J. S. Beckwith, official court reporter, drove over from Pendleton on Saturday to attend the session of circuit court here. He returned home on Tuesday, being accompanied by Judge and Mrs. Phelps. The December term of court was a short one. Miss Margaret Phelps, eldest daughter of Judge and Mrs. G. W. Phelps of Pendleton and former Heppner girl, is supervisor of music in the schools of Hammond, Indiana, this year. Hammond is situated about 40 minute ride out of Chicago, and Miss Phelps is pleased with the situation as it gives her the opportunity of attending much of the best musical and operatic performances that come to the big city.

Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Roberts departed for Portland on Sunday where they will in the future make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have lived in Heppner for many years, having built a nice home here, but this move is made necessary on account of the condition of Mrs. Roberts' health, it being found that she should live in a lower altitude. The Roberts home has been leased by Frank Shively and he and his family have moved into the place from the Lawson ranch just below town where they have lived during the past year.

Xmas Cards and Seals, Gordon's. Jay Hiatt of Rhea creek is preparing to get into the turkey raising game proper. He recently shipped in two toms and six hens of the famous Goldband strain of bronze turkeys as a starter for his flock, and will have some more coming. The ranch on which Jay lives on Rhea creek south of Heppner is ideal for turkey raising and he will also engage quite extensively in other lines of poultry, finding the game profitable if rightly carried on.

W. L. McCaleb returned on last evening from Portland, where, with Mrs. McCaleb he has spent the past four weeks. Mrs. McCaleb underwent a major operation at Portland and has been at Good Samaritan hospital for some three weeks while recovering. She was able to come as far as Arlington on the return trip and will arrive home on Sunday.

James Hart of Longview, Wash., was called to Heppner the first of the week because of the death of his brother, R. M. Hart, late of Portland. Jim is now with the Hotel Monticello at Longview, where he has been steward for more than two years past. He was unable to remain over for a visit with Heppner friends and returned home on Tuesday night.

Lester J. Jones, pastor of the Christian church of Enterprise, arrived at Heppner on Monday and has been engaged in a series of evangelistic meetings at the Christian church here during the week. He will return to Enterprise on Saturday, and the coming week Pastor Guy L. Drill, assisted by Mrs. Drill will be here from Pendleton to carry on the meetings.

Mrs. W. P. Mahoney arrived home on Friday from a visit at Prairie City, where she was called earlier in the week by the very serious illness of her son-in-law, I. A. Mather, head of the Prairie schools. When Mrs. Mahoney left Mr. Mather had greatly improved and expected to be able to resume his duties at school the first of the week.

Plain Xmas Mixed Candies, Gordon's. Laxton McMurray this week purchased the Ernest Meyer wheat land near Jordan Siding, which is adjoining other lands that Mr. McMurray owns in that vicinity. The deal was closed on Tuesday. Mr. Meyer bought this land originally from Mr. McMurray.

Frewitt Cox came up from his home near Oregon City the first of the week for a visit with his mother, Mrs. J. H. Cox, an invalid at the Morrow General hospital in this city. Mrs. A. M. Phelps was called to the bedside of her sister, Miss Marshall, at Marion, Iowa, and arrived there the Matters pertaining to grazing fees and predatory animal control will be prominent on the program, and it is expected that all interests affected by these questions will be heard at this meeting. A similar meeting was held recently at Pendleton. The business is important and it is hoped that there will be a good representation of the stockmen present.
