A Step Ahead.

IN A FEW years it will probably be said, "My, isn't it great! Why didn't we have it fifty years ago?" But now there may be some a little shaky because of having voted the bonds for the auditorium-gymnasium.

It is ever so. When Fulton told of his steamboat people said it wouldn't work. Then they stood in awe as they saw it go churning off up the Hudson.

It may be that the opposition brought out at the election was not opposed to the project on its merits. More probably the financial side was given the greater consideration.

What to Read.

THIS is an age of voluminous production of reading matter. In the midst of the vast number of newspapers, magazines and other periodicals, besides the unequal number of manuscripts being turned into books, the average person is at sea to know what to read and what not to read.

It is a situation not easily met, but the libraries of the country are helping Mr. Average Reader to face the situation bravely.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

NO COMPROMISE WITH LIQUOR.

THE liquor business is like a deadly serpent. It is about as easy to regulate or to make legal as it is to tame a hyena.

It is essentially a wild beast. It is unfortunately aligned with conviviality. Many people seem to think that getting drunk is a joke and the consumption of alcohol is amusing.

Many people, and especially those engaged in wet propaganda, do not realize the deadly end of this peril. It is an own brother to murder, hold-ups, burglary, smuggling and thuggism.

A man engaged in the business of enforcing the law of prohibition takes his life in his hands, for those in the liquor business do not hesitate to kill when it is necessary.

It is difficult to enforce any law when the breaking of that law is backed up by human passions. The laws against arson, murder, adultery and theft are thousands of years old, yet they are constantly violated no matter what their evil effects.

The law against the use of liquor is aimed at the greatest curse and greatest cause of crime that humanity has ever known. Those who see the viciousness of its effects, the moral degradation of youth and the damage to business have lined up solidly for prohibition.

It would be well for everyone to take advantage of the library facilities. The library in Heppner can help you improve your education every day if you will let it.

Putting across the gymnasium-auditorium project is a full grown stride in the path of progress. It marks the beginning of an era of directed physical education, most necessary for a well-rounded, practical education.

Literature is but an attempted interpretation of life, and whether you agree with an author or not his views will sharpen your wits and give you a broader view.

THE current species is as tough and hardy as any the nation has had to exterminate in the last seventy-five years. It is the corrupt political boss or ward-heeler, fighting, in his death struggle, to have us repeal the direct primary.

With a presidential year looming ahead in 1928, there are reasons enough why it would be advantageous to many of the old bosses to return to the convention system, in county, in state, in nation.

THE attack on the direct primary is being pressed by those forces that prefer a government by money—to one by popular opinion. The scandals within the last year have put a new determination into the foes of the primary. Bosses have learned that money used too lavishly in a primary, defeats its own ends. Under the convention system money can be handled easily, effectively—and attracts no attention.

Right now there are some seemingly very learned discussions being featured by the political-boss directed press which attempt to palm off the old corrupt convention system of nomination as the "indirect convention system."

In a nutshell, it is a joke for advocates of the convention to talk about "the cost" of the direct primary and compare it in any way with the old convention system.

Every real progressive in Congress today comes from direct primary strongholds—and virtually every one is a poor man. Also, investigate and you will find that the drive against the direct primary is headed by public utility officials, old school politicians and corporation lawyers.

Edison says every man should marry—and marry young. He is correct. That will increase our field of inventors. You know—inventors of alibis.

If women's skirts keep on getting shorter we for one are going to quit worrying about this ever becoming a petticoat government.

Looks like Volstead also changed our standard measure scale. A quart of gin now means a peck of trouble.

Some women who think they are shining socially find later that it was only their nose.

WARD OUT FOR BASEBALL. Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, March 21.—Dallas Ward of Lexington, senior in vocational education, has turned out for varsity baseball.

Ward is a member of Phi Delta Theta, national social fraternity. Wilma Leach of Lexington, senior in vocational education, played on the senior women's basketball team which won the interclass championship.

The Meanin' o' Gladness By O. Lawrence Hawthorne. Jus' a-joggin' along with a few loyal friends— That's the meanin' o' gladness to me. Jus' a-singin' a song till the day's journey ends— That's the meanin' o' gladness to me. Jus' findin' the places where beauty an' fun Are had for the askin', where joy is begun At dawn an' continues till twilight is done— That's the meanin' o' gladness to me. Jus' a-tryin' to give someone else pleasure, too— That's the meanin' o' gladness to me. Jus' contrivin' to live where the heavens 're blue— That's the meanin' o' gladness to me. Jus' takin' the good from whatever you find, An' leavin' the bad an' the sad things behind; Jus' provin' that right brings contentment o' mind— That's the meanin' o' gladness to me. Jus' expectin' today to be lucky an' bright— That's the meanin' o' gladness to me. Jus' a-workin' yer way to a good appetite— That's the meanin' o' gladness to me. Jus' playin' along with the heart of a boy, An' knowin' that nothin' can ever destroy Yer hope that tomorrow 'll greet you with joy— That's the meanin' o' gladness to me.
