

Local Happenings

Joseph N. Scott of Pendleton, who is the democratic nominee for joint representative, Morrow and Umatilla counties, spent a part of Tuesday in this city in the interests of his campaign. Mr. Scott was accompanied to Heppner by Mrs. R. E. Taylor, Mrs. R. A. Welshimer, Mrs. J. T. Hale and Mrs. C. S. Keithley, the ladies coming over to attend the meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Christian church held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Parker. They returned to Pendleton Tuesday evening.

Lawrence Copenhaver, who is with the U. S. army at Honolulu, sends word to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Copenhaver, that he has not been ordered to go to China yet. When leaving with his detachment some months ago for the Sandwich Islands, he expected that they would be sent to China before now, but he thinks they will have to go, and may be on their way by this time.

Roy Neill of Pine City, who was in Heppner yesterday, reports the sale at his ranch this week of some 250 tons of alfalfa hay, receiving a price of $11 per ton. Mr. Neill will hold the balance of his hay for selling on a later market, hoping to get a better price. Alfalfa has been going at $10 per ton on Butter creek, so Mr. Neill has received the best price paid this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Jones and son Paul, accompanied by Mrs. E. R. Huston, motored to Portland the past week, where Paul had his game foot looked after by Dr. Akim. Mrs. Huston visited with her daughter, Miss Elizabeth, who she reports as rapidly improving in health. They returned home on Sunday.

The marriage of Miss Sophia Cox of Monument to Mr. Bud Knighten of Hardman was an event of Tuesday morning at the office of Judge R. L. Bengt, that official performing the ceremony. The young people will make their home at Monument for which place they departed Tuesday afternoon.

Al Troedson, wheatraiser of Morgan, was attending to business in this city on Monday. He reports but little seeding in his part of the county thus far, but expects operation to begin there soon. Rain is much needed.

Harley Adkins arrived in Heppner Tuesday morning for a visit with Heppner relatives and friends. He now lives in Portland and is employed with the O-W, R. & N. company in the freight department.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Barnard came up from The Dalles the last of the week and enjoyed a visit with friends at Heppner and Hardman. They returned to the Wasco city Monday.

E. J. Merrill of Hardman and his brother Cliff Merrill who is postmaster at Monument, were visitors in the city on Monday while attending to business affairs.

Amos Parker of La Grande was a visitor at the home of his brother, F. S. Parker of this city, for a couple of days the past week, departing on Friday morning.

NOMINEE'S WORDS DISTORTED

Effort Made to Cloud Issue With Misquotations.

(Newberg Graphic.)

Every intelligent person knows that you can pick one sentence from any book or any address and by itself give an entirely different impression from the one intended where the context and rest of the article, speech or story is included. This is what the Journal has done in the case of Mr. Steiwer's speeches.

The Journal hasn't a leg to stand on in its campaign of malignant misrepresentation. What Mr. Steiwer has been saying in his addresses when quoted in full is nothing like what the Journal has sought to indicate. We quote from his speech that our readers may know the real truth of this matter:

"Government has been good to the industrial centers of the east and northeast. Simple justice requires that the government should show sympathetic consideration for the agricultural sections of the west. There is no way of insuring success to the stouthead or indolent, but there should be a fair reward for the man of enterprise and ability, even though he is engaged in agriculture. I have favored and will favor government aid in marketing the exportable surplus crops. I believe in aiding agriculture by doing away with the unjust privileges of the industrial sections of America. We must strive for simpler government with less cost to the people."

Is there an honest voter who would want the government to undertake to make life easy for the stouthead and indolent, even though they happened to belong to the farming class? There is no class of people which has a monopoly upon either industry or the indolence of the nation. It is perfectly proper to refuse to make paupers of our people by extending government protection which would result in that sort of thing. Mr. Steiwer has made himself perfectly clear as being willing to aid agriculture and place it on a parity with other forms of industry. That is all that any honest farmer wants. Only the jingoes would promise or attempt to do more than that.

But the Journal's method in this case is simply in line with the policy which they have maintained throughout the entire campaign. They have sought to belaud everything in a mud campaign which is beginning to react against their own candidate. At the present time sentiment is crystallizing very rapidly for Steiwer because the voters realize that he is clean and that he is the best man for the position at stake.

As Important to Morrow As to Union and Umatilla

(La Grande District News.)

It is especially important to Union county who represents it in the state senate. In the district comprising

Union, Umatilla and Morrow counties there is a contest between the past and the present, May and December as it were. The Democratic candidate, Senator Henry Taylor, is nearly eighty years of age and has already served one term in the state senate. He is a most likeable and honorable old gentleman. He has been a factor in the upbuilding of Umatilla county, lived and respected by all, but his thought, his viewpoint, and his vision, are in the past. His opponent, Fred E. Kiddle of Island City, has youth, strength and present day business activities and associations which bring him in close contact with today's necessities and tomorrow's possibilities. The state's future to him is as real and necessary as is the past, the days of yesterday, to his venerable opponent. Mr. Kiddle is not a stranger to the citizens of Oregon. He has been State Commander of the American Legion, has represented Oregon at every national convention since the existence of the American Legion, and is now general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the state convention to be held in La Grande next year. Just as a matter of business Fred Kiddle should be sent to the state senate if we wish full service from the man we send to represent us in Salem during the forty days of law-making.
