

State Market Agent Says Wheat Prospects Good

By State Market Agent. Reports from county agents and others from the wheat raising counties of central and eastern Oregon state that the prospects for large crops were never better at this time of year.

Farm Prices Go Up. From Iowa, one of the hardest hit agricultural states of the nation, comes the cheering news from Dr. C. L. Holmes, head of the agricultural economics department of Iowa State college, that prices of farm products are due for an increase which will continue over a period of years.

Wheat on Protein Basis. It is thought by many that the time will soon come when the prices of wheat will be determined very largely on its protein content.

No Wonder a Farm Problem. If the statements made by Roger Babson, the Wall Street financial analyst, are true, there can be no wonder at the general depression of agriculture.

Money in Walnuts. According to the figures credited to the Oregon Experiment station there is money made in walnut growing in Western Oregon.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST.

The declamatory contest is divided into three divisions and three classes. Division I takes in the first to the fourth grades and is divided into classes A and B.

Satisfaction of New Gym to the Community.

Everyone knows what the school children think in regard to the new gymnasium. The success of the bonds aroused ardent response in the heart of each and every student in the Heppner public schools.

Indoor sports, plays and entertainments, oratorical and declamatory contests—these are but a few of the advantageous uses of the new auditorium.

GIGGLES. John Conder (on Junior Dress-up Day): Do your ladies' shoes hurt? Steve Thompson: No, dumbell, its my feet.

James Monahan: I got a pair of those two-pants suits. Paul Hiley: Do you like them? Well, its awful hot to wear two pairs of pants at once.

A smiling face has returned to grace the assembly after considerable absence. Mildred Green, who fell victim to pneumonia several months ago, resumed her studies.

The last teachers' meeting was held under the supervision of Miss Wright and Miss Miller. The topic under discussion was "Objectives of Secondary Education."

Results of Typing Contest.

The star typists of Heppner high school were unable to enter the Eastern Oregon Typing Contest at Pendleton, March 25, on account of the epidemic which closed the schools.

Teachers Enjoy Vacation.

Most of the teachers returned to their homes during the impromptu vacation last week. Miss Fishel remained in Heppner and spent the week successfully evading the various diseases going around.

Miss Miller spent a restful but not very exciting vacation in bed at her home in The Dalles.

Plans Being Made for Track Meet. Plans are being made for a track meet among the grade schools of Ione, Lexington and Heppner for some time during the first of May.

The grade school baseball team has been doing extensive practice this week and, although it has not as yet been definitely decided, they are planning on meeting Ione in their first game next Friday, April 1st, and hope to "bring home the bacon."

Jerry Brosnan is ill at his home on Butter creek with chicken pox. Joe has returned to school after a siege of the same malady.

OPERETTA NEWS.

The postponement of the operetta has caused much discouragement on the part of the director and cast, but they are all working overtime to assemble the finishing touches.

This "Romance of Persia" is unusually attractive. The music is enchanting and the dialogue parts are very witty. A mountain of difficulty presents itself before the two mining engineers, Billy Cummings and Ted Harding, when they arrive in Persia.

The Shah returns with an Arab Sheik, Someeraba, who has 499 wives, and wants one more to make an even 500, and of course has Zohdah in mind.

The school will appreciate your attendance next Tuesday, and assure you a pleasant entertainment. The work on the musical score has been going on for four months, and the ardent and patient practice of all, well deserves a large reward for the effort put forth.

Although the Hehlich "dummy" is getting pretty well filled, work on the annual has been somewhat retarded on account of illness among its staff members.

The matinee in the afternoon and the evening performance should permit everyone to see this musical presentation. Heppner is really fortunate in having a local operetta for it is a rare thing that the small school has enough talent to present one.

The high school baseball team came back from their week's layoff, all pepped up and rarin' to go.

Though the team has not yet been picked there is a good sized squad turning out. Those trying for position on the team are Merle Becket, Valoee Bramer, James Monahan, John Farley, Clarence Hayes, Homer Hayes, Gerald Slocum, Gordon Bucknum, Bobbie Turner, Joe Swindig, Marvin Gammell, Howard Evans, Paul Haler, Harold Erwin, Nolan Turner, Marvin Wightman, Claud Conder, Paul Jones, Roderick Thomson, Clare Cox, Eugene Doherty, John Parker, Harlan Devin, Harold Gentry and Duane Brown.

To celebrate St. Patrick's Day, the Girls' Booster club gave a short program on that day. Ethel Moore gave a reading on "How St. Patrick's Day Got its Name."
