Pierce and Income Tax.

KLAMATH FALLS NEWS.

STATE income tax may or A may not be sound economically. The national government does not indicate that it is helping business conditions generally in the country and is substantially slashing the present rates. But aside from the economic principles of an income tax it is the straight path of insanity for Oregon. Its only efficacy is vote catching for Walter Pierce, but such votes are a serious reflection on the man's right to the place he holds.

Oregon is sandwiched in the Pacific Coast tier of states. It is not developed as is either Washington or California. Both those states are doing their best to attract eastern capital. And if Oregon wishes to divert from its own borders a greater development in favor of both those states it has only to adopt Governor Pierce's state income tax.

The republican party has a duty to perform in Oregon. That is to replace Governor Pierce by a man who is less dangerous to the growth and prosperity of the state.

Some people enjoy enemies. They enjoy the spiritual attack. Dislike rather tones them up.

But there are those, including me, who have such weak heads the least intoxicating draught of sympathy or antipathy sets them humming.

This class includes also dogs. I have just been over to see a lady who has a dog she calls Ford. Her husband is in the automobile business. I will not offend by saying what Ford looks like. There is a point of ugliness, especially in dogs, which when passed begins the realm of beauty. He is a sort of glorified microbe. But his main trait is affection.

Ford is a veritable sensitive plant. When his mistress speaks crossly to him he shrinks like a withered leaf. His light of life has gone out. He is killed. He is the picture of utter,

And when she speaks kindly he ties himself into bow-knots, leaps, runs, barks, laughs and turns somersaults. So when I say I am human as a dog, I feel to be boasting. Sympathy, ethyologically, means "suffering with," and we usually use the term for the communion of griefs only. That is good of course. It helps a lot for any one to feel sorry because you have bumped your nose. Still, it is a deal easier to share grief than joy. People who understand our moods of happiness are rarer than they that comprehend our woe. If you would be my real and longed-for friend, I pray you cultivate a capacity for sharing my lighter moments. Then I know that you are genuinely sympathetic, that between us run the cords of a unity of heart and soul that mean something. You can't escape. Sometimes you think, when you have been particularly oppressed by the woes of others, that you would be happier if you could crawl into your shell, shut out the rest of humanity and get along with your own personal joys and

There are certain goods you get from life as you go along. For instance, there is food and drink for your belly and clothes for your back, shelter for your head and money for your pocket; there is the impact of familiar things at home, the cat and the dog and the old blue china tea set; there is a cigar for a man and a new dress for a woman; there is a deal of enjoyment one way and another, but not the least considerable of all satisfactions in this vale of tears is that warmth which comes to the cockles of your heart when you meet the man who takes to you and believes in you and the woman who understands and likes you. This world would be a poor slave-pen if all appreciation were banished and there were no more greetings of friendship and fat hours of fellowship. For good or ill my friends are as part of me, and so are my enemies.
