Dr. C. R. Donham of O. A. C. department of veterinary medicine, arrived here Wednesday morning from Corvallis. In company with County Agent Morse, he went out to the mountains where an investigation will be made concerning the trouble that causes stiffness in lambs. This disease has prevailed among the lamb bands for many years and there seems to have been nothing done that will bring relief. This trouble, while not directly fatal, causes the loss of many lambs during the season, as they become stiff and lame and drop out from the rest of the band and are lost, becoming the prey of wild animals. Dr. Donham and Agent Morse will spend some time with various bands in the county and endeavor to get at the seat of the trouble.

J. B. and I. L. Van Winkle and wife arrived here Tuesday and expect to remain in the city for some time, having opened up a studio for the making of photos in the Gilman building. They are from Winters, Calif., coming from Sunnyside, Wash., to Heppner. At Sunnyside they attended a family reunion at which all members of the family were present, an event that had not happened in twenty years. J. B. and I. L. Van Winkle are brothers of Rev. H. A. Van Winkle who a number of years ago was pastor of the Christian church here and now resides at Spokane, Wash. The Van Winkle brothers have an announcement in another column to which we call attention of our readers.

A simple wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage on Monday of last week when Rev. E. C. Alford, pastor, performed the ceremony uniting in marriage Clarence B. Stodard of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and Emma Belle St. Clare. The bride was accompanied by Mrs. Mattie Adkins, a friend of long standing, who was a witness to the ceremony. Mr. Stodard, who has timber holdings in Gilman county, was on a visit here, and the young people carried out the arrangements for the wedding while he was on this trip. They departed immediately for Coeur d'Alene where they will make their home.

State Engineer Rhea Luper and his son James were visitors here a short time on Saturday. Mr. Luper was on his return to Salem from a visit to Jordan Valley, where he had been called in connection with water rights and irrigation matters. He reports that this has been an exceedingly dry season all over the state, many water sources drying up and a general shortage prevailing. This is accounted for from the fact, Mr. Luper states, that there has not been the normal amount of snowfall and rains during the past several seasons.

Dr. A. H. Johnston, wife and mother, and Chas. Cox and wife returned on Monday from a trip to Mt. Adams, Wash., and also to Diamond and East lakes in the Deschutes country. They did not find fishing any too good, but report some catches. Dr. Johnston thinks Diamond lake the finest attraction he has yet visited in Oregon.

Mrs. Etta Shaner of Independence, Mo., is a guest this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Devin. Mrs. Shaner has been visiting for some time at Hardman, and also with friends in Portland, and she expects to remain in the Northwest for some time.

GUARD YOUR VALUABLE ARTICLES HERE

you can have SURE protection.

"Safety First" has long been a slogan that we all follow in most things. But in one respect many of us are often too careless. We do not take sufficient care of our valuables.

Day by day we read of robberies of thousands of dollars in paper and jewelry. There is only one way to combat this evil. And that is by the Safe Deposit Box in the vaults of a strong bank.

If you keep your valuables in your own home even in a supposedly secure wall safe, you are liable to heavy losses. We cannot recommend too strongly that you investigate our Safe Deposit Vaults. You will find them positively safe from burglar, fire and water. This service is exceptionally convenient and the cost is remarkably low.

Now is the time to act—before you suffer a loss. Let us show you the way to "Safety First" for your valuables. It is a practical plan that many men and women have adopted. You will find that it fits in naturally with your ideas of safety and protection.
