

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HERREIM, Correspondent.

Mrs. Curtis of Seattle, who has been visiting her daughters, Mrs. John Jenkins and Mrs. Leslie Packard, was a charming hostess at a delicious chicken dinner Sunday at the Highway Inn, having as guests all the members of her family here. It was a most delightful occasion. Mrs. Curtis leaves this week for her home.

The entertainment committee of the Legion and Auxiliary has planned a Halloween party to be given October 21 at Root's hall.

Elder and Mrs. Watson of Hermiston were attending services of the Adventist church here Saturday.

Glen Hadley and Chas. Goodwin, and Bert King of Portland and his brother W. O. King left Sunday morning for the country near Parkers Mill where they expected to get a deer apiece.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pruter returned last week from a two-week vacation trip to California and southern Oregon points, making the trip in their new Chevrolet truck.

Arlington defeated the Boardman locals Sunday in a football game there 19-0. Lack of practice was the chief reason.

Frank Partlow is getting along nicely and expects to return this week from Pendleton where he has been at St. Anthony's hospital since his grievous accident some time ago. He will have a bad scar across his forehead but his eyesight was unimpaired and it was found unnecessary to insert a silver plate as was at first expected.

Pete Slavin, James Farley and Pete McNamee of Heppner were visitors on the project Friday.

A dancing party was held Thursday night at George Mitchell's pavilion. About 15 attended. A chicken supper was served.

Mrs. L. G. Smith, the new owner of the Harrison ranch, brought up a truck load of furniture last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Murchie returned to Wasco Monday after several days here.

A great many Boardman people attended the Hog and Dairy show at Hermiston Saturday. Boardman housewives sent up an exhibit again this year but did not fare so well as last year in obtaining prizes. Mrs. Nate Macomber received the only prize. The premium list is very small for the woman's department and we suggest that the board of directors elaborate on the department a bit and offer a few more prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Price and son were dinner guests at the A. T. Herreim home Thursday evening. Mrs. Price and Billy were all day guests.

Mrs. Jess Allen, the faithful president of the Ladies Aid, went to Portland Tuesday as a delegate from the local society to the Synodical meeting of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. S. H. Boardman also attended.

Mrs. C. G. Blayden was pleased to have her brother, Fred Kosky, of Chicago, come Thursday for a visit. Mrs. Walter Olson of Clatskanie came Thursday evening for a visit with her parents. She will be remembered as Francis Blayden.

Royal Rands came back from Portland Thursday where he had been for several days to see his father who has been quite ill for some time. He brought home a fine radio which they are enjoying.

Chas. Marshall left Friday for a visit on the John Day.

Mrs. Lowell Spagle entertained at a one o'clock luncheon of dainty appointments on Thursday at her home in Boardman. Guests were Mrs. Leslie Packard, Mrs. Royal Rands, Mrs. Broome, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Fred Kelly. Mrs. J. F. Gorham and Mrs. Everett Duggan were invited guests for the afternoon.

Of much interest is the wedding of Mr. Freeman Fortier and Mrs. Gladys Gibbons who were united in marriage in Pendleton at 6 p. m. Saturday evening at the parsonage of the Methodist church by the pastor Rev. Wire. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gorham were the attendants. Norma Gibbons, a daughter of the bride and Mrs. Frank Cramer, her mother, were also present. Mrs. Fortier was charming in a dress of blue flat crepe trimmed with metallic lace. The ring ceremony was used. After the ceremony the bridal party went to the Pendleton hotel for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Fortier returned home Sunday evening, the others coming back Saturday night. Mrs. Fortier has made her home in this vicinity for a number of years, coming here from Harman, and her friends are numerous. Mr. Fortier came here about a year ago being transferred from Elgin. He is in charge of the Standard Oil station here and is a fine chap who has made many friends. The wishes of their many Boardman friends are extended.

Marie Messenger returned home Saturday from The Dalles where she has been since last June.

Mr. Lamley returned Monday to his home in Astoria after several days' visit at the King and Kristensen home. While here he completed the deal of selling his ranch to Nels Kristensen who had rented it the past four years. Kristensen is an ex-service man and came here with his bride four years ago. They have made many friends who are glad to know they expect to make this their permanent home.

The community Sunday school is growing splendidly. Both Sunday school trucks are running each Sunday, bringing people from both the East and West ends of the project. Men owning trucks are taking turns in making the trip and are paid the very reasonable sum of $2 a trip. If each family will pay what they feel able to there is no reason why the children can not be in Sunday school every Sunday. A box has been placed by the doorway of the church and anyone who wishes may put their money in, which is to pay for the running of these trucks. If one is unable to pay he is not to be heard from coming. Many local people have expressed a desire to help defray the expenses of these trucks because this is real home missionary work and those who are not strong advocates of the foreign mission work feel that they wish to help in the home field.

Sunday was Rally Day at church and 83 were present at the Sunday school hour. A short program was given with songs, recitations and exercises on the program.

Mrs. C. C. Calkins and brother Walter Guyer and Neal Henry, all of Spokane, were overnight guests at the C. S. Calkins home Saturday. The visitors were on their way to Marshfield.

Many social affairs were given last week but none that was merrier than the party given by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mead at their spacious East End home when they entertained a number of East End friends. All sorts of stunts and games were played and laughter was continuous. An elaborate luncheon was served. The guests present were the A. T. Herreim, C. S. Calkins, Nels Kristensen, Ralph Humphreys, and Bay Brown families, Mrs. W. O. King and children and Mr. Lamley of Astoria. Meads are moving shortly back to Measner to the station where Mr. Mead is agent. Boardman friends are all glad to know they are not to leave.

Mrs. W. O. King and children were dinner guests at the C. S. Calkins home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Cooney of Condon were guests Thursday at the L. C. Cooney home for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bates and Mr. and Mrs. Tallinger of Gearhart stopped for a short visit at the W. O. King home Friday on their way to Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. Beardsley and family have moved back to Coyote where he has charge of one of the section crews.

Mrs. Nick Gaglia has been suffering intensely with an abscessed wisdom tooth. It was impacted and necessary to lance it and remove the tooth. She had to go to Hermiston daily to have it treated but it is much better at present.

The song fest on Wednesday night was a howling success. This is said without rancor or satire. It was a most enjoyable evening and all of those present to enjoy every moment. The party was given by the Ladies Aid instead of the usual Silver Tea and it was an "Evening of Old Songs." The strains of Old Black Joe, Old Kentucky Home and many other favorites were heard. Then an effort was made to arrange the program so that voices should not tire and duets, solos, recitations, trios, quartettes, interspersed with songs by the community made it a varied program. Reuben, Reuben was enjoyed, but that which caused the most fun were the rounds that were sung and they were indeed amusing. Coffee, sandwiches and cookies were served. Space does not permit a detailed account of the program, but much fine musical talent was found in the community and it is possible that another similar program may be given as many have suggested. The Aid extends thanks to Mrs. Peess and Mrs. Mead, the accompanists, and to all who helped make it such an enjoyable evening.
