

SHROUD OF MYSTERY SURROUNDS BENEFIT

Stunts for Library Show Guarded Closely by Those Taking Part.

If your mind harbors an idea that there are no first class actors in Heppner, second to none on Broadway, be sure to attend the vaudeville at the Star theater Tuesday, March 8, and become disillusioned. Qualities will be revealed in your friends that you never before knew existed. The vaudeville is being sponsored by the Heppner Public Library association, and will be produced by talent taken from the several organizations of the city.

Comedians who need not take a back seat to Harold Lloyd, Buster Keaton, Harry Lauder or any of the rest, will evoke maelstroms of mirth, testing the strongest beams of support in the building. There will be heavy drama stuff, operatic reviews, colorful ballets, physical exhibitions, and—yes, it is true—a real bathing beauty contest.

All of this we had told you in the Q, for the nature of the various numbers is being zealously guarded in order that the treat may be the more enjoyable because of the added atmosphere of expectancy. You take it from us though, it is going to be everything we say it is and probably more, so you need have no qualms of conscience in telling your neighbors all about it.

What we have heard leak out about the affair is so good that we can hardly keep from spilling the beans, but we have been sworn to secrecy on oath and hence must not give it away. If we can possibly prevail upon the management, however, we are going to make a full feature of it next week. So keep your eyes peeled.

ALL SAINTS' EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Rev. B. Stanley Moore, Missionary in Charge.

Sunday school at 9:45; celebration of the Lord's Supper at 11 o'clock.

The confirmation class will meet at 4:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Everyone is welcome to attend this class whether you are contemplating confirmation or not.

During the first week in February the seventeenth annual convocation of the Protestant Episcopal church of Eastern Oregon was held at Hood River. It was presided over by the Rt. Rev. Wm. P. Remington, D. D., All of the clergy of the district were in attendance, and a full representation of lay delegates.

The first day began with a celebration of the Holy Communion, which was followed by a meeting of the Women's Church Service league, which had much good work to report, and a large tentative program of service for the future. The business of the convocation was accomplished as quickly as possible. The whole missionary district shows strong and steady growth. This was evidenced by the stirring report of Bishop Remington.

Friday evening, the 4th, a union mass meeting was held in the Bialto theatre. The service was attended by more than six hundred people. A union choir furnished beautiful music. The Rt. Rev. Edward M. Cross, Bishop of Spokane, and our own Bishop Remington, spoke in the interest of the Bishop's Crusade. The whole body was stirred by their sermons and the general fervor of the service.

Sunday afternoon a service of faith healing and intercessory prayer was held in St. Mark's church. Those who attended returned home refreshed in body and spirit. We look forward to a great working of the Holy Spirit in the churches in the year that is now passing.

Was Resident Here for More Than 47 Years

Mrs. Mary Josephine Hughes, widow of the late John Hughes, died at the family home in this city on the late afternoon of Sunday, February 13, 1927, aged 68 years, 1 month and 22 days. Death resulted from a lingering illness which Mrs. Hughes had suffered for more than a year past. Her funeral was held on Wednesday forenoon at 10:00 o'clock from St. Patrick's church, where requiem mass was said by Rev. T. J. Cantwell, pastor. A very large gathering of relatives and friends was present to attend the high respect in which the departed was held in this community.

Mary Mallory was born February 22, 1858, in Tipperary county, Ireland. She was married to John Hughes at Littleton, county Tipperary, Ireland and they immediately came to America, becoming residents of this county on February 22, 1880, thereby being numbered among the earlier settlers of this section, where Mrs. Hughes continued to reside over a period of 47 years, but a few days.

The last twenty years she has made her home in this city.

She is survived by the following children, all of whom were present at the time of her death: Matt T. Hughes, John P. Hughes, Mrs. Mary Healey, Joseph J. Hughes, Mrs. Anna McNamee and Miss Nora Hughes of Heppner; William J. Hughes of Pendleton and Thomas J. Hughes of Portland; also 14 grandchildren, besides a brother and one sister residing in Ireland.

The deceased was a gentle, devoted mother, bright and cheerful in disposition and a general favorite with everybody. She leaves a host of friends who will mourn her loss.

Funeral of Mrs. Cowins, Pioneer, Held Saturday

The funeral of Mrs. James W. Cowins was held on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at I. O. O. F. hall, Rev. B. Stanley Moore, pastor of All Saints' Episcopal church, officiating. Beautiful hymns were sung by a quartette composed of Mrs. Frank Turner, Mrs. Maurice Frye, M. D. Clark and E. H. Buhn, with Mrs. C. L. Sweek at the piano. Burial was in Masonic cemetery where the remains were laid to rest by gentle hands, and whence many friends and neighbors had followed to witness the last sad rites to one of the early pioneers of this section.

Amanda Melvina Keever was born January 14, 1844, daughter of Pierre and Margaret Keever, at Tooleboro, Louisiana county, Iowa. Her mother was widowed when she was a very small child, and they were left in not too good circumstances. In 1850, mother and daughter accompanied two uncles on a trip across the plains by ox team to California, it being at the time of the great gold rush, and on the journey many hardships and privations, as well as many dangers were suffered; food ran out, and they were menaced by hostile Indians. In order that the women and children might have a little food, the uncles went without, and they despaired of reaching their destination. They finally arrived at Placerville, and the mother passed away shortly after reaching California, leaving Mrs. Cowins among strangers at the age of 6.

She was married to James Wright Cowins at Marysville, Calif., on May 14, 1865. Later, with two small children they returned east by way of the Isthmus of Panama and visited relatives in Iowa, where their second child, Tilda, died. In 1873 they decided to come west again and took three years for the journey, the trip being undertaken largely for the benefit of Mrs. Cowins' health. Mr. Cowins who had learned photography, outlined for taking pictures, and they spent much time at the various points along the way while he followed his vocation, and they finally reached Eugene, Oregon, where they lived for about three years. On the journey west, two children were born. Starting for Walla Walla they were delayed at Wells Springs for repairing of their wagon wheels. Learning that there was no blacksmith shop nearer than Heppner, they came on to this city in the fall of 1899, and decided to locate at this place, where the family has since resided.

For a number of years past Mrs. Cowins has been a shut-in, but in the early days of her residence here she followed nursing and during the small pox epidemic here many years ago her services proved to be almost indispensable, and very many of the babies of the earlier settlers here were greeted by her smile and tender care upon their arrival into the world.

In her early girlhood, Mrs. Cowins became a member of the Episcopal church, and she received her education in a school at Santa Clara, Calif. At her marriage to Mr. Cowins, the Episcopal minister officiated, and her funeral sermon was preached by the Episcopal minister of this city. Mr. Cowins, who has long been a member of Doric Lodge No. 20, K. of P. of Heppner, desired that the members of that order have charge of the funeral services and it was his request that the services be held in their castle hall. Besides her husband, Mrs. Cowins is survived by three children, Mrs. Emma Garrigues of Boise, Idaho; William Cowins of Heppner, and Mrs. Francis Cantwell of Grants Pass; also nine grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren.

On May 14, 1915, Mr. and Mrs. Cowins celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, and at the time of her death they had been married 61 years and 7 months.

FRANCHISE GRANT DELAYED BECAUSE CITY DADS ABSENT

Matter to be Taken Up Again Monday Evening; Mr. Sawyer Explains Service.

No action was taken on the franchise for the Sherman Electric company at the special council meeting Monday evening because a full council necessary to pass on the ordinance was not present. Mayor Noble was absent due to illness. The city fathers will meet again next Monday to act on the ordinance.

G. C. Sawyer, representative of the electric company, was present and was well pleased with the attitude shown regarding the franchise. He said the company had been very careful in drawing up a franchise that should in no way be objectionable, and expressed little apprehension as to its being granted.

Heppner will be served with a high power line with juice furnished from two plants, said Mr. Sawyer in discussing points of their service, thus guaranteeing continuous service. In event one plant becomes disabled, it is a matter of but a few minutes to switch in the other plant.

Mr. Sawyer is certain that electrical power will be cheap enough with the advent of the new service to make electrical cooking practical and economical. Electrical heating of large areas, however, will not be practical, for it is impossible to produce electrical energy cheap enough at the present time. Electric ranges must be handled sensibly to be economical, Mr. Sawyer said, and that housewives may learn their proper care and operation it is the policy of the company to give demonstrations at various places where the service is installed. The company does this because they have learned that a satisfied customer with a small bill is more profitable than a dissatisfied customer with a large bill.

It is planned to rush construction on the line from De Moss Springs in Sherman county that the service may reach new territory as soon as possible. Mr. Sawyer said, but he could make no promise of just how soon it would reach here. If everything goes smoothly, however, the new power line may be here by early summer.

BROWN FUNERAL HELD FRIDAY.

After a delay of several days, and following an investigation by a coroner's jury which decided that death was the result of natural causes, the remains of Artie Brown, whose funeral was conducted at the Christian church in this city on Monday afternoon of last week, were taken to the burial ground near the Devore place on Rhea creek, where interment was had on Friday forenoon. Because there had been no regularly licensed physician in attendance upon Mr. Brown within forty-eight hours prior to his death, no death certificate could issue, and it became necessary to have the case passed upon by the coroner's jury before burial could take place.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hughes took their departure on Saturday night for Portland, where they will be located in the future. Heppner vs. Medford In State Shoot Start

Heppner Rod and Gun club will meet Medford Rod and Gun club in the starting match of the second annual Oregonian telegraphic state trap shooting tournament next Sunday. Twenty teams have registered for the shoot this year in which the local club won the trophy cup in the shoot-off at Portland last year.

Heppner will be a strong contender again this year, for besides the winning team of last year a number of new promising shots will be enlisted. Although no exceptionally high scores have been hung up at the local traps for some time, nimrods have been getting their eyes primed and are set for the start.

Members of last year's championship team who will shoot again this year are L. Van Marter, Chas. Lat-curell, Chas. Vaughn, A. D. McMurdo and Albert Bowker. Van Marter had high gun at the shoot-off last year, breaking 99 out of a possible 100 clay birds.

DISTRICT DEBATE TO BE HELD HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Hermiston and Heppner Will be Matched for Privilege of Entering Finals.

Last Tuesday witnessed the last of a series of interclass debates, in which much interest has been shown by the entire student body and community. These debates have been a decided success in every way, as evidenced by the diligent research and preparation of the debaters. Each debater alternate willingly and enthusiastically went into the work. The results were gratifying.

From the four class teams and alternates one affirmative and one negative school team, each consisting of two members has been selected. Those honored with a position on the affirmative team are Margaret Notson and Marvin Gammell, with Mae Doherty, Gerald Slocum and Katherine Bisbee as alternates, while those winning equally important honors on the negative team are Orrin Bisbee and Marjorie Clark, with Fletcher Walker, Louise Thomson and Evelyn Swindig as alternates.

These two teams will meet Hermiston in the first of the debates of the district on February 23rd. It is the usual custom for the negative teams to travel. Thus, the debates in Heppner will see the Heppner affirmative pitted against the Hermiston negative team.

Last year the debates in the local school were only held between the classes. This year the interclass debates have been stressed more than ever before, and the school is now preparing to carry this work on a step farther by entering into the district debaters' contest. It is the present plan that debating will become a permanent activity of the school.

In the event that the Heppner High school wins over Hermiston, then the local high school will meet the winners of the McLoughlin-Pendleton debate for the district championship.

The question being debated in this district is: Resolved, that the cabinet form of government should be adopted in the State of Oregon. When the local students debate this question here next Wednesday evening it is hoped that a large crowd will be in attendance. The debate will start promptly at eight o'clock. In order to help defray the expenses of the contest a small admission fee will be charged.

DOCTOR'S WIFE ASKS $300.

Friday's Oregonian.

Mrs. Alvina E. Higgs filed a suit in circuit court yesterday seeking separate maintenance payments of $300 monthly against her husband, A. K. Higgs, whom she alleged abandoned her January 1, this year. They were married in Portland January 17, 1925, according to the complaint.

In addition to the monthly payments Mrs. Higgs asks the court to help her recover $5000 which she said she loaned her husband prior to their marriage. In setting up her plea for the separate maintenance payments Mrs. Higgs alleged that her husband owns the Evelyn apartments, from which he receives an income of $450 monthly, that he owns 1000 acres of land in Morrow county valued at $25,000 and that his monthly income as a physician is about $1000.

Mrs. Hopper Dies After Appendicitis Operation

Local Cases Will Be Tried at Condon Soon

The cases of two prominent Heppner citizens, charged with committing a statutory crime, will be tried here before Circuit Judge D. R. Parker on February 28, states Condon Globe Times. The cases were transferred to this court after the Morrow county jury list of about 100 names had been exhausted and because new jurors without preformed opinions of the defendants' guilt or innocence would be hard to obtain owing to the wide discussion of the case in the home county.

K. K. Mahoney, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Heppner, and Henry Bauer, clerk in the Heppner hotel, were arrested last year on charges involving two girls under sixteen who are now in a home in Portland. They were indicted on eight different counts and the trial on the first of these last November resulted in Mahoney's acquittal while the jury disagreed in Bauer's case. The men will be tried here on two of the remaining counts, it is understood.

The Gilliam county December jury panel has been held over and jurors will be selected from this list to hear the cases. If this list is exhausted names will be taken from the new list of 200 names drawn by the county court last month.

The cases were transferred to Judge Parker's court by Judge G. W. Phelps of Morrow county.

Who is the Richest? "Twin" Automobiles. When Gabriel Blows—A Flying Office.

Who is the richest among the men that have piled up millions in this country? Is it Mr. Rockefeller, with billions of barrels of oil under ground — he has no idea how many—and the world's most wonderful business organization above ground? Is it Ford, with his hundred millions a year profit, gigantic plants and brain full of industrial ideas, or is it some little man, of whom nobody has heard, hatching a thought destined to be worth more than all the automobiles and all the oil?

The latest idea in buying cars is the "twin car" plan. "One car to a family" is old-fashioned. You might as well say, "One pair of wings to a nest full of birds." What would the other birds do while one was flying?

Unlike horses, automobiles do not eat when not working. The "twin car" idea will spread, especially in suburbs and country where the garage problem is simple. One car for the young people, another for the older people. The crop of young people, produced by a population of 118,000,000 will keep calling for new cars as it reaches the license age, and will get them.

Mr. Sinclair Lewis, author of several books, once from a Western pulp magazine challenged God to strike him dead with lightning. Divine Providence, perhaps, having more important things to attend to, ignored the challenge.

Now Mr. Lewis, writing a novel to "expose" and attack clergymen, reminds you of the little boy who, "didn't say my prayers last night, ain't going to say them tonight, and then, if nothing happens, I'll never say them."

Mr. Lewis's novel about the Rev. Dr. Gantry begins "Elmer Gantry was drunk." If Mr. Lewis isn't struck by lightning this time, he may conclude that Providence is afraid of him. Then, what a surprise when Gabriel's horn blows and, "Everybody get up!" rings over the earth.

Professor Sauerbruch tells German doctors that forty per cent of consumptives are cured entirely and another forty per cent returned to useful work by surgical operations on the lungs, cutting out patches infected by tuberculosis. The idea is not new. Several years ago this writer saw such an operation performed by Dr. Carrel, the great French surgeon, at the Rockefeller Institute, in the presence of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. The operation was performed on a dog.

Air under high pressure was pumped into the lungs of the dog to prevent collapse of the lung cells, which naturally would be caused by atmospheric pressure on opening the lung cavity. The operation was perfectly successful, the dog never knew what happened, felt no pain. Dr. Carrel, so far as known, has not yet decided to perform the operation on human beings. It appeared to be simple, took only two or three minutes and less than an ounce of blood was lost.

Boston young women taking a course in secretarial duties wrote the Ten Commandments in the order of their importance as they saw it. Two put last "Thou shalt not kill." The majority vote put "Honor thy father and thy mother" first, an excellent selection, and, last of all, "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy," which is in keeping with the times.

Standard Oil has bought a new all metal monoplane, with three engines, doing 100 miles an hour, carrying 12 passengers. The Standard Oil airplane will be a flying Standard Oil office, with typewriting machines, table and cots to be used by executives and their secretaries.

That brings real American flying nearer.

Miss Gertrude Tichenor and Chas. Melville just arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Melville. Miss Tichenor paid this part of the country a visit three years ago and Mr. Melville is a former resident here but returned to New Jersey with his niece at the end of her former visit.

Visitors at the school this week were G. L. Bonnet, Mrs. Dan Lindsay and Alvin Duval.

Announcements have been made that all pupils in the grades and high school will have to contribute something to the Washington Birthday program. The pupils have begun to put on their thinking caps to find a subject for their work.
