county Observer makes haste to remark that the Oregonian is not a sheet it is in no time. That ought to be set at rest, but perhaps the E. O. folks are not so easily discouraged. Portland should support a democratic daily.

NEED A BALLON.—The following petition was recently received at Washington: To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives: Your humble petitioner would respectfully beg that your honorable body pass the bill introduced by Senator Butler empowering the commissioners of Whitman county, Washington territory, to issue bonds not to exceed $100,000 to build a courthouse and jail in the town of Colfax. Now your petitioner most humbly prays that you double the sum and give them the privilege of raising $200,000. It will take this amount to keep the county seat down in this hole; and while you are about it, give us $50,000 more to build a balloon to get down to the county seat in, and your petitioner will ever pray. JOHN SMITH.

KILLED IN JORDAN VALLEY.—A private letter from Vale, Malheur county, states that at Jordan Valley recently a fight took place between William Hughes and C. O. Nelson, two former residents of Pilot Rock, in which Nelson was killed. No particulars were given, and the mere fact of the killing is all that can be given to the East Oregonian's readers. Nelson was a Swede, a quiet, inoffensive fellow, who was continuously employed near Pilot Rock for three years by E. Gilliam. Hughes is well-known throughout this section. He was peaceable enough when sober, but when drunk was dangerous, and it is probable that he killed Nelson while under the influence of liquor.—E. O.

GRAND BALL.—On the 22d inst., Boyd & Wills, of Ione, will give a grand ball in the Ione hall. Full preparations are being made to have it one of the most enjoyable affairs ever given in that county. T. J. Carl will give the supper in the lower story of the hall building. Tickets, $1.50; supper, $1. For further information see posters. Special arrangements are being consummated for a low fare on the O. R. N. from Arlington, Lexington, Heppner and other intermediate points on the line.

The Callahan restaurant is no longer numbered with the business places of Heppner town. The GAZETTE refrains from further comments at present.

The last number of the West Shore contained engravings of the buildings in Oregon and other views in Salem. The supplemental sheet contains portraits of the Oregon legislature.

A party sends in a card asking that a "synonymy paper" which was sent in some time ago, be published. Can't do it. It was first into the waste basket and there had not been seen since.

Some three weeks ago, J. B. Manning was severely kicked in Linn county, while coming down with a load of wood, and has been laid up ever since. At present he is able to get around with the aid of crutches.

Died.—On the 4th inst., up in Norman Kelly's pasture, Pigeon, aged 12 years, Pigeon was a favorite horse belonging to Henry Rasmus. His demise is deeply regretted in the family, where he was loved for his domestic qualities.

Bully Creek is getting too common for the people of Malheur. A bill has passed the house asking for some high-toned name or other to be substituted for the stream hereafter. With the cowpuncher it will always be Bully creek.

The Border Signal, of Enterprise, informs its readers that it don't propose to give any gush in order to tempt people into paying up subscriptions, and that it is in every respect as independent as the proverbial swine on a sick spot.

Joe Keeney, the veteran stage man, came up from Arlington last Monday, and after a considerable effort to get mail service through to Canyon City from Heppner. In that event, he will immediately put on a line of stages.

A western paper in a local item recently told of a "regular old razzler" who having got a skate on indulged in a glorious razzle "dazzle." In the effort the paper would have said, "A man became inebriated and committed a breach of the peace."

Frank McFarland, wife and child came up from Arlington on last Saturday, returning on Monday. Mr. McFarland informs us that the boxes of goods is on the way from the east to fill the shelves of their Heppner store, which they will open about March 1st.

The first edition of China New Years comes off on Tuesday night of last week at the wash house of Chong Wong Lip Yee. On Sunday they had some more New Years, and burned up about $500 worth of crackers in order to give the local a scare that he would remember.

Ward Douglas, the insurance agent who has been doing Pendleton lately with so much success, left for Weston yesterday, accompanied by Dr. Vincent, to exercise his persuasive powers on the people of that burg, returning on last evening's train. Mr. Douglas is universally acknowledged to be the best life insurance crusader that ever set foot in Eastern Oregon.—E. O.

CONSULTING SURELY CURED.—To the editor: Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy free to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send their express and post office address. T. A. SLOCUM, M. THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT. Office of Comptroller of the Currency. Washington, Dec. 31st, 1888.

Whereas, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the National Bank of Heppner, in the town of Heppner, in the county of Morrow and state of Oregon, has complied with all the provisions of the Statutes of the United States, required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of Banking;

Now therefore, Jesse B. Abraham, Deputy Acting Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the National Bank of Heppner, in the town of Heppner, in the county of Morrow and state of Oregon, is authorized to commence the business of Banking as provided in section Fifty-one hundred and sixty-nine of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

To testify whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this 31st day of December, 1888.

J. D. ABRAHAM, Deputy and Acting Comptroller of the Currency. No. 3953.

A BIRDSEYE VIEW OF THE WORLD.

There is a widespread demand by all readers and students for a work that shall furnish compactly and attractively all the essential facts and statistics of the world as it is, and the races that inhabit them. All this information has been industriously sought, carefully tested and proved and is here presented in a handy and handsome volume by Onestine Reclus, the famous French geographer and savant.

The author has really succeeded in a surprising degree in accomplishing his purpose. It is a wonderful book and there is no other like it. It is just what this represents it to be a book all around the world, the largest intelligence and described with inimitable vigor, freshness and picturesque grace, combined with scientific and painstaking accuracy. The result is the story of the world. The more the volume is looked into the greater is the sense of its wide scope and its interest to the reader. It is a book that should be in the hands of every man, woman and child.

It is a fact acknowledged by all "art organs," both of Europe and America that the "Eye" is the sweetest voiced, most human, most ready in tone, and quickest in response to touch of any organ manufactured in the world.

Gilliam & Coffey are prepared to fit a man out with any kind of an outfit to be found in a first-class hardware store. They will sell you nails to fix up your fence when your neighbor's cows break it down, or fix your out with kitchen tools when you get married.

Those having false teeth which do not fit can have that defect remedied by Dr. W. A. Johnston. Having procured a new recipe, he is now able to extract teeth absolutely without pain.

If you want a red pump that is not only most attractive in appearance but also able to do good service in getting the water of the Heppner hills up to the surface, call on Leezzer & Thompson.

Hunsaker and Long having enlarged their lively stable, opposite Natter's Brewery, are now better prepared to accommodate the public than ever. All seats left in their care will receive the best of attention.
