ANDREW ROOD, 83, DIES AT HOME HERE

Pioneer Resident Fails to Recover From Flu- Pneumonia Attack.

WAS G. A. R. VETERAN

A Native of Norway, He Fought in
Many Battles of Civil War;
Marched With Sherman.

Andrew Rood, Civil war veteran and long a resident of this county, succumbed to an attack of flu-pneumonia at his home in this city early Saturday morning. Though past 83 years of age, Mr. Rood's rugged constitution held up bravely under the ravages of the attack, and apparently he had succeeded in throwing off the malady. So much of his vitality had been used up in fighting the disease, however, that he was unable to recuperate, and the end followed, after a brief struggle.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Church of Christ, Milton W. Bower, pastor, officiating. Interment followed in the family plot in Masonic cemetery. A very large concourse of friends, neighbors and relatives honored the passing of this, one of the very few remaining G. A. R. veterans in this county, and the casket was surrounded by a great floral tribute. The remains were reverently placed beside the grave of his twin brother, E. D. Rood, who died in 1918, and other members of his family preceding him who are buried here.

Andrew Rood, the last member of his family to remain on this earth, was born in Norway, January 22, 1843, and died in Heppner, Oregon, March 13, 1926, being aged 83 years, 1 month and 21 days. His mother died in Norway and his father with four boys came to America, settling in Wisconsin in 1850. His father died when he and his twin brother, Edward, were 11 years old. Growing to manhood in the state of Wisconsin, he enlisted in the Union army March 2, 1862, and fought through the great battles of Winchester and Antietam. He was in all engagements of Sherman's army on his march through Georgia and the Carolinas, and was discharged at Goldsboro, North Carolina, his time having expired. On being discharged from the army Mr. Rood followed mining for a while in Idaho, and also worked at railroad construction in Washington. He came to Oregon in 1873 and to Morrow county in 1874, engaging first in sheepraising on what is now the Jeff Jones place on Rhea creek, later settling in Rood canyon where for many years he followed farming and stockraising, making a success of his calling. He retired from the farm in 1913, and has since resided in Heppner.

In 1879 he was united in marriage to Millie Terrance Stewart at Hillsboro, Oregon, on October 2. To this union five children were born: Frank, who died April 13, 1906; Andrew, Jr., who died Feb. 2, 1926; and the remaining children, Millie, Walter and Harry, all of Heppner. Mrs. Rood preceded him on May 28, 1913.

Besides E. D. Rood, a twin brother, who died in Portland, Oregon, November 1, 1918, two other brothers preceded Mr. Rood. Louis, an older brother, died at Hillsboro, Oregon, November 1, 1910, and John, who died at Appleton City, Mo., in 1920, aged 79 years.

Andrew Rood was a highly respected citizen of Heppner and Morrow county, and a successful business man. He was long a member of the Knights of Pythias, having possessed a veteran's jewel for 25 years of continuous membership in the order. He leaves a large circle of friends here, who will ever remember him as a reliable friend and kindly neighbor.

JOHN AUGUST LOVGREN.

John August Lovgren was born near Halifax, Kan., August 28, 1880. He came to this county with his parents in 1888 and resided here till his death. In 1910 he was married to Elsie J. Harris and to this union were born three sons, Andrew, Merle and Dean. After a serious illness of many months he died at Hot Lake sanitarium at Hot Lake, Oregon, on Wednesday, March 10, 1926, aged 45 years, 6 months and 15 days. He leaves to mourn him besides his widow, three sons and a host of friends, two sisters, Mrs. L. P. Davidson of Ione, and Mrs. Emma Johnson of Condon, and two brothers, E. E. and F. M. Lovgren of Heppner. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the family burial grounds near Hardman, at which a large concourse of friends and relatives were present.

Decorations in anticipation of St. Patrick's day were carried out throughout the evening. High honors for bridge went to Mrs. F. E. Farrior, Mrs. B. P. Stone, as visitors, and to Dr. F. E. Farrior and Mrs. Wendel Cleveland as members. The worthy Matron wishes to express her sincere thanks to all the members and friends of the order whose assistance contributed to the success of the affair. Fifty-seven dollars was cleared from the sale of tickets. The Eastern Star Social Club donated five dollars more, making a total of sixty-two dollars to be sent from this chapter toward furnishing the new children's cottage at the Masonic and Eastern Star Home at Forest Grove.

Heppner Streets Get Gratis Improvement

An interested group of spectators was attracted to Willow street shortly before noon yesterday by an unusual sight on the streets of Heppner. A long, narrow, bony, iron monster, humped much like a dromedary, and with teeth dragging out of its very middle, was growling, grating and groaning over the highway between Main and Gale streets, tearing up the earth like an angry hyena.

On investigation the phenomena was found to be a Wehr grader and scarifier connected up with a Fordson tractor. The machine was brought to Heppner for the purpose of demonstration before the city fathers and county court. F. A. Perkins, representative of Mitchell, Lewis & Staver Co., of Portland, had charge of the demonstration, in conjunction with Latourell Auto Co. of this city.

Considerable discussion was had as to the weight of the rig, guesses going all the way from two to eight tons, and to clear up all argument, Mr. Perkins has given out the exact weight, 9460 pounds. With power enough to tear up waterbound macadam, it is claimed this unit, operated solely by one man, will do 25 miles of highway maintenance to 5 miles with the old horse-drawn grader. Average cost of operation is said to be $8.50 per day. Its representatives claim that more of these machines are in use in this territory than any other tractor-drawn grader, more than 100 now being used in Oregon and Washington.

The block on which the demonstration was made yesterday was scarified and graded up in just an hour, and many favorable comments on the work were overheard.

Traffic Violators Picked Up on Streets Sunday

Marshall Devin made a cleaning of traffic violators on the streets of Heppner last Sunday. By standing on the street corners and checking the cars, some half dozen violations were noted. Drivers were stopped and presented a slip, which in the office of City Recorder Gordon called for a fine of 50 cents.

The majority of violations were cutting the corners on intersections, and though this is deemed a minor offense the marshal believed motorists should be made aware of the fact that it is a violation of a city ordinance none the less, and took this means of reminding them of it.

IONE STARTS BALL CLUB.

A baseball meeting was held in Ione last Sunday and steps were taken toward organizing a baseball team for the coming season. Walter E. Cochran was elected manager. A benefit dance will be given at Ione next Saturday night, the 20th. The Dances orchestra will play. Everyone is cordially invited.

HIGH SCHOOL ITEMS

Baseball.

Baseball season rolls around and the boys once again don their uniforms and prepare for another successful season. A meeting of all the boys interested in baseball was held Monday afternoon in Coach Finch's room after which the suits were issued.

About eighteen boys are turning out this year and Mr. Finch says he will have a championship team.

Numerous colds and the prevalence of the "flu" have made a decided inroad upon the high school attendance. A dozen or more of the students have been out each day, and several members of the faculty have also been victims of the mild epidemic.

Following a Hobbich staff meeting last Thursday a work chart was posted in the library. Each week the duties of each staff member for that period will appear upon the chart, opposite his name. If he has his work in when it is due he receives a red credit mark. If his work is not complete when the chart check is made, he will receive a black mark.

Miss Mary Van Vector, a graduate of Heppner high was a visitor at school the first of the week, coming here from her home in The Dalles.

Members of the sophomore English class celebrated St. Patrick's day by writing accounts of the legends and traditions connected with the old saint and any other bits of stories peculiar to the day.

At the close of school Friday afternoon a Freshman surprised the upper-classes and sophomores by announcing that the entire student body was invited to a party to be given by the freshmen in the school basement Saturday evening.

All day Saturday the freshmen busied themselves decorating the basement and carrying carts to the school house. In the evening the party began with festive telling by Dorothy Herren. Fearful and wonderful were the fates outlined for the guests. Jack Casteel mastered a jig, and the freshmen boys favored the party with songs and orchestral numbers.

New file cards for the library books have been received and are replacing the old ones. Formerly two cards, one for the title and one for the author, were required, but the new cards are a combination of the two. Additional new books have been catalogued and placed on the shelves. On the back of each book a black stripe is being painted, and on this the white numerals will stand out much more plainly than they did with the old lettering system.

In last Friday's class meeting the juniors discussed plans for raising money to finance the annual junior-senior banquet to be given some time in May. Most of the members of the class favored the presentation of a play, but it is uncertain whether or not its production will be feasible.

The Junior and sophomore English classes have recently begun the study of new classics. The juniors are studying "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," a story of dual personality by Robert Louis Stevenson, and the sophomores are reading Dickens' "A Tale of Two Cities," a novel of the French Revolution.

Summer Training Camp To be at Vancouver, Wn.

Citizens Military Training Given Last
Year at Camp Lewis Will be Offered 500 Boys.

Vancouver Barracks, Wash., Mar. 17.—Active preparations for the Citizens' Military Training camp to be held at Vancouver Barracks from June 18 to July 17 are under way at the present time and a complete tent camp, equipped with showers, bath houses, kitchens and mess halls will be in place ready for the 500 boys who are expected to take advantage of the opportunity for military and citizenship training during the vacation months.

A training camp was authorized for Vancouver Barracks by the war department for the first time this year. The camp here will be substituted for the infantry camp heretofore held at Camp Lewis, Washington, and will be the largest infantry camp in Washington or Oregon. The C. M. T. C. was allocated to Vancouver Barracks because of its central position in the northwest and because of the fact that the Seventh U. S. Infantry, one of the oldest veteran organizations in the United States army, is quartered at Vancouver. The post is held to be favorably located and equipped for the training of young men.

The camp is open for boys between the ages of 17 and 24 inclusive, for the basic course. The age limit for the advanced courses is 31. Boys of average intelligence who are able to pass the physical examination will be admitted. Expense of going to camp and returning home will be paid by the government, and each boy will be furnished with uniform, food and shelter while at camp. Applications may be secured by writing to General Paul A. Wolf, Vancouver Barracks, Washington.

Crossley to Stop Here On Tour of the State

Portland, Ore.—Colonel James J. Crossley will visit Heppner next Friday in a swing through Eastern Oregon that will take him to the Idaho line. The colonel is making speeches and visiting the voters in the interest of his candidacy for the republican nomination for the United States senate.

Friends of Col. Crossley are circulating his nominating petition in nearly every section of the state. Already "Crossley for Senator" clubs have been formed in 28 Oregon counties and steps are being taken to organize the other districts. He is going very strong in the country sections and his support is growing every day, according to his friends here in close touch with his campaign.

Upon his return from Eastern Oregon, Col. Crossley will issue his platform. His 100-word statement of what he advocates follows:

"I will vigorously support the 18th amendment to the constitution; punish major violations of Volstead act by penitentiary sentence; favor national legislation for co-operation of state and federal governments in developing Oregon resources, reclamation, irrigation of arid lands, reforestation, creation of opportunity for industrial activity, more payrolls, just compensation for labor, veterans' relief, federal reimbursement of taxes, Roosevelt highway. I will support measures for Oregon port development and maintenance of waterways for vessels of largest tonnage. Stabilization of market prices for farm products as for industrial products." The Crossley slogan is "Effective prohibition; agricultural legislation; ports, labor, industries; federal reimbursement taxes; veterans' relief."

MISSIONARY WILL GIVE TALK.

The Rev. H. L. Cauright, who is recently from China, and is spending his furlough in a series of lectures in the Oregon Conference, will be here Monday night, March 22nd, and speak in the Community Methodist church at 7:45 o'clock. Every church is very much alive, at this time, to the progress and outcome of their missionary enterprises in that most interesting and least understood country. What is China doing today, what will she do tomorrow? No one knows. Because Rev. Cauright is familiar with recent events he can help you guess. All missionary societies and interested persons are invited to hear this talk. We are asked only for an offering for traveling expenses.

RECEIVE DODGE SHIPMENT.

The Cohn Auto company this week received a carload of new Dodge cars, which they now have on display at their garage. Dodge Brothers are featuring the new all-steel body on their cars, and the Cohn Auto company gladly invite inspection of this and other new features of these cars.

This Week

The Grand Canyon. Gas Bombs at Home. 3000 Bullseyes. Mushing for Gold.

This is written with scenery. On the left the sun is sinking, an Arizona sunset. Come out here, if you want to know how it looks. On the left the moon is up, gaining color, as the sun goes down. And from this spot you could walk a few feet, then jump down one mile. This is the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, with its thousands of towers, mountains, forts, peaks of every shape and color, rising up from the canyon's floor one mile down.

The western horizon is a rim of gold, the farwell effort and defiance of the sun, rolling down to China. And the canyon below is changing its colors and shadows, obedient to fading sunlight and growing moonlight. It would be worth your while to see that. Shadows and bands of color a mile high, exposed layers of old earth that took millions of centuries to build laid bare by the rushing waters each with its own color and character, each an open book to the geologist, showing exact age as plainly as you read it in a painted face.

A genuine artist, with soul, temperament and similar things, would be sick and probably faint if he could look up from these typewriter letters, carefully padded with rubber, toward the east and west. Below the pale moon, almost full, the sky is dark rose purple. Below the purple there is a dark broad band of heavy blue. The moon, queen of heavens, rides in triumph on a colored throne as wide as the sky.

Somebody should warn owners of mills in Passaic that they are running risks. This nation was interested when gas bombs first appeared in the big war. It will not be pleased to hear of employers fighting a strike, legal in character, using gas bombs against their workers, and turning heavy streams of cold water on women and children, when tear gas failed to do the work.

Now the workers have bought two thousand gas masks to be ready for the next attack, which is not pleasant reading in this prosperous republic. We are doing pretty well here; industrialists are not exactly starving to death. They should warn those Passaic idiots against upsetting the apple cart. Employers have considerably more to lose than employees in the game of violence.

A solemn Washington dispatch says the President and Cabinet discussed the Wall Street scare, and "President Coolidge let it be known that he felt there was nothing taking place in the business world symptomatic of a let-up in the present prosperity."

The trouble, just "nervous prosperity" among those of the gamblers, afraid of their own profits.

The revised income tax rate will bring hundreds of millions out of the income tax pool non-taxable securities, and business will boom more than ever.

You read of young Americans going to the dogs via the Charleston, jazz and beetle whiskey. Then Samuel Moore, seventeen-year-old captain of the high school rifle team at Newton, Mass., reassures you with his new world's record.

That young gentleman, it sounds unbelievable, made three thousand consecutive bullseyes between eight o'clock in the morning and five in the evening. Neither Charleston nor premature hootch has ruined that young man's nerves.

The world has been much explored since and before the days of Marco Polo, and the exploring goes on. Ten expeditions are about to start for the polar regions, some to find the Pole again, others to seek new lands, and, perhaps, oil, gold, etc. Others go in the interest of science.

In Canada frozen roads are packed with gold seekers, defying the temperature fifty degrees below zero, in a new gold rush; gold seekers, mushing in dog sleds, racing to the new strike where "gold is showing over a stretch of country five miles in length, with good ground still untested." It won't remain untested long. Say "gold" and people move as when you cry "fire."

To Whom It May Concern:

I purchased from the Peoples Hardware Company last year, a Case 14-ft. Combined Harvester. I am very well pleased with this machine and can say that it did the best job of threshing of any harvester that have ever seen. It is a saver of grain and money to the user and is a cheap means of harvesting. Our expenses for the season's run, outside of gas and oil, were only $2.25 for the machine and the cost per acre of harvesting was less than a dollar.

I recommend the Case machine and know that it delivers the goods.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES B. COX.
