A TRIBUTE

We acknowledge infinite esteem and respect for that great American, who dedicated his life to the proposition that all men are created equal—who spread the warmth of his kindness to his countrymen without discrimination; who suffered with his countrymen when they suffered and cried because of the ache in his heart for them; who tempered justice with mercy; whose spirituality buoyed up the hopes of a nation drowning in the mire of a bitter struggle; who by sheer perseverance ascended from a log cabin to the greatest position any American can hope to hold; and who, dying, breathed a prayer for the continuance of the opportunities for universal liberty and pursuit of happiness.
