THURSDAY UNLUCKY NIGHT.

Thursday night seemed to be the jinx for the basketball-teers and automobiles. There was quite a delay getting the girls down to Lexington because of frozen radiators and bum starters.

The Lexington girls have a good team and though Heppner played a hard game ill-fate was against her. The game started out with Hazel McDaid and Joy Erwin, forwards, Freda Akers and Mary Ritchie, guards, and Mae Groshens and Anna McDaid, centers. At the end of the half the score was 17-5 in favor of Lexington.

Before the last half was ended Mae Groshens took Freda Akers' place at guard, Freda being put out because of too many personal fouls. Joy Erwin then took Mae's place in the center and the game proceeded as before ending with a score of 18-28 in Lexington's favor.

Lexington's lineup: Mabel Wright and Doris Wilcox, forwards, Eulah McMillan and Erma Duvall, centers, Gwen Evans and Elsie Tucker, guards.

Mae Groshens had the misfortune of burning her hands last Monday while working in the chemistry laboratory. She was filling a small bottle with hydrochloric acid when the bottle overflowed and acid was spilled on her hands. She had them bandaged by a doctor and although it will probably be some time before they are entirely healed, they are improving greatly.

The appropriations for the new gymnasium have caused Orrin Bisbee and Marvin Wightman many sleepless nights, as they are now being tried for embezzling some money intended for the new gym. The accused are defended by Marjorie Clark while Merle Becket upholds the state. Witnesses for the defendant are Louise Thomson, Edna Vaughn, Tom Wells, and Earl Ayers. The state witnesses are Mae Groshens, Joy Erwin, Grace Buschke and Bill Bucknum. Two witnesses from the history class were called to testify for the defendants. They were Marvin Gammell and Letha Hiatt. The evidence has been completed and the jury will give their verdict today.

Coasting Party.

Tuesday evening a number of upper classmen staged another sleighing party at the home of Joy and Harold Erwin. They met at Margaret Smith's where they embarked in cars provided by the boys. The coasting was good although the moon failed to appear. To remedy the slight darkness a gasoline lantern was stationed midway on the decline. This proved to be a guiding beacon, although several barely missed colliding.

When the merry crowd tired of coasting and had tried their luck at skiing, they returned to the house where a warm fire awaited them. Some tried their luck at skating but found the creek was not frozen hard enough for this. After an hour or two pleasantly spent at bridge, five hundred, touring and rummy, delicious refreshments, consisting of cookies, sandwiches and chocolate, were served. After lunch they danced until "Home Sweet Home" was played at twelve o'clock when they prepared for the trip home.

Those present were Miss Miller, Miss Finkel, Miss Wilson, Edna Vaughn, Mae Doherty, Margaret Smith, Florence Bergstrom, Patricia Mahoney, Eva Hiatt, Mae Groshens, Mary Ritchie, Gerald Slocum, Joe Brosnan, Robert Turner, Ellis Thomson, Onez Parker, John Turner, Gene Doherty and Delvin Adkins.

Honor Roll.

To have one's name on the Honor Roll is an honor for which every student strives. The class books are an excellent record of one's accomplishments in school. The Honor Roll for the past semester is as follows:

First Honor Roll: Orrin Bisbee, 5 A's; Marjorie Clark, 4 A's, Mary Seamer, 4 A's.

Second Honor Roll: Katherine Bisbee, 3 A's and 1 B; John Conder, 2 A's and 2 B's; Evelyn Swendig, 2 A's and 2 B's; Rosella Doherty, 1 A and 3 B's; Elizabeth Elder, 1 A and 3 B's.

Joe Swindig, Gordon Bucknum, Harold Gentry, Jeanette Turner, Winifred Thomson, Louise Langdon, Marie Kirk, Teresa Breslin, Opal Stapleton and Doris Hiatt are staggering under the importance of being real high school students. They are the new sub-freshman class, the first being organized last year. They are also the only class promoted in the middle of the year in the county. They are to have no class organization but this dark cloud has its silver lining in the fact that they will have no dues to pay. They look as if they were in a new atmosphere but in a short time they will become full fledged students.

The Lexington quintet defeated the Heppner boys in a fast game of basketball last Friday night on their home floor. The frosty air only seemed to make the game faster. Both teams played a defensive game as shown by the low score of 7 to 6. Being no individual stars in either team the game was more interesting to the fans. There was a good turnout of Heppner backers and local fans despite the cold night. The score at the quarter stood 3 to 0 in favor of Lexington at the end of the first quarter; 3 to 0 at the end of the half. But in the second half two baskets and one free throw were scored by Heppner in their rally to win the game, while Lexington worked in a basket, making the score 5 to 5 at the end of the third period. In the fourth period Heppner made one point to Lexington's two.

Roger Morse addressed the student body last Friday afternoon concerning the impersonator Zeller, who will be here Wednesday. The P. T. A. is sponsoring this entertainment.

The directorate of the North Eastern basketball tournament, composed of Superintendents Burgess, Inlow and Goodwin, will meet next Saturday at Pendleton to complete arrangements for this year's basketball tournament.

Some time ago Superintendent Burgess was appointed chairman of the Umatilla debate district comprising the schools of Morrow and Umatilla counties. These schools will debate on the proposition, "Resolved, that Oregon should adopt a cabinet form of Government." On February 19, Pendleton will hold a debate with McLaughlin Union High. Heppner, Ione and Hermiston will stage a triangular debate about the same time.

Several elections took place this week in the societies and classes. Those elected for the new semester in the Arion Literary society were: president, Bob Turner; vice-president, John Conder; secretary, Veima Felli; treasurer, Terrel Henge; sergeant-at-arms, Merle Becket. In the respective order those elected for the Heppner Literary society were Marvin Gammell, Joy Erwin, Reta Crawford, Margaret Smith, and Claud Conder. The officers for sophomores are president, Clarence Hayes; vice-president, Norma Short; secretary-treasurer, Margaret Notson; sergeant-at-arms, Harlan Devin. Junior elections took place last week, and have already been announced. The seniors and freshmen have not elected officers yet but will do so soon.

The Arion Literary society held a hot-dog sale in the lower hall of the school building Wednesday noon, and all those who have been thirsting, or starving, perhaps, for hot-dogs, were rewarded by the sale. Those in the society proved their ability at such an art, while the society profited as a whole in the helping out of finances.

the continuance of this war risk insurance after the termination of the war, and its conversion within a limited time into such form or forms of insurance, usually issued by life insurance companies, as the insured might request. Many veterans do not seem to have had knowledge of this continuing privilege, and for one reason or another have permitted their war risk insurance to lapse. Under the terms provided for the reinstatement of lapsed insurance, normal health conditions will permit reinstatement upon the payment of two monthly premiums; and for those whose service disabilities render them otherwise not insurable, and who are not permanently and totally disabled, provision is made for reinstatement upon the payment of premiums and interest for the period of lapse. Even these payments may be temporarily waived for those whose resources do not permit immediate compliance.

The law provides that the reinstatement of war risk insurance which has lapsed shall be made after July 2, 1927. After that date, such war risk term insurance can not be reinstated. On or prior to that date, therefore, such insurance must be reinstated and converted, at the election of the applicant, into one or more of the seven standard forms of life insurance provided by the Government. If such insurance is now in force, the insured must convert it into one of the forms above mentioned on or before the above date.

The potential protective value of the insurance thus provided is apparent, as affecting the future economic and domestic welfare of veterans and their dependents. Provision is made for extended insurance, paid up values, loan values, cash-surrender values, and dividend participation. No premium is charged during total permanent disability. Thousands of our national defenders are passing on each year. All veterans of the World War should be generally and fully informed of their right to procure the safe and certain protection for themselves and their dependents of the insurance afforded by the Government.

Detailed information with reference to such insurance may be obtained from the central office of the United States Veterans' Bureau, Washington, D. C. or from its regional offices located throughout the country. Wherefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby designate the period January 31 to February 7, 1927, as the time during which special effort should be made to inform all veterans of the World War of the right they have to reinstate lapsed war risk insurance, and to convert it into United States Government life insurance; and, that all such veterans may, in some manner, be properly informed, I urge all citizens, particularly employers, the press, labor organizations, women's associations, professional groups, and civic and patriotic bodies, to secure full information and use such means of informing the veterans as may be most effective.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 15th day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and fifty-first.

By the President: (Seal)
FRANK B. KELLOGG,
Secretary of State.

ORDERED TO SHOW CAUSE.

An order has been issued out of the district court of the United States at Portland, in the bankruptcy proceedings of Pendleton Produce & Packing Company, a corporation, bankrupt, directed to those stockholders of the company who have not paid up their stock subscriptions, to appear at Pendleton on the 14th day of February and show cause why H. W. Sitton, trustee, should not proceed with the collection of all such sums due. Some 42 stockholders situated in Grant, Morrow and Umatilla counties, have not paid their stock subscriptions in full, and the debts of the bankrupt company are shown to be approximately $44,123.83 as set out in the order, that have been allowed to date, besides other sums aggregating thousands of dollars, claims for which have not been proved. The order places a value of $10,000 upon the stock subscriptions due, and it will be necessary to have this money to assist in liquidation of the claims against the bankrupt.

How Does A Dog Know?

FIDO amused his mistress very much the other morning, when as she was leaving the house to do her shopping he jumped upon a pedestal, sat erect and wagged his tail most pleadingly.

"Fifi, you little beggar, if you must go, you must—Come on," she called with a laugh.

"W-r-r-r, w-r-r-r," said Fido—meaning "thank you."

But it was not until they had progressed well down the street that the lady was made aware of Fido's anxiety of a few moments before. As she started to pass HIATT & DIX'S, Fido let out a sharp bark. Getting no response, he then grabbed the nap of his mistress' coat.

"Well, to be sure, Fifi, I nearly forgot those Hostess cookies."
