Let's Cooperate.

ATTENTION of the people of Heppner is brought this week to the need of water conservation that the present dry season may be gone through without undue privation.

In the past a tendency has been shown by some water users to be lax in the use of water for irrigating purposes. Some have been admonished on various occasions for irrigating outside of hours, or for negligence in turning the water off promptly with the second whistle.

It should not be necessary for the city to fine and take away the irrigating privilege from any individual, the punishment provided by city statute for offenders, if the nature of the situation is clearly understood by everyone.

Europe's Attitude Toward The United States.

IN CONNECTION with rough treatment of American tourists by French crowds, bear in mind that some American tourists are foolish. Many, as a joke, pasted French paper francs on the outside of their luggage, with hotel labels, or threw French money on the floor, to show how little they thought of it.

Those who continue the practice of using water when they are not supposed to may not only be robbing their neighbors but may be robbing themselves as well. It is to the interest of every individual to cooperate that the season may be gone through without calamity.

The Village the Cornerstone of the Nation's Foundation.

LET'S hear no more about the decay of the American village. C. Luther Fry, writing a report of the Institute of Social and Religious Research, says that, contrary to the general impression, the village of America is growing in numerical and social importance.

In the past twenty years villages have increased from five to nine times as fast as the open country population, and considerably more than the nation's population as a whole.

Mr. Fry's findings disclose the American village as the citadel of conservatism against the insurgency of farmers on one side and the radicalism of the big city wage workers on the other.

The village, of from 250 to 2500 population, is primarily a small-scale manufacturing city, according to Mr. Fry's survey. He shows that the largest single economic groups in villages are unskilled laborers, working in manufacturing plants, and "proprietors, owners and managers."

It makes a fellow sweat every time he thinks of the winter wood pile that he must arrange for. There is a hard winter ahead of us. Everybody but the editor agrees to this. For the first time since the summer that the "injins" wrote their story on the rocks in the fossil fields the blackbirds assembled in bands in early July. That is a sign. And sheep are growing a very heavy fleece and cattle taking on an extra coat of fat.

Those are also signs. Bees have put up extra special honey, and tourists are going northwest. More signs. Fish are drying up, huckleberries hiding, woodchoppers loafing and everybody predicting, all of which portend a terrible winter.—Canyon City Blue Mountain Eagle.

It should not be necessary for the city to fine and take away the irrigating privilege from any individual, the punishment provided by city statute for offenders, if the nature of the situation is clearly understood by everyone.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

LOVE IS THE BINDING TIE

WHOEVER put the words "Till death do us part" into the marriage ceremony understood life. Whoever it was understood the difference between love and passion. Passion may be for a day, and usually is, and is often succeeded by indifference or contempt. Love is a different sort of thing.

Love is based upon other things than mere physical attraction. It is something composed of esteem, regard, and many other things that depend upon something else than proximity alone. Human nature is so constituted that a man who swears to love a woman till death do them part is reasonably sure that if he behaves himself and controls himself love will be co-terminous with his life.

When passion has disappeared after a few weeks or months love remains. It is more than the residuum of passion. It is something built up upon character, and with reasonable culture it can be depended upon to endure.

In fact love is one of the most enduring things in the world. It outlives hate. It is tough, and the more storms that blow upon it the stronger it grows.

This is noticeable in mother love which can endure and outlive the greatest disappointments. Long after a child has proved himself unworthy, mother love will continue unabated.

Love does not depend altogether upon the actions of the other party, but it is inherent in the character of the person himself. Many a wife or husband keeps on loving in spite of all that is done to destroy that love.

If love were what many people understood it to be, a mere gust of passion or a wayward sentiment, there would be no sense in promising to cherish one another forever. Most of the objections to marriage are based upon the wrong conception of what makes marriage beautiful. It is not passion, but it is love.

Love often endures long after the fires of passion have expired. Those who think that love is merely infatuation are apt to flit from flower to flower, while those who conceive of love as a child of loyalty will be stable and dependable.

proportion of home ownership and native white stock compared with the city. So the village is safe and sound, a good place to live in, a good place for business, a pillar of honest Americanism. We are strong for the village and the villager.

GIVES REASONS FOR UNREST OF FARMERS

From State Market Agent. L. M. Rhoads, commissioner of the Florida state marketing bureau, published the following significant facts and comments in the State Bulletin under date of July 15:

Every time the sun sets the farmers of the United States have added $30,000,000 to the wealth of the nation, yet every day since 1910 the agricultural indebtedness has increased on an average of $1,450,000.

While only 4 per cent of the farmers and laborers on farms are in the United States, they produce 70 per cent of the corn, 60 per cent of the cotton, 50 per cent of the tobacco, 50 per cent of the citrus fruits, 25 per cent of the wheat, 20 per cent of the oats, 13 per cent of the flax and 7 per cent of the potatoes of the world.

Some European countries threaten to boycott American investors and borrow their money elsewhere. That would be a blessing to many Americans silly enough to invest in foreign bonds that may or may not be paid.

But it won't happen. Borrowing from good old "Uncle Shylock," as Europe calls him, will continue as long as Uncle will lend.

SEEKING to keep up to date is like searching for something that isn't. It is an elusive thing and changes as quickly as the fairy shades and colors of a summer sunset. Things denied one day are the adopted custom of another and then out of date.

Mr. Fry's findings disclose the American village as the citadel of conservatism against the insurgency of farmers on one side and the radicalism of the big city wage workers on the other.

convicted. Convictions were secured in every case and the violators had to pay fines and court costs. State Market Agent Spence urges farmers, dealers and retailers to observe the law and avoid expensive prosecutions.
