STAGE LEAVES FOR CANYON CITY—Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Arrives—Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

There is a saving of 16 hours in time and $10 in cash by taking this route to Canyon.

C. W. Lumlar & Co., 423, Fifth St., Portland, Or., are authorized to make advertising contracts for the GAZETTE. They will also make collections for this paper.

The photograph gallery has changed hands. W. B. and Boyd Cunningham are in town.

Mrs. F. K. Snow is visiting relatives in Seattle. Mr. Houston left yesterday for his home at Junction City.

Wool has sold in Heppner this season for 14 1/2 cents per pound. Mike Rosendorf returned to Long Creek on Monday's stage.

Mr. For will still continue to take pictures until the 10th of June. M. J. Davis, representing Hexter, May & Co., was in Heppner this week.

F. M. Pickard is slowly improving after a severe illness of several weeks. E. H. and A. M. Sloan were down from the Rock Creek saw mill this week.

Mrs. Barnes, mother of Mrs. Ben Emrick, is visiting her daughter in Heppner. All those who want Mr. For to do any work for them had better get there.

J. H. Kennedy, representing Fleischer, Meyer & Co., was in Heppner this week. Died—At Brownsville, May 17, Mrs. Hugh Fields, aged 51 years and 6 months.

H. Blackman & Co., have fitted up their business office with elegant furniture. Ben P. Scott is selling the St. Louis wrought iron range in the Heppner country.

All who visited Zamloch's entertainment last evening were more than pleased. Many nice presents were given away to holders of tickets. He shows again this evening, and the fun-loving folks should not fail to be there. This is not a paid notice.

Gen. W. S. Harney died at Orlando, Florida, on the 9th of May, lacking only about three months of being 80 years of age. He was placed on the retired list in 1863. After his retirement he lived in St. Louis, but was on a visit to Florida at the time of his death.

W. R. Ellis returned from attendance on several others, "cool" country on last Sunday. Mr. Ellis informs us that Ed. Harbin got 5 years in the "pen" on two charges of horse stealing this term. He had the reputation of being a good judge of carcasses for some years.

Geo. T. Davis, the veteran wool buyer for S. Koshland & Co. of San Francisco, is now in the market. Mr. Davis will probably be a wool buyer here. He has arranged to have his wools graded and baled here and will ship directly to New York instead of San Francisco as heretofore.

A painter, a recent arrival to Heppner, was arrested last Saturday evening for disorderly conduct, brought on by liberal politics of valley talk. He was said to have made some incendiary threats while under the influence of drink, and was given the choice of either leaving the town or a fine. He accepted the former.

Engineer Kinnard, assisted by F. Mitchell and others, began the work of surveying the Heppner and Monument road on last Monday. The survey begins in the middle of the street, between Mitchell and Hall's corners, and the boys are getting towards Monument as rapidly as wind and weather will permit.

D. A. Hendricks, who went east of the mountains a month or so ago, has purchased an interest in the Home Press at Centerville, the town which will be known hereafter as Athena, in Umatilla county, and proposes to become a full-fledged newspaper man. Mrs. Hendricks started a few days ago to join him at Centerville—Salem Statesman.

Fred J. Hallack came up from Portland last week to visit his wife and relatives here. Fred accepted a position with Saver & Walker's branch house at Pomeroy, as mentioned in last week's GAZETTE, but owing to newspaper duties which he was assuming at that time, he was unable to leave Portland at once, so the firm were compelled to secure the services of some one else.

AN INCIDENT OF THE STORM.—A young man driving team for C. A. Rhea attempted to cross Willow creek on the bridge below town on last Thursday, and had to swim for the bank. The rains of last week had converted the peaceful stream to a torrent, and when he drove on the bridge it went down to the bottom and he was unable to get it out. The team broke loose from the wagon and struck out for the ranch on Rhea creek. The driver followed and the wagon being discovered a few hours afterward without either horses or driver, led to the impression that the latter had been drowned; but with some aid, succeeded in landing wagon and contents on the bank.

IN DISGUISE.—An apparent stranger ventured to give our reporter some information on the Heppner and Monument wagon road last Monday. He smiled and extended his hand, but the reporter could not remember having met the gentleman. Finally the former ventured to ask if it was not Fry Wilson, one of the road commissioners. He answered in the affirmative, and then the bystanders all laughed. Fry is as beardless as a boy, and has a pugilistic cut on his hair. His friends are anxious regarding his welfare, and advise him to remain in Heppner a few weeks before venturing out to his John Day home.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—Geo. Harrington had a narrow escape from drowning below town last week. He was returning from the Rhea creek section, where he had been on duty connected with the sheriff's office, and arriving at Willow creek, he found the stream bank full. Deeming it best to ascertain the depth of the water before attempting to ford, he procured a pole and was in the act of sounding the turbulent stream, when the tank caved in, leaving George to swim for it. He finally landed in fair condition and is none the worse for his experience, although it is certainly a form of bathing not to be recommended.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection and that dread disease, consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send, free of charge, a copy of the prescription used, which will find a sure cure for consumption, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung maladies. He hopes all his readers will remember this is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address, Mrs. C. A. Sloan, W. C. Williamsburg, Kings county, New York.

AN INCIPIENT BLAZE.—On last Saturday, Guy, the little four year-old son of W. G. Byer, who was visiting at the home of his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mitchell, in playing with matches, kindled a fire, and before it was discovered, was in a fair way to make quite a blaze. Prompt measures, however, prevented such a catastrophe, yet the bed, bedding, some clothing and furniture were destroyed.

CONSUMPTIVES SURELY CURED.—To his subscribers, and to our readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy free to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send their express and post office address. T. A. SLOAN, M. D., 181 Pearl St., New York, N. Y.

WALLA WALLA WA-WA.
WALLA WALLA, May 7, 1889.
Editor Gazette:
The copious showers which have fallen the past few days gives us a double assurance of the largest wheat yield that was ever known in this fair northwest, and as a consequence the farmers hearts are made glad and all nature smiles.

Col. C. B. Reynolds and wife have arrived and will make this city their future home. The Colonel delivered his first lecture Sunday afternoon, at 2 p. m., on "Mormonism," at Small's opera house, to a large, enthusiastic assembly. Mrs. Reynolds delivered the evening address, taking for her theme "Woman's Past, Present and Future." The hall was jammed and standing room was at par. She made many striking points, which drew out the admiration and applause of every one present. Clark Braden is also lecturing in the city and is using every effort to tear down the stronghold of liberalism, while Col. Reynolds is equally earnest in the maintenance of the same. Clark Braden has challenged the Colonel to a public discussion, but the Colonel politely declined, not wishing to make a public exhibition of himself.

There are a good many public improvements going on at present, among which the Baumeister building figures prominently. A project is on foot to construct a new hotel. This is something Walla Walla needs worse at present than anything else. Unless a person engages their bed by sunset they will have the pleasure of parading the streets all night, which is no uncommon occurrence in this city.

The tide of immigration which is constantly flowing in has given Walla Walla a boom which she has never experienced before. G. W. Hunt has done this place a vast amount of good, and our prosperity is largely due to the construction of the O. & W. T. R. R., which gives us direct communication with Sound points. A Eureka Flat farmer informed your correspondent that he subscribed $500 to the Hunt subsidy and that he had been repaid a hundred fold so far in freights alone, notwithstanding his property has increased double in valuation. The The Waitburgites and Daytonites have failed to raise the amount asked by Gen. Hunt and it is now thought that the proposed line to those places have been abandoned for the present. An excursion, Sunday, over the Hunt road to Pleasant View promises to be a very pleasant event.

Dr. Clowe invited your correspondent to accompany him into the country the other day to witness a Cæsarian surgical operation, which required the skill of a master hand to perform. "Upon whom are you going to operate?" innocently queried the reporter. "One of the loveliest women in the land," was the prompt reply. "And you would let me witness the operation?" "Certainly, all reporters are allowed such privileges." "Very well, then, I will accompany you." The doctor and the reporter were soon seated in a buggy, and after a half hour's drive were upon the scene of action. The doctor threw off his coat as if he was going to maul rails and warned the reporter to keep very quiet, lest he should disturb the poor sufferer, who was apparently resting very easy. The doctor then led the unsuspecting reporter up to a log corral and introduced him to a sick saw that he was going to operate on, which was quite necessary to save life.

The reporter turned on his heels and hastily retreated for town and swore that he would avenge himself on the doctor for this little joke, if it took him a life time and cost him a fortune.

An ordinance defining the duties of and fixing the salary of marshal was passed.
An ordinance regulating the town's road taxes was passed.
An ordinance to license, tax and regulate retail druggists and solicitors was passed.

The committee on ordinances requested to amend the ordinance regarding the streets, shops, etc.
Council adjourned.

THE CALIFORNIA WOOL MARKET.—Heppner is becoming quite a wool market, and every live citizen will certainly give all the encouragement possible to have it continue as such. Wool is selling in Heppner at a better price than the same quality commands in San Francisco. The suspension of the Pioneer Woolen Mills at the latter place last week, has the effect of decreasing a limited market. Consignors of this season's clip to the Triaco market will ultimately be compelled to ship east to direct shipment to the latter market was made from Heppner. Sheepmen should bear this in mind and look well to their interests.

Mrs. H. C. Rosmus and daughter, Mrs. G. W. Brotherton, returned to Walla Walla last week. Rev. G. J. Barlett, state missionary of the Baptist church, is in Heppner attending the association.

Mrs. Harry Rosmus is still quite ill at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Saff of Walla Walla.

The occasion is dead ripe for some agitation on the matter of celebrating the coming 4th of July in Heppner.

The Gazette learns that Arthur Smith has received a rain gauge and is otherwise qualified as a weather sharp.

The supreme court has declared the Scott law unconstitutional. Hereafter Chinese returning to China must stay there. This decision has been long waited for and is considered final.

John Allison, a poker dealer, was convicted of forgery in the District court last Tuesday, and was given his choice of $10 and costs, or five days in jail. He chose the latter.
