Fourteen Prohibition Points.

WAYNE B. WHEELER, General Council of the Anti-Saloon League, in a recent letter, enumerated fourteen points showing the benefits of prohibition:

1. Drunkenness among first offenders has been reduced from 20 per cent in 1914 to 7 in 1920 and less than 6 in 1925, in New York City.

"2. Annual arrests for drunkenness are 500,000 fewer under prohibition than in the ordinary license year, and drunkenness has been cut two-thirds in States wet before the Eighteenth Amendment went into effect, according to Professor Irving Fisher.

"3. Alcoholic insanity has been reduced. An illustration is the typical wet State of Connecticut, where the reduction is more than half

4. Juvenile delinquency has greatly decreased, according to the Children's Bureau. No safeguard for the rising generation has yet been found more effective than prohibition.

"5. Six billion dolars has been added to our national wealth annually under prohibition, Professor Irving Fisher of Yale finds.

"6. The total number of savings accounts number nearly five times as many as when national Over half the bank deposits now are savings accounts, and the interest on them is nearly a billion dollars a year, as much as the Government spent in any year before 1913.

'7. Prohibition is largely responsible for the buying of over a the Union; only one out of every billion dollars worth of insurance 20 born alive, die under one year per month, or about $14,000,000,- of age. Warrent Stone and many other leaders have stated. Sixteen new labor banks have been organized and many labor temples have been erected.

"13. The churches show the greatest gain in membership in their history.

"14. The four largest chains of 5-and-10-cent stores report a monthly business of nearly three times as much in 1926 as in 1917.

THERE are now about 70 farmer cooperative poultry associations in this country; 48 of these associations marketed over $26,-000,000 worth of eggs last year.

MANUFACTURER. GENERAL impression has been too often encouraged that when the price of gasoline is raised on about the same date in different sections of the country, it is a result of an agreement between the various oil companies. The man who drives up to a filling station knows that the prices fluctuate at times, but he doesn't know why. He can hardly be blamed for suspecting an ingenious plot for his undoing. He does not know that periodic price fluctuations worry the oil industry a lot more than they do gas and oil buyers. The automobile owner does not realize the uncertainties of oil production, that are probably unparalleled in any other business. Nothing but the drill, at great cost, can answer the eternal conundrum, where to find oil. When the drill finds the oil, the drillers' reward may be rich; when it fails, there is total loss. This element of chance has naturally attracted men of enterprise and initiative, ready to be good losers or willing winners.

When a flood of new crude oil 'm willing to pay a pretty penny. Chief-Try Scotland Yard. They comes in, the oversupply lowers are great scent performers. the price, with resulting drop in gasoline. When the crude supply becomes scarce, the price goes up, and gasoline follows. It is the same as the price of butter or prohibition was proposed in 1919. eggs, and the oil refiners are as unable to prevent fluctuations in She price as are the sellers of farm named is really the reason I'm broke products.

The trouble is:

We don't have time.

We don't have time to get acquainted with those who live around us and we don't have time to get acquainted with ourselves

Just keeping the machniery of life going takes all our time. The two sides of our lives are the material and the spiritual. We can cave in on the spiritual side easier than we can on the material side. We are propped up on that side with pointed props. We have to eat, and we have to pay for what we eat. The earnest creditor and the importunate landlord dogs our steps. Life is real and life is earnest around the first of each month.

If we shirk our responsibilities on that side of life we come up against hard actuality with a bang. Materialism is not a theory: it is an actuality

The consequences of shirking on the other side of life-the spiritual-are not so soon apparent, but they are equally disastrous

Those who do become shallow and sold, "And he whose soul is flat-the sky Will cave in on him by and by."

The thing we need most is time-time to discover ourselves; time to think our own thoughts; time to stop before we have to decide; time to think before we say the biting word; time to put ourselves in the other person's shoes before we make our condemnation; time to romp with the fairies of childhood in the turmoil of maturity. Time is what we need most of all.

And more than any of these we need to visit our own souls, our City of Rrefuge in time of trouble.
