Said commissioners shall hold their office for the term of two years each, or until their successors and I presume nearly all the balance were in the same boat. The child looked so pretty, houest and innocent, no one could help from signing it. I didn't ask him, but my idea was that he wanted it as a club to hold over our heads to keep us from growing about the prices he are appointed and qualified; provided, ers, bonds, notes, etc. In the meantime, right-of way matters were freely discussed, and work commenced in due time. of said boards by resignation or otherwise, such vacancy shall be filled by the directors of the county agricultural society or association, where the vacancy occurs, but in the absence of any county agricultural organization vacance of the county of the us from growling about the prices he would have to pay. agricultural organization, vacancies It is certainly a legal document in every

Second. Why did you buy all this property and have it decided to yourself? Third. When you first came up and invited the people into your office you refused to deed the land over to the subsense of the word. No ordinary legal mind could formulate a document of that kind. For the want of a better legal scribers, and asserting it was your own and bought for your own use and benefit. At this juncture of the conversation, "Daisy" peeped out and squawked, claiming everything, and you also said you intended a job. (I can prove this.)

Fourth. Why did you come again with an unofficial statement, not itemized? Was it not done for the purpose of slipping in on the blind side of the committee to get them to sign the document, and by so doing legalize your transactions? Well, it appears the statement job didn't win. scribers, and asserting it was your own COPY.
