

Local Happenings

Miss Esther Fredrickson of Stanfield has been spending the past week in Heppner, visiting with her sister, Miss Helen Fredrickson, teacher in the Heppner school. Miss Esther is an accomplished violinist and while here has delighted our people with her solo work, playing at the morning services at the Christian church on Sunday. Miss Fredrickson is organizing a class in violin at Heppner and has made arrangements to be here over each week end to give instruction to her pupils. She is a student of the McDonald Studio of Pendleton.

Dan Stalter has arrived home for the winter from the mines in the Susanville district. He has been putting in the summer season as usual in pushing developments at the mine of the Heppner Mining company where operations were begun some 28 years ago. As he delves deeper into the mountain his tunnel is getting into better ore, and a very extensive vein is being exposed. Mr. Stalter has been faithful on the job these many years, feeling that in due season, if he faints not, he will reap an abundant harvest.

Alex Cornett arrived home the first of the week from a visit to Portland and Umatilla county. The judge returns quite well satisfied that Fredrick Steiwer will be the successful candidate for U. S. senator at the election next Tuesday. He found the Steiwer sentiment very pronounced. While in Umatilla county he was privileged to attend several meetings while Senator Stanfield was making his tour, and he noted very distinctly the absence of any enthusiasm for his candidacy.

Fred E. Kiddie, republican candidate for joint senator, Union, Umatilla and Morrow counties, was getting acquainted with the voters of this section yesterday. Mr. Kiddie feels quite encouraged over the outlook for success at the polls on next Tuesday.

Mrs. Arthur Ayers of Butter creek had several large growths removed from her nose at the office of Dr. McMurdo in this city on Saturday. She had been suffering for some time with the trouble and an operation was found necessary for relief.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bothwell returned to their home at Maupin, Oregon on Tuesday. Mrs. Bothwell has been visiting for the past two months at the home of her parents in this city, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cowins.

Dr. Johnston was called to Arlington Saturday to attend some smallpox patients. He also vaccinated some people who had been exposed. There are several cases of the disease there at present, the doctor reports.

Joseph N. Scott of Pendleton, democratic nominee for the office of joint representative, Morrow and Umatilla counties, is interviewing the voters here today, having arrived in Morrow county on Wednesday.

Clifford Sims returned to his home at Medford on Tuesday after spending a week visiting with the family of Dr. A. D. McMurdo in Heppner and incidentally enjoying a few days of pheasant shooting.

C. C. Curl, county chairman, and Roy Rittner, republican candidate for joint representative, Umatilla and Morrow counties, were visitors here yesterday, looking over the political situation.

Delbert Hiatt underwent a minor operation at the hands of Dr. Johnston this week for a badly infected hand. The infection is said to have started from a pimple on the back of the hand.

Mrs. Oscar Borg, who spent a couple of weeks visiting at the home of her parents in this city, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCarty, returned to her home at Portland on Sunday.

Spencer Akers was up from his home at Portland over the week end. He returned home Sunday night after attending to matters of business here.

Pastor Moore of the Episcopal church was in Arlington on Sunday afternoon where he held services.

Oratorical Genius

Herbert Wenig, 17 year old high school student of Hollywood, Calif., was adjudged the winner of the international oratorical contest held in Washington. "Knights of the silver tongue" from all over the world gathered in the Capitol for competition.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Jones motored to Pendleton on Wednesday where they spent the day.

LEXINGTON.

The second big football game of the season by the town team was played with the Heppner town team Sunday on the Lexington field. The score was 7-0 in Lexington's favor. The local town team has some fine players, most of whom have had experience in football four or five years.

Mrs. Mae Burchell suffered a broken leg Sunday afternoon. She was watching the football game and didn't get out of the way and some of the players knocked her down, breaking the largest bone in her leg. She is now feeling a little better.

The town women are going to organize a basketball team to play against the high school girls.

A PROCLAMATION.

In years past it has been the custom of Halloween celebrators to move and otherwise destroy property, both public and private; also the habit of placing obstructions in the streets and highways which endanger life in this day of automobiles. Believing such customs should not be tolerated, I, E. G. Noble, Mayor of the City of Heppner, do hereby proclaim every property owner and household clothed with police authority to make arrest of anyone committing such violations in their presence, and surrender such party or parties so arrested to the police authority of the city. This is not a privilege but a duty you should perform.

E. G. NOBLE, Mayor.
