Bible Exams Given.

The state department of education is issuing Bible examinations to all the schools of the state. Any high school student passing these examinations will receive a credit, either on the Old Testament or the New, or both may be taken.

These examinations are compiled by a state committee, and are sent to the principals of the high schools. The questions are withheld from the student until the time for the examination, and then the papers are sent to the state superintendent of schools to be graded. If the paper receives a passing grade, a credit is given and applied in the school attended by the applicant.

A few of the local high school students have signified their intentions of taking this exam.

Students Appreciate New Books.

All high school students are enjoined to visit the city library and browse among the books. More than twenty new books each highly recommended have been ordered and will arrive within a short time. Some of the latest and most popular novels, not to mention volumes of up-to-date non-fiction are included in the list. Among the many books ordered there will be some, no doubt, which will contain material pertaining to some of the various term papers which the students are busy compiling.

Standard Tests Given.

Mr. Burgess has surprised several of the English classes by giving them a new series of tests known as the standard test. The classes were given the topic, "What I Should Like to Do Next Saturday." They were given 45 minutes in which to complete the topic.

The seventh grade geography class turned out some masterpieces last week when they finished their relief maps of Oregon. These maps were made of flour paste and painted with water colors to show where there were trees and where there were barren lands. The rivers and the important cities were located.

The grade baseball team will meet here on the home field next Thursday afternoon. The boys have been going good this year in baseball as well as other athletics. They will guarantee a good game and wish to see a large number of spectators present.

The sixth grade has subscribed for "The News Outline" to help them in their work for the last semester. This paper is a weekly elementary current event magazine which the children are able to understand. One period each week is devoted to study on the topics of national and international importance.

A change was made on the Heppner sales staff last Friday. John Conder was appointed circulation manager in place of Dorothy Herren, who has before held that position but was forced to give it up because of lack of time. The staff now consists of John Conder, Harlan Devin, Mae Groshens, Mae Doherty, Katherine Bisbee and Evelyn Swindig. They have charge of all Heppner sales, taking advance payments for annuals or the names of those who would like to buy one when they are printed.

Wednesday, during the first period, an unexpected caller made a visit to the high school assembly. Miss Frances McRoberts, 4 years old, knocked at the door and asked Mr. Johnson to find her little brother. Subsequent investigation proved that her brother was a member of the fourth grade.

The biggest investment in painting is in the time and labor—so if you are going to paint—give time and labor to the job—why not use the BEST paint?

Gilliam & Bisbee's paint is mixed from highest grade leads and purest oils by chemists who have made a life study in paint mixing.

We have all kinds of paint, for outside or inside work, enamels, shellacs, lacquers, and varnishes.

Also a complete line of window glass and wall papers.

Heppner Again Shut Out

Heppner seems to have a falling for nothing scores, if we are to go by the scores of the last two games, last Friday with Ione 8-0, and two weeks ago with Lexington 13-0.

The standing in the Lexington, Heppner, and Ione trio town league is that the team playing on their home field wins while the team playing away from home loses. Heppner has played both games on other fields (therefore hopes she will have the same luck that the other teams did and win the next two games played at home).

The line-up:
 Ione: L. Clark, H. Evans, W. Ritchie, M. Gammell, R. Lundell, H. Erwin, G. Swanson, G. Slocum, A. Balsiger, R. Turner, P. Young, N. Turner, G. Ritchie, C. Hayes, J. Graves, O. Parker, F. Mason, M. Becket

Mr. Burgess walked into the assembly with a very mysterious air Thursday. In one hand he carried some sacks which he deposited on the floor in front of the fire chute. Several of the boys were then asked to go down the chute in order that it be cleaned. It wasn't long until a series of bells sounded and the shouts of "Fire Drill" were soon heard throughout the building. This was the first fire drill since last fall.

"H" Club Enlarged

On April 2, cards were given the ten applicants for membership in the honorary "H" club.

The purpose of this club is to promote activities, and take care of athletics in the high school.

Those receiving cards were Paul Hiesler, Valoie Bramer, Terrel Bengel, Howard Evans, Steven Thompson, Merle Becket, Marvin Wightman, Marvin Gammell, Robert Turner and Gerald Slocum.

It has been decided by the club to give a "Hi Jinks" in the near future that will furnish plenty of fun and pep to last a person a few hours.

The seniors have received their announcements and are very well pleased with them.

Dr. Johnston Gives Talk.

Last Thursday Dr. Johnston gave a talk to the boys in the assembly. Mr. Burgess sent all the girls away pleading the excuse that the doctor wouldn't be interested in the talk on the Citizens Military Training camp to be held in Vancouver this summer. Dr. Johnston explained the purpose of the camp and earnestly advised the boys to go. Then the boys who had been through the mill before were called on and gave short talks on different topics of the camp amid much applause. The boys were Merle Becket, Marvin (Corporal) Wightman, Gerald Slocum and Ellis Thomson.

The baseball game between Heppner grade school and the Lexington grade school ended with a score of 21 to 9 in favor of Heppner. This is the second game played by the grade school this season. Heppner having been victorious both times.

The Heppner lineup is as follows: Elmer Hake p, Bruce Gibb c, James McNamee 1, Orrin Furlong 2, Alex Ulrich 3, Rot Gentry ss, Earl Thomson r, Oral Wright l, Gay Anderson in.

Miss Miller: (Discussing Siberian ice fields as a hunting ground of scientists): "Did any of you read of the discovery of the dinosaur eggs which were found by American scientists and which were supposed to be 3000 years old?"

James Hager: "I'll bet those eggs were rotten."

Misses Esta Miller and Anne Murray motored to The Dalles Friday evening to visit friends there.

Miss Pearson was absent from school Tuesday because of illness.

CHILD HEALTH DAY.

From State Board of Health.

"The ideal to which we should strive is that there shall be no child in America that had not been born under proper conditions, that does not live in hygienic surroundings, that ever suffers from undernutrition and does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection, that does not receive primary in-

"TEST O TEN" is the call of the hour—it's everybody's favorite game. This week the test is very general in nature, and the questions are those which everybody should know: Will your average be 100 per cent? If there are any questions which you cannot answer this is an opportunity to acquire new facts—if you know all of the answers, it is an opportunity to show your friends how smart you are. Either makes the game worth-while!

struction in the elements of hygiene and good health; that there shall be no child that has not the complete birthright of a sound mind in a sound body and the encouragement to express in the fullest measure the spirit within which is the final endowment of every human being."—Herbert Hoover.

Arrangements for the celebration of Child Health Day throughout the state in connection with the observance of May Day are being made by the Division of Child Hygiene of the State Board of Health. Underlying the plans for the celebration of "Child Health Day" are two main purposes, first, to increase the interest of every mother and father and of all other grown-ups, in the health and well-being of the feature of the spring time festival. Special thought has been given this year in the nation-wide plan outlined by the American Child Health Association to the spiritual side of the child's nature as well as the physical and mental sides. Special exercises, consisting of recitations and music, have been arranged for use in the schools. The celebration will include plays, pageants, special May Day exercises, games, and athletic events. May Day as National Child Health Day will again be celebrated in Oregon. Beginning four years ago as a means of inspiring interest in better health conditions for the children of our nation, the idea has grown to embrace first the physical, then the mental, and finally, for this year, the spiritual side of child life.

As May Day for 1927 falls on Sunday the churches over the state and nation have been asked to join forces with other organizations interested in child welfare, in putting on a program emphasizing the spiritual needs of the child as well as the physical, and justifying the new Child's Bill of Rights. "That there shall be no child that has not the complete birthright of a sound mind in a sound body and the encouragement to express in fullest measure the spirit within, which is the final endowment of every human being."

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Swick of Monument were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner in this city. They were accompanied by Heppner by Miss Bernice Cofer, teacher in the monument school, who went on to Standfield for a visit with her parents. The party returned to Monument Sunday afternoon.
