

BOARDMAN

MRS. A. T. HBRREIM, Correspondent.

Mrs. Leo Root was hostess Wednesday to the Ladies Aid at the Silver Tea which is given the first Wednesday in each month. A pleasing program was given and the ladies chatted over their needlework. Preparations are in full swing for the annual bazaar which is to be held on December 3 this year. The bazaar is held early to allow Boardman residents to purchase Xmas gifts if they wish.

Alvin Wantland, Kelton Nall, Florence Rothrey, Dick Parmeter and Gail Ensey, friends from Hood River, Dufar and The Dalles, spent Sunday visiting Nellie Messenger.

Mrs. Alec Warren is a victim of smallpox. She was taken over to the Bennett house and Mrs. T. E. Broyles is caring for her.

The Brice Dillabaugh family is quarantined, the children having a light attack of scarletina. Brice is dining at the Highway Inn while his family is isolated.

On Friday evening Mrs. J. F. Gorham was hostess at a merry Halloween party at her home, having the teachers and the junior and senior girls as guests. The house was decorated in the vivid orange and black colors and a witches' fire burning under a black iron pot was very realistic. Numerous interesting games and stunts were played, and all had a jolly time. A lunch suggestive of Halloween was served. The guests were the Misses Alice Falk, Elsie Silver, Ethel Beougher, La Velle Leathers, Esther Kankonen, Mrs. Allegra Fees, Mrs. Fred Kelly, and Nellie Messenger, Rachel Johnson, Irma Broyles, Helen Chaffee, Esther Imus and Mabel Brown. Mrs. Ray Brown assisted the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Spagle moved their household goods on Sunday to Fossil, Ore., where Mr. Spagle has been for some time, having a position on the highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Huff were up Sunday from The Dalles. They were on their way to Irrigon to visit Mrs. Watkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Nizer were dinner guests Sunday evening at the Herein home.

Vaughan Keyes is here for a short visit at the R. Rands home.

Mrs. Porter was hostess at one o'clock luncheon on Thursday. Guests were Mesdames Davis, Packard, Spagle, Duggan, Gorham, Fortier and J. R. Johnson.

On November 12 Miss Maude Aldrich of New York City, a representative of the Educational Department of the Presbyterian church and a lecturer of national fame, will be in Boardman and will speak at 1:30 at the auditorium. Miss Aldrich is reported to be a whirlwind of a speaker. Her subject for the day is not known but one of her lectures is called "Bulldogs and Washbone," and another "Bulldogs and Diamonds."

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Smith are now settled on the Harrison ranch and expect to make Boardman their home. They purchased this place from Mrs. Harrison, or rather traded property in Seaside for it.

Miss La Velle Leathers, primary teacher, was entertained Thursday night at the W. O. King home. She was an overnight guest, returning Friday on the bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Guyer and three children stopped Saturday for a short visit at the C. S. Calkins home. They were on their way to Spokane where they expect to make their home, having come from Marshfield. Mr. Guyer is a brother of Mrs. C. C. Calkins.

A girls' glee club is being organized at school under the direction of Mrs. Allegra Fees. They will be able to sing for special occasions.

Miss La Velle Leathers was called to Lexington on Friday, having received word of her uncle's death.

A concrete block building is being erected at Irrigon for an office building for the West Extension Irrigation district. Mr. Houghton is superintendent in charge of this district. Mr. Lyman, an expert accountant from Washington, D. C., has been working at Heppner for some time on the accounts of the district. His report will be ready soon.

Mrs. Fred Kelly has taken the contract for transporting the school children from Coyote to Boardman school. Mrs. Spagle, who has been doing this, has moved to Fossil.

Some especially clever costumes were shown Saturday night at the masquerade dance given by Greenfield Grange at the auditorium. Miss Edna Broyles received first prize for the ladies, being garbed in gypsy costume. Gentleman's prize went to a man from Irrigon who was dressed as an Indian chief. Mrs. Ralph Davis had on a very effective gypsy costume also. Nellie Dillon and Gladys Wilson, two of the younger group, made charming ballet dancing girls. Mrs. Duggan had on a stunning Pierette costume. Mrs. Packard was dressed as Fatima. Lowell Spagle and Leslie Packard both dressed as clowns and without masks, but with painted faces and made an interesting pair. Many recognized Mr. Packard but until late in the evening the former was not recognized. Lunch was served at midnight.

On Thursday A. Koski and a neighbor of his, Mr. Hendrickson, came up for a few days visit at the Olson and Hango homes. Koskis live on the Washington side opposite Mayer, Ore., and are well satisfied with their new home.

F. L. Brown and family are again at their ranch home on the West End after a prolonged absence.

Mrs. Royal Rands and Donna Jane have returned from a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howell.

The school cafeteria is running smoothly with Miss Beougher in charge. About 40 are served each day with some hot dish. Boardman has one of the best equipped cafeterias for a school of its size, in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kelly, Mrs. N. W. Broome, Mrs. Nick Gaglia and Miss Ethel Beougher motored to Pendleton on Saturday.

Marion Van Meter of Grass Valley is relieving Mr. Clark at Messner for a time.

Several new students entered the local school the last two weeks, some in high school and some in the grades.

All Boardman residents were shocked and grieved last Friday to hear of the tragic accident at Messner when N. W. Broome, supt. of Riverview Farms at Blalock Island, struck Chas. Clark of Messner with the fender of his car, the injuries he received causing his death soon after, as he was being rushed to the hospital. Mr. Clark is in charge of the pumping station at Messner and the family made its home in one of the company houses adjacent to the highway. It seems that the children of Mrs. Gaglia, a sister of Mrs. Clark, and the Clark children were playing near the house and the little lad, 5 years of age, ran across the highway just as Mr. Broome was driving by on his way home. He saw the child and swerved the car to avoid striking him. As he turned out the little lad turned and started to run back and was struck by the fender of the car. His little head was crushed, one leg and one arm broken, the latter in two places, and the little life passed on soon after, without any suffering or pain. Charles was born July 27 at Salt Lake City and was an exceptionally bright lad for his age. A brother, Frank, 2 1/2 years old, survives. His parents are heartbroken over the tragedy and the sympathy of the entire community is extended to Clarks and to Mr. and Mrs. Broome who did all that was possible to assist the bereaved family. An inquest was held Saturday and the accident pronounced unavoidable. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at Hermiton with the Methodist minister in charge. There were many beautiful flowers sent by sorrowing friends. Musical selections were given by the choir of the Methodist church, and Kenneth and Albert Boardman and Alex Ayers were the pallbearers. The Clarks wish to express their appreciation to the Boardman people for their great kindness at this sad time.

On Thursday night Miss Elsie Silver and Miss Alice Falk were overnight guests at the C. S. Calkins home.

Delbert Johnson has a new radio set which is bringing much pleasure. Boardman might be small but we are a mighty progressive community and can accomplish much. Plans are now on foot for the establishment of a night school for all adults on the project. Courses will be announced soon and if there be sufficient interest school will be run two nights a week for eight or ten weeks with the teachers and Mr. Dillabaugh, janitor, offering their services free. A mimeograph questionnaire is to be sent to all adults from Supt. Kelly's office soon regarding the courses that parents might like to take and those to be offered. This would be a wonderful thing and give many of us an opportunity to brush up on long forgotten questions and subjects.

E. Peck, Frank Otto and Charlie Marshall went to Portland Wednesday.

Johnny McNamee was in Pendleton Friday.

Mike Marshall and daughter Kath.leen were Pendleton visitors Thursday and Heppner visitors Friday. Charlie Barnes is a Boardman visitor. He is driving a classy new "coop."

Alfalfa hulling on the project is soon over. It has been difficult to get hulling done because of the damp weather and the heavy frosts. Yields have varied greatly on different ranches and it has been a bad year for many crops, but nearly all who have raised seed feel that it is equal in value or exceeds hay and it is much less work and expense.

Several new cars are to be seen on the project. Frank Otto has a classy new Ford coupe, as does Charlie Marshall. Cathleen Marshall is driving a new Ford sedan.

The Rebekahs plan to give a masquerade ball the Friday after Thanksgiving. Fletcher's orchestra of Pendleton will furnish the music.

CONSOLIDATION PROGRESSES. One hundred and four one-room schools were eliminated through consolidation or other agencies in the ending June 30, 1925, according to a report from the state department of education in that state, and only 8 per cent of the elementary school children were taught in one-room schools. Pacific county which maintained seven one-teacher schools enrolling 128 pupils had the smallest number of such schools in Washington that year.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

state of Washington during the year consolidation or other agencies in the ending June 30, 1925, according to a report from the state department of education in that state, and only 8 per cent of the elementary school children were taught in one-room schools. Pacific county which maintained seven one-teacher schools enrolling 128 pupils had the smallest number of such schools in Washington that year.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Recently the board of education of Montgomery county, Alabama, reported to the United States Bureau of Education that their last one-teacher school had been closed. There are at least two other states, Utah and Ohio, in which some counties have succeeded in providing grade school advantage to all rural pupils.

Go to GILLIAM & BISBEE

- for Copper Carbonate.
- for Blue Stone.
- For the Calkins Wheat Treating Machine.
- for Superior and Kentucky Drills.
- for All kinds of Harrows.
- for the Rotary Rod Weeder.
- for anything to get your Fall seeding done.

We Have It, Will Get It, or It is Not Made.

GILLIAM & BISBEE
HEPPNER, ORE.

LINOLEUM

With a large assortment of patterns, three, six, nine and twelve feet in width and a range in price from

45c per yard

up to Armstrong's A grade. You can find a pattern to fit any room or any purse. Also a good line of Gold Seal and other similar rugs 9x12 as low as

$12.00

No flowery descriptions of fictitious values.

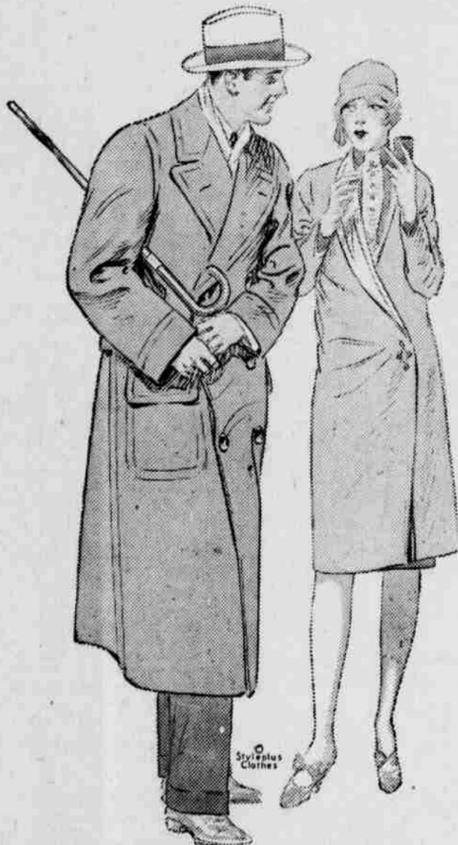

Case Furniture Co.

ONE AT A TIME

Buying a new car is one thing. Selling a used car is another. Don't get the two confused—or you are almost sure to end up with a new car you never really wanted.

COHN AUTO COMPANY
Heppner, Oregon

A USED CAR IS ONLY AS DEPENDABLE AS THE DEALER WHO SELLS IT

The Leeds

Double-breasted
A featured model for Fall
Beautiful assortment at $25

$20 to $40

Wilson's

A Man's Store for Men

DELICIOUS
APPETIZING
NUTRITIOUS—

Shell Fish

Order them any day.
We prepare them to suit the taste.

FOUNTAIN
SPECIALS
and
BAKED
GOODS

ELKHORN RESTAURANT

ED CHINN, Prop.

We Carry a Full Line of

Dry Goods
Groceries
Shoes, etc.

Come in, if only to look, for we feel that you will appreciate the quality of our goods

Thomson Brothers

EIGHT YEARS OF PEACE

1918

1926

As suddenly as they began the cannons' hellish roar was stilled—the flames of hate and fury were quenched and the blood red clouds of the most titanic struggle the world has ever known rolled away.

November the Eleventh is Armistice Day—the birthday of universal peace.

Let us celebrate this day—in a fitting way, let us rejoice, but let us not forget our fallen sons who gave their all, that you and I might live in peace, harmony and happiness.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF HEPPNER