Move for City Library Halted by Non-Support

Miss Mary Jane Dustin, state library representative, on her return to Heppner the first of the week, found that the local library move she was sponsoring had struck a snag. The form in which the project was presented did not appeal to some people, which is given as the reason tor lack of support by fraternal organizations.

When she met with the city council Monday evening, Miss Dustin was onplused when Mayor Noble again made it known that he could not keep his promise of $50 from the city as no available funds whatever had been provided in the budget. The sentireally exists in favor of a library, in hopes of locating enough persons interested to put the project across. She spent a day at Lexington and Ione this week.

The local committee working with Miss Dustin reported that they believed expenses should not exceed $200 the first year.
