

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HERREIM, Correspondent.

Jephtha M. Kelly passed away on Wednesday, March 10, at Hermiston after a short illness. He was taken ill with pneumonia here at his home and rushed to Hermiston where he could have proper medical attention, but because of his advanced age he could not withstand the ravages of the disease. Mr. Kelly was born in California in 1854, and would have been 72 years of age had he lived until August. In 1889 he was married to Miss Mamie Kenella of California. To this union was born one son Alvin J. Kelly of Boardman, who survives. Mr. Kelly and son Alvin came to Boardman in February, 1920, so were both pioneers on the project. They have a ranch on the east end. Funeral services were held Friday at the Boardman Community church with Rev. Young of Hermiston in charge. Pallbearers were Nick Faler, F. F. Klitz, Leslie Packard, Paul Smith, J. R. Johnson and A. B. Chaffee. There were many beautiful flowers from friends. Mrs. Ada Goodwin and Miss Letta Barlow sang several selections accompanied by Mrs. Lee Mead. Interment was in the Boardman cemetery.

Alvin wishes to express his thanks to the Boardman friends for their many kindnesses to him during his father's illness and after his death. Friends are glad to know that Guy Barlow who has been seriously ill with mumps is now much improved. Mr. Shell, who has been lingering at the point of death for the past two weeks, is reported to be holding his own with small chances of recovery. He is past 70 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Warner and Leo Root and wife motored to Pendleton the early part of the week, the two men going up to consult their physicians. Mr. Warner continues about the same. Mr. Root, who has been taking treatments for his eye, is much better. The eye is clearing up and it is thought vision will soon be normal. He lost the sight of one eye as a result of a severe attack of small pox.

G. E. Hendricks visited at the home of his daughter, Mrs. B. B. Lewis, Friday on his return to Irrigon from Portland.

Robert Wilsons, who have been in quarantine with smallpox, were released Sunday.

Rev. Swogger is afflicted with the mumps, as is Ralph Davis. The Boardman are also quarantined with mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Knauff motored to Hermiston Saturday and called on Mr. and Mrs. Shell.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Root and Mrs. W. H. Mefford were Hermiston visitors Saturday. Mrs. Wood was in charge of the postoffice during their absence.

Mrs. Gladys Gibbons returned Sunday from a pleasant trip to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingvaard Skobo and two children returned Friday from a most wonderful trip to their old home in Denmark. Mrs. Skobo and children have been there for the past year and Mr. Skobo went over just before Christmas. They had a stormy voyage home which rather marred the pleasure of their return. They visited a brother of Mrs. Skobo's in Boston after landing here. They all enjoyed the trip but are glad to be back in the good old U. S. A.

Mr. Harvey of Hermiston who recently purchased the Hermiston Herald was a Boardman visitor Sunday. There have been some miserable folks in Boardman the past week and some sore arms and legs as a result of the numerous vaccinations. There's one advantage tho—one doesn't have to be quarantined during the time and can have company, which is impossible if in quarantine. A few of the vaccinations "took" with such a vengeance that some alarm was felt.

LEXINGTON

Early Monday morning sad news came to the Lexington relatives and friends of William Wright. A telegram flashed the word that his life had slipped out following an operation in a Portland hospital. Mr. Wright, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Wright, and grandson of Mayor and Mrs. W. R. Munkers, had been a long-time sufferer from stomach trouble. With his mother he left last week for Portland where he expected to be benefited by the operation which resulted in his death. The remains arrived in Lexington on Tuesday evening. The bereaved relatives have the deep sympathy of our entire community.

P. W. Allison with his daughters Marie and Lora and his little son Perry drove up from Hood River Friday and paid Lexington friends and relatives a short visit.

E. C. Miller was up from Salem last week. He was looking after business and visiting the while at the ranch homes of his sons, John, Harvey and Carl.

When Karl Beach made his usual week-end trip to Walla Walla Saturday last he was accompanied by Earl Warner to Weston, and by Mrs. O. J. Cox to Pendleton.

Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Jones and children drove Friday to Hermiston where they enjoyed an over-night visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Warner. Mr. and Mrs. Warner are operating a dairy ranch near Hermiston.

Ms. Ernest Frederickson and small daughter left on the O.-W. R. & N. Sunday for Salem where Mrs. Frederickson conducts a boarding house. They have been spending some days here with Mr. Frederickson who is assisting at the Gerald White ranch. Mrs. Ola Ward came up from Portland last week to assist in the care of her sister, Mrs. Eva Lane who is convalescing following an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Slocum, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Strootman and Miss Pearl Vail attended the O. E. S. bridge party at Masonic hall, Heppner, on Friday evening.

"Maid and Middy," Heppner high school musical comedy, afforded an evening of thorough enjoyment to a number driving from Lexington last Tuesday evening.

Radio lovers were pleased on Friday evening to hear broadcast over station KOWW at Walla Walla a delightful piano solo by Harold Beach. Harold is a student in Walla Walla high school.

To the People of Lexington:

Having resigned the position of pastor of the Christian church of Lexington effective after Easter Sunday, I wish to take this means of expressing the sincere appreciation of myself and family for the earnest cooperation and consideration shown us during our stay among you. We are leaving Lexington to take up the work of the Lord in the field at Helix the week following Easter Sunday, and extend a minivitation to all to visit us at any time.

WALLACE JONES.

A mixture of one-third clarified suet and two-thirds lard makes an ideal fat for frying.

Cereals and bread compose from one-fifth to two-fifths of the total food allowance for many housewives. It is not necessary to add fat when panbroiling steak. If the pan is hot enough the meat will not stick.

If the meat is wiped with a damp cloth before roasting any dirt or foreign matter that may have been on the surface will be removed. If it is placed in water part of the juice is drained from the meat.

The fundamental principle of carving is to cut across the grain except for a few tender meats. This cuts the fibers and makes the meat more tender. A stringy piece of meat is the result of cutting with the grain.

One rule for the apportionment of expense among the different groups of food is in every dollar spent, 20 cents or less is for meat, eggs, and fish; 20 cents is for milk; 20 cents or more is for cereals and bread; 20 cents or less is for vegetables and fruit, 20 cents or less is for fats, sugar, and other groceries.

The Willing Workes of the Christian church are planning a roasted chicken dinner which they will give in the parlors of the church on April 9th, in connection with an apron sale.
