

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Al Troedson of Morgan were visitors here on Friday from their farm home near Morgan. Spring work has been progressing nicely in that section, there is an abundant supply of moisture in the ground, and when the weather turns a little warmer, the crops will show up wonderfully. There should be a fine yield of grain in that part of the county this season, according to Mr. Troedson.

Ferguson Chevrolet company disposed of a couple of cars during the week, Eph Eskelson of Heppner taking a coach and T. H. Nichols of Lexington one of the latest model sedans. The company still has difficulty in getting cars, the Chevrolet factory being unable to keep production up to the demand. The Heppner agency hopes that ere long they will be able to get cars as they need them.

W. T. Wright of Irrigon states that all vegetation is beginning to look up on the project since the weather is turning warmer. They will have a good season down there if present prospects hold out. He further says that irrigation on the project would now begin in earnest and the outlook for plenty of water was never better. Mr. Wright was a visitor in Heppner for a short time on Tuesday.

Mrs. E. R. Huston arrived home on Monday morning from Eugene and Portland. She had been absent for more than two weeks, with her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Huston, who has been removed from the sanitarium in Portland to Eugene. Miss Huston has been an inmate of the Portland hospital for the past several months, and is now reported to be quite well on the road to recovery.

E. R. Merritt and family drove over from their home at Wapato, Wash., on Friday and spent a couple of days in the city, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schwarz. Mr. Merritt is engaged in the restaurant business at Wapato, where the family has resided since leaving Heppner about a year ago.

Blonde Wins Again

Beauty

St. Paul, Minn., seems partial to Miss Pearl Cramer, twice within a year electing her the city's "most beautiful," this time to represent her town in Galveston, Tex., spring beauty contest. She's a blonde.

Glenn Y. Wells, Portland attorney, was a visitor here over the week end. He was accompanied to Heppner by the Misses Helen and Myra Wells, daughters of Assessor Jake Wells, and their friend, Miss Ora Sprulin. They returned to Portland on Sunday night. Miss Helen Wells is a student at Oregon State Normal, Monmouth, and Miss Myra is a student nurse in Portland.

The Frank Turner shearing crew will start the season about the 11th of April when they set up their outfit at Krebs Bros', Cecil ranch. In the meantime several members of the crew will tackle the Henry Cohn sheep at the L. V. Gentry ranch, doing the work by hand, and being led in the undertaking by Mr. Cohn himself.

Frank Frates and wife of Eight Mile were in the city on Saturday. While the conditions have been a little backward in his part of the county, because of the great amount of moisture, things are beginning to shape up some better since the warmer weather. Mr. Frates looks for a fine yield of grain this season.

Egbert Young, who was in the city on Tuesday from his Eight Mile farm, reports that the grain is now coming along fine, warmer weather with sunshine being the proper stimulus. There has been no damage from cut worms in that part of the county, and Mr. Young reports that they seldom bother the Eight Mile fields.

Vawter Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Parker, who spent several days with the home folks the past week, returned to Eugene on Thursday to resume his studies at U. of O. He accompanied Robert Perlick as far as Salem. Mr. Perlick had been spending a short time here, looking after his farm interests.

James Davis, Lexington contractor and builder, and George Allen, engaged in farming the Marsh White place north of that city, were visitors in Heppner for a short time on Monday forenoon. These men are well pleased with the present outlook for crops in the Lexington country.

Billy Hughes and John Hopp, of the Hamley Co., Pendleton, were in this city Wednesday. Besides the making of saddles, the Hamley people engage in a number of other lines of manufacture, and these gentlemen were soliciting business for their awning department.

Gene Ferguson of Ferguson Chevrolet company of this city departed for Portland on Sunday to attend the meeting of executives of the Chevrolet organization in Portland on Monday, which gathering was attended by the head officials of the company.

A. G. Edamson, realtor and business man of Seattle, was transacting business here on Tuesday, coming over to dispose of his interests in the building on north Main street, known as the Fair store, formerly owned by Dr. Ralph Swinburne of Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nakonsky of Longview, Wash., write friends in Heppner that they are the proud parents of a daughter, Hene May, born to them on March 25, 1927. Mrs. Nakonsky was formerly Miss Fay Dykstra of this city.

Charley Hynd of Ukiah, was called to Heppner the first of the week. He is one of the firm of Hynd Bros. Co., and was interested in the trial of the irrigation case before Referee Beckwith on Monday and Tuesday.

Frank Shively is making some improvements to the front of his blacksmith shop this week. The wooden front has been replaced with tin "brick" and it adds much to the appearance of the building.

Oral Henriksen of La Grande was a visitor here Monday, being a witness in the case heard before Referee Beckwith, involving irrigation rights at Cecil. Oral is engaged in farming near La Grande.

Attorney S. E. VanVactor of The Dalles, was called to Heppner on legal matters the first of the week, and spent Monday and Tuesday in the city. He was accompanied by Mrs. VanVactor.

D. C. Wells, prominent real estate and insurance man of Pendleton, spent Saturday in Heppner looking after matters of business, and enjoying a short visit with relatives and friends.

Miss Gladys Bengo, student of Whitman college, Walla Walla, spent the past week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eph Eskelson, in Heppner. She returned to her studies Monday.

Miss Evelyn Humphreys returned on Friday to Eugene to resume her studies at the University of Oregon. She spent the past week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Humphreys.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ayers took their departure this week for Portland, where they expect to make their home in the future. This community is sorry to have Mr. and Mrs. Ayers leave.

Wm. V. Pedro, Cecil sheepman, was among those in the city on Monday, being interested in an irrigation suit heard at the court house.

Louis Balsiger of Ione was a visitor in Heppner on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Mather of Prairie City, where Mr. Mather is head of the school, were visitors here over the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Mahoney, parents of Mrs. Mather.

Mrs. R. T. Parker of the Smart Shop, Pendleton, will be in Heppner on April 7, 8 and 9 with a complete line of dresses and hats. Goods will be on display in room at Hotel Heppner.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hynd of Cecil spent a couple of days in the city the first of the week. The Cecil country is beginning to look pretty good now, since the warmer weather has set in.

Miss Luola Bengo, U. of O. student, returned to Eugene by Sunday night's train, after having spent the Easter vacation week with her parents, Judge and Mrs. R. L. Bengo, in this city.

T. H. Nichols and son were visitors in this city on Saturday from their home at Lexington. Tommy states that his crop outlook is the best it has been in many years.

Al Henriksen and son Clifford of Pendleton were called to Heppner on Monday as witnesses in a case being heard before J. S. Beckwith as referee.
