

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferguson arrived home on Sunday from an absence of a month, during which time they visited with friends at Prescott and Flagstaff, Arizona, and with relatives in California, near Crescent City. The trip to Arizona was made in record time, without mishap, and the weather conditions were perfect all the while. While they enjoyed much of the scenery in the southwest, they are more than ever convinced that Oregon and the Columbia River highway have anything but a long way over what other sections of the country they visited can offer. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson enjoyed their trip very much.

All members of the Eastern Star and Masonic lodges, with their immediate families, are invited to attend a program and social hour at Masonic hall on Friday evening, November 26, at 8:30. There will be refreshments. This is for the purpose of raising money to buy new dishes, and a free will offering will be taken. A good attendance is desired. n18-21.

R. B. Rice, in the city Saturday from his farm out north of Lexington, is well pleased with the way the wheat is coming along. Grain in that portion of the county is coming up rapidly, and with the big rain that hit them Sunday night and Monday there will now be no danger of wheat killing out for lack of moisture.

Assessor J. J. Wells returned on Sunday from Medford and other points in the southern part of the state and in the Willamette valley. He states that the convention of assessors this year was one of the best yet held.

Miss Louise Madison of Portland was a week-end guest of Miss Edna Vaughn of this city. She came on Thursday and remained over until Sunday, being met here by her brother, Coie Madison, who drove up for her.

A. A. McCabe, Rhea creek farmer and wheat raiser, was in the city on Tuesday. The big rain of Monday has caused the smile to broaden on the countenance of Lon. Wheat is coming along fine.

Walter Luckman was in from Lena on Tuesday and reports abundant rain over the Butter creek country Monday which is of much benefit to range and fall sown grain.

ELMER SLOCUM BURIED.

The Dalles Optimist. Funeral services for Elmer Slocum, who for eleven years past had been agent for the O-W. R. & N. company at Lexington, were held in this city November 3, the local Masonic lodge having charge of the services at the grave. Interment was made in the Odd Fellows cemetery. Callaway's Funeral Chapel had charge of the funeral arrangements here. The regular funeral services were held in the Masonic hall in Heppner November 2 under auspices of that order. Following the services in Heppner the body was shipped to The Dalles for interment.

Mr. Slocum was born in Susquehanna, Pa., 58 years ago and came to Oregon about 38 years ago, taking up his residence at Heppner. For the past 16 years he has been employed by the O-W. R. & N. railroad. He is survived by his widow and seven children. Of the children surviving two reside in The Dalles, Mrs. Jesse Beardsley and L. J. Slocum.

EVERY OREGONIAN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT HEALTH

From State Board of Health. Everyone should know how the human body is built and how it works. Everyone should know that the maintenance of good health is dependent on good habits of regular and sufficient hours of sleep, correct posture, suitable exercises, and proper elimination.

Everyone should know what and how much to eat in order to keep the body in the best condition.

Everyone should have a knowledge of sex hygiene and be informed on the subject of reproduction, and of the dangers of venereal diseases.

Everyone should know what it means to be healthy minded, and that intelligent cheerfulness is essential to good health.

Everyone should know something about the cause and prevention of diseases, and that even mild infection may lay the foundation for a chronic disease.

Everyone should know how the common communicable diseases are transmitted and how they can protect themselves against these diseases.

Everyone should know that infected foods, polluted water, and bad housing may cause disease.

Everyone should know that the human mechanism requires a periodic examination to disclose defects and to provide for early treatment.

Everyone should know that in order to prescribe intelligently for the special needs of the body advice from one who has made special study of the human body and its ailments is often necessary.

Everyone should know the health problems of the community in which he lives, and be able to discuss them intelligently.
