

Local Happenings

Vawter Crawford, publisher of the Heppner Gazette Times, accompanied his son, W. V. Crawford, Jr., who is salesman for the Remington cash register, over the first trip through Central Oregon for the veteran publisher of the paper at Heppner. They drove over this territory and the elder Mr. Crawford obtained a first hand knowledge of Central Oregon conditions that will be useful to him.—Central Oregonian, Prineville. As the state editorial association is to meet at Prineville in June, the editor of this paper is hoping to make another visit to that beautiful little city at that time, and we shall be disappointed if we fail to make connections.

George Cason returned on Sunday from a visit to Lone Rock, where he has many relatives living. He states that everything is coming along fine over that way and present indications point to one of the best seasons experienced in many years. Coming out by way of Arlington, Mr. Cason states that the grain on Shutter Flat seemed to be suffering from the recent hot spell, this being especially true toward the north end. However, we opine that the rains of this week will be of great benefit to that section of Gilliam county, as they have been to the grain fields of Morrow county, similarly situated.

W. E. Mikesell received some severe injuries while at work at the power house on Friday evening. He was struck on the head by the crank of the winlass when they were raising a part of the pump fixtures from the well, and a gash was cut over his eye that required several stitches to be closed. The force of the blow was sufficient to put Mr. Mikesell to sleep for a few moments, but he soon recovered and felt better after Dr. McMurdo had fixed him up.

Chris Brown, who has been a patient at Hot Lake for several weeks, receiving treatment for a general breakdown, is reported to be getting along well and expects to be able to return home in about ten days. Mrs. Brown, who was in the city Monday forenoon, states that the grain on their place is coming along in excellent shape and had not suffered in the least from the recent hot wave. The big rain on Tuesday has assured the crop.

Miss Frances Parker closed a very successful term of school at Hurricane creek last Friday and after visiting a few days in Joseph, left early Tuesday morning for her home at Heppner. Miss Parker will attend the summer term of normal school at Monmouth, returning to Joseph early in September to begin her third year at Hurricane creek.—Joseph Herald.

The Gazette-Times force is under lasting obligations to L. Van Marter for a fine mess of trout on Friday of this week. Van made a trip out on Butter creek and landed the limit of speckled beauties on Thursday, and the G-T families certainly enjoyed the treat presented them.

Mrs. John H. Hayes drove up from Portland on Saturday, coming for Mr. Hayes, who has been spending a few weeks here at the Hayes ranch on Butter creek. They returned to their home in the city on Sunday.

Leonard Barr motored to Portland on Tuesday for a visit with Mrs. Barr who is located in the city. He was accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Buschke.

Mrs. Eugene Penland, who has been spending a few weeks at Heppner, looking after property here, departed for her home in Portland on Sunday. She has rented the place to Mr. and Mrs. Orve Rasmus and they moved into the home this week from the apartment in the Gilman building. Calling at this office on Saturday evening, Mrs. Penland left with us a very beautiful bouquet of roses plucked from the bushes on her Heppner property, and we agree with her that there could be none finer than those produced anywhere—not excepting those grown in the Rose City.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Githens arrived at Heppner from Portland on Thursday evening last for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Crawford. Mr. and Mrs. Githens expect to spend a few months in Oregon this summer from their home at Berkeley, Calif., Mr. Githens having secured work at his trade of carpenter in Portland. He returned to the city on Monday and Mrs. Githens remained here for a more extended visit with her daughter and family.

Mrs. Ray Smith of Portland, sister of Mrs. Dean Goodman, has been spending the past week in this city during the very serious illness of Mrs. Goodman. Mrs. Smith returned to her home today. Mr. Smith and son, who accompanied her to Heppner, returned home on Sunday. Dean, Jr., accompanied his aunt to Portland to remain until his mother is better.

A. C. Ruby, importer and dealer in fine horses, was a visitor in Heppner from his home at Portland on Friday, having matters of business to attend to here. He returned home the same day, being accompanied by Mrs. Frances Rood, who was called to the city on business in connection with the estate of her late husband, Andy Rood, Jr.

Frank Everson and wife of Ione were visitors in Heppner for a short time on Tuesday. Mr. Everson is farming a part of the R. McElligott place south of Ione and says the crop outlook is good.

Jason Biddle was doing business in the city on Monday. He was patiently waiting for the promised rain to strike his section, and it came in abundance Monday night and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Curran, Mr. and

Mrs. Alfred Knotts, Miss Alfa Knotts and Miss Laura Wallace will go to Heppner Friday to spend the week end with friends.—Pilot Rock Record.

Frank Engleman of Ione was visiting in the city Monday and called on his niece, Mrs. Zena Westfall, graduate nurse at the Morrow General hospital.

Miss Fleming, graduate nurse of The Dalles, is assisting for this month at the Morrow General hospital.

Former Heppner Resident Dies at Portland Home

Elizabeth Neville, aged 74 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary A. Neville at 367 N. 27th street, Portland, on Sunday, May 2nd. She is survived by her four children, Mrs. Mary A. Neville, Mrs. Elizabeth Mosley and J. C. Neville of Portland and D. O. Neville of Rigby, Idaho, besides one granddaughter, Miss Katherine E. Neville, also of Portland.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at St. Patrick's church in Portland, with interment at Mount Calvary cemetery. Mrs. Neville was formerly a resident of this city, where with her family she resided for many years before going to Portland.

REGISTRATIONS IN COUNTY.

According to the registration books in the office of Clerk Anderson, which closed on April 20, for the May primaries, there are in the county 1542 republicans, 551 democrats and 154 miscellaneous, or a total of 2247 registered voters who will be entitled to cast their votes at the coming primary without going through the formality of being sworn in. It is evident that quite a number failed to get their names on the registration books before they were closed, and these will have to go through the more tedious process on election day in order to cast their vote and become registered.

SALVATION ARMY ENVOY VISITS.

Envoy L. A. Gray on state campaign work made her annual visit to Heppner on Friday and Saturday. Envoy Gray is the only authorized solicitor for the Salvation Army in Oregon, having one assistant, Envoy Rynbergen. The envoy is a worker and covers the entire state in the year, making each point once a year.

She is also a public speaker, addressing clubs and preaching in the different churches where she happens to be on Sunday. While here last year her husband was critically ill. He is now better and able to travel with her. Our readers might be interested to know she is the mother of Ronald Gray, the little boy the Portland Oregonian featured last Christmas and for whom they succeeded in getting an artificial limb, the boy having lost his right leg last summer. She is well pleased with the hearty response she has received in Heppner this year and extends her thanks in the name of the Salvation Army.
