Miss Marie Nadelhoffer, representing Near East Relief headquarters at Portland, is spending the week in Morrow county in behalf of that work. She addressed the congregation at the Christian church on Sunday morning and was rewarded by a liberal response in cash. In the evening she was in lone and addressed the people there at the Congregational church, and was rewarded with another good offering. She will be at Lexington on Sunday in a meeting at the Congregational church. Morrow county has been standing by the Near East Relief work faithfully for a number of years and it is hoped that this support may continue until the need has passed, which should be within another year or so. Accompanying Miss Nadelhoffer is Miss Lila Chandler of Richland, Oregon, who is assisting in the canvass of Morrow county.

John Collier, Portland attorney, is assisting attorneys S. E. Van Vactor and C. L. Sweek on the defense in the case of the State vs. E. K. Mahoney and John Kelly in circuit court here this week.

Dr. M. A. Leach came over from Pendleton on Sunday and joined Dr. A. D. McHardo for a hunting trip in the mountains, where they went on Monday to try their luck in landing a buck deer.

Percy M. Garrigues, former Heppner resident, now engaged in business in Portland, was here the first of the week. The Garrigues estate still has extensive property holdings in this city.

Among Heppner sportsmen taking in the Oregon-Washington football classic at the new Multnomah stadium in Portland Saturday were David A. Wilson, LaVerne Van Marter, Herman Hill, Carl Cason and Harold Cohn. The general consensus of opinion of those heard to express themselves is that though Oregon appeared rather flashy in the first half, they were much outshone by the Huskies. The score was 23 to 9 in favor of the northerners.

Maurice A. Frye erected a Radiola radio set at Rodeo field on Saturday, receiving the broadcast of the Oregon-Washington football game. Interested spectators at the Heppner-Umatilla high school game were thus enabled to get a full report of the big fray in Portland at the same time.

Jas. Ross and wife came in on Tuesday from their home at Corbett, Oregon, and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Latourell this week. Mr. Ross and Mr. Latourell left early Wednesday morning for a deer hunt in the mountains and expect to come back with a buck or two.

"Talk Is Cheap!"

"TALK is cheap—but it takes money to buy a farm!" Many a schoolyard argument of boyhood days has been ended with this homely bit of philosophy.

For the American telephone user, talk is truly cheap—cheaper than anywhere else in the world. But it takes money to keep his telephone service cheap and to make it ever and ever cheaper. The Bell System is devoting millions of dollars to research in order to discover economies that will partially offset the rising costs of labor and materials. It is spending nearly three-quarters of a million dollars a day for new plant, every dollar of which extends the scope of every telephone and makes every subscriber's service more valuable.

The savings of telephone users, invested in telephone securities, have helped to make the Bell System's nation-wide service the most economical, as well as the most efficient and most extensive, telephone service in the world.
