

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HERREIM, Correspondent.

The Mabton baseball team journeyed to Boardman last Sunday and defeated the local boys by two points. The score stood 8 to 6 at the close of the game. Eldon Wilson pitched and Bobby Smith umpired.

A small fire at Blalock Island Sunday afternoon caused some quick action on the part of residents there. Some sheds and a pile of lumber were burned and the back of the large house was scorched a bit, but no serious damage was done.

A party was given Saturday night at the Nick Gaglia home at Coyote. Tatones of Arlington were guests and a number of local people. Games were played and dancing enjoyed. A bountiful luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cramer and son Basil accompanied Glen Hadley to Portland Monday.

Nels Kristensen suffered a painful accident Saturday when he ran a pitchfork tine into his arm. Altho the wound was extremely painful it is not serious.

Mr. and Mrs. James Glenn departed for British Columbia by motor after a pleasant visit at the home of Mrs. Glenn's sister, Mrs. Frank Cramer. Their home is in Sacramento, Calif.

The newly organized commercial club met again Saturday night. Interest is keen but it is a bit difficult for men to get out to a meeting after a long day in the hayfield.

Mrs. W. A. Campbell and son Dick of Portland arrived Sunday. Mrs. Campbell owns the ranch formerly occupied by the Pattices. She owns not only that forty which is under the ditch but about 200 acres above the ditch which her husband, now deceased, purchased over twenty years ago.

Essie, Georgia and Dan Snively stopped in Boardman Thursday enroute to Colfax, Wash., where they will visit their grandmother. The Snivelys lived in Boardman some years ago. Essie has been married since leaving here and was accompanied by her husband, whose name we did not learn.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Stebbins and parents of Sand Point, Idaho, stopped for a visit with O. H. Warners. They were on their way to Portland and Seattle.

Mrs. Jay Cox and children were guests Friday at the Herheim home.

E. T. Messenger's birthday was celebrated by a family dinner on Sunday with Truman Messenger and wife and Mrs. M. K. Flickinger as guests. A large birthday cake beautifully decorated was the centerpiece. On Thursday Lois celebrated her birthday with a little party, having Mary Chaffee, Mildred Allen and Elvira Johnson as guests. Lois was especially fortunate and had a second party given for her Saturday by her aunt, Mrs. M. K. Flickinger at the Flickinger home. Guests were Mat, John and Tillie Harju, A. T. and Arthur Herheim. A candle-rimmed birthday cake and other goodies made the party the sort that appeals greatly to children.

Walter Talbot was a recent guest at the J. T. Gorham home. He had been to Marshfield and was on his way to his home in Walla Walla.

The first Wednesday in August is the date for the third Silver Tea to be given by the Ladies Aid. Watch next week's issue for details.

It is rumored that trains No. 1 and No. 2 are to be discontinued. This is not yet authentic.

Mrs. A. A. Agee and Emma were guests at the Dan Ransier home Friday.

Death came Friday morning at 11:20 to Mrs. Julia Knowlton as a release from months of illness. Mrs. Knowlton had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Mefford, the past year, and during that time was practically helpless. Death came from paralysis and dropsy. Mrs. Knowlton was 72 years of age. When only 18 she was married to N. A. Knowlton who survives her. They made their home in the middle west a number of years and for the past 13 years have lived on a ranch near Hartford, Wn., a small town in the vicinity of Everett. She leaves six children, a great many grandchildren and several great grandchildren. All of her children were present at her funeral services, one daughter, Mrs. Egholm, coming clear from her home in Honolulu. Mrs. Dave Johns of Wapato, Mrs. Mefford of Boardman, Tom, Chas. and Ruel of Portland are left to mourn the departure of a good mother. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the Mefford home and the body was taken to Marysville, Wash., near Hartford, for interment. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved by all in the community.

Mrs. L. C. Cooney has been ill for several days but is improving.

Edward Skobo, the eldest son of In-gard Skobo, had one of his fingers crushed quite badly in the pump last week. Although not serious it was quite painful.

Mr. and Mrs. V. S. Keikkala and family of Hermiston were visitors at the Harju home Sunday. Margaret remained for a longer visit with her friend Tillit. Keikkalas and Harjus were formerly neighbors up near Weston before moving to the irrigated section.

"Pulling Leather" Crime In Cowboy's Lexicon

To a real cowboy, that is a buckaroo, a rider of mean horses, the supreme sin is "pulling leather."

As pulling leather consists merely in grabbing the horn of the saddle it has no particular consequence in the eyes of the layman save as a possible means of keeping off the ground and avoiding injury.

A real buckaroo, with his heart in his work and taking pride in his technique, will be thrown rather than pull leather.

Last fall at the Round-Up, No-water Slim, one of the best riders in the business, had just got piled from the back of Cal Coolidge, a gaunt, gray demon with pronounced ability along the sun-fishing lines.

Slim got up and dusted off his pants disgustedly. "Why didn't you pull leather, Slim?" asked a tall photographer who was taking in his first Round-Up. Slim looked at him in his tired, quizzical way and then looked into the blue sky knowingly.

"Did yuh see any leather up there where I was at, stranger?" Slim queried sarcastically. "Gosh dinged if I did!"

But hope springs eternal in the cowboy chest and Slim will be back at the Round-Up this year with visions of winning the bucking championship during the days of September 15, 16, 17 and 18. He has as good a chance as any, for there's many a winner who knows the taste of the arena's dust, and the best of them get piled at times.
